$30,000 Loss As Fire Sweeps Through A Brand New House

A $30,000 blaze swept through a brand new Forest Knolls home yesterday as the owner, who designed and built it, was putting on the finishing touches.

L. A. Moulton, semi-retired Air Force master sergeant, was spraying the inside of the home when the lacquer fumes were ignited by the furnace pilot light.

Moulton, his wife and one of their two daughters have been living at the home at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Arroyo Road since January. He was alone in the home when the fire erupted.

Moulton had been working on the home for the past year. It is a one-story 10-room house with four bathrooms. Fire ripped through two of the three bedrooms, the living room, the family room and the kitchen.

Marin County firemen, who fought the blaze for more than half an hour before bringing it under control, estimated damage to the home at $20,000 and damage to the contents at $10,000.

Moulton said today that he had almost finished spraying parts of the interior with lacquer and was spraying the kitchen cabinets when the fire broke out. He said he had opened the windows to allow for ventilation and the wind was blowing most of the fumes away. He said that right before the fire erupted, he noticed that the wind had died.

He said flames began crawling along the walls, burning the papers he had covered the rugs. He tried to stamp out the flames but "the smoke got too thick."

He turned off the gas and electricity to the home and called the county firemen. It was 3:42 p.m.

Firemen, with the use of four pieces of equipment, had the blaze under control at 4:19 p.m. Five regular firemen and three of four volunteers drowned the fire.

Mrs. Moulton, the proprietor of the Mary Nelle Beauty Salon in Forest Knolls, was away at the salon while the fire was raging.

The youngest daughter, Margo, 18, a model, was undergoing physical therapy during the time of the fire. She suffered injuries in an auto accident last September near the Samuel P. Taylor State Park and is still receiving treatment. Margo was recently chosen as Miss Rod and Gun Club of 1961.

The Moulton's other daughter, Mrs. Mary Ann Holley, lives in Novato.

Mr. and Mrs. Moulton and their daughter, Margo, will be living at Mrs. Moulton's parent's home this weekend. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Simpson, live across the road from the burned home.

"We'll probably move into an apartment after this weekend," Moulton said today.

Kennedy Will Ask More Space Monies

Congress Expected To Comply With Little Argument

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy plans to ask Congress to pay for a speeded-up space program because the United States still "has a long way to go" despite astronaut Alan Shepard's historic flight.

The President, rejoicing over the success of the flight, plans to pay tribute to Shepard and the nation's six other astronauts Monday at a special White House ceremony.

But he warned at his news conference yesterday that the United States was still behind Russia in space, but "we are going to increase our efforts." He did not say how much more money he would request.

It appeared that Congress would have little argument. The House Space Committee has already added $126,600,000 to the $123,000,000,000 space

FIRST PEACE TALKS IN LAOS COLLAPSE

Communists Promptly Step Up Drive Against Pro Government Guerrillas

VIENTIANE, Laos, (Sunday) (UPI)—The first full dress Laotian peace talks collapsed in complete disagreement yesterday and the Communists immediately launched a campaign to exterminate pro-government guerrilla forces behind rebel lines.

The Communist delegation kept the government delegation waiting for five hours at the truce village of Nin Neup, 50 miles north of Vientiane. When the talks did start beneath a red and white cargo parachute tent supplied by the government, the two teams could not even decide on the time and place of the next meeting.

(A New Delhi dispatch said the three nation international control commission of Canada, Poland and India would leave for Laos by noon tomorrow, provided all formalities such as airport clearance for the British and Indian transport planes are completed.

(The commission is to verify that a truce actually exists before start of the May 12 Geneva Conference on Laos.)

A government spokesman said the high-level talks were "friendly," but Gen. Phoumi Nosavan, the Laotian defense minister, said the Communist Pathet Lao forces had opened a campaign against fierce Meo tribesmen friendly to the government.

"This is bad for the cease fire," the military strongman said. "At 2 p.m. they were still attacking our post at Padong." Padong is a town in Xieng Khouang Province where the rebels are strongest and where Officer Carl Mead of Mill Valley, who went to Los Angeles to pick up the suspect, said Aldeguer was happy to see him. Officer Mead quoted Aldeguer as saying he was trying to turn himself in to police and had even tried hitchhiking back to Marin before his capture. Aldeguer cried as he related the stabbing, said Mead.

Officer Philip L. Dunham of Los Angeles Police, caught Aldeguer at a Western Union office where he had gone to get

French Rebel General Surrenders

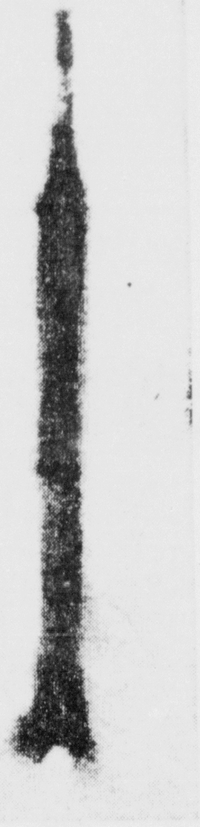

ALGIERS, ALGERIA (UPI) — Gen. Andre-Marie Zeller, one of the four French generals who led the abortive Algiers revolt against President Charles de Gaulle, surrendered today to face a possible death sentence.

While thousands of police and army troops had searched for him, Zeller had been living quietly in Algiers with friends since the revolt collapsed on April 26.

Zeller, 63, presented himself at police headquarters this morning after notifying Algiers military commander Gen. Henri Vezinet by letter that he was ready to surrender. Four hours later he was flown to Paris.

Fairfax Man Held In Big Dope Roundup

A Fairfax teamster is among 17 suspects being held today in one of the biggest narcotics roundups in San Francisco police history.

He is identified as Donald D. Oliver, 26, of 223 Scenic Avenue, Fairfax.

San Francisco and state narcotics agents are on the heels of eight more suspected marijuana and heroin peddlers. Several Marin residents are believed to be among those still being sought. Federal agents are cooperating to dig out information in an effort to cut off the supply, believed to be in Mexico.

Nation Jubilant Over Astronaut's Space Flight

A HAPPY GUY — Astronaut Alan Shepard was a happy man, indeed, when he heard the news that he is to be the recipient of the Civilian Space Agency's Distinguished Service Medal. (AP Wirephoto)

Kennedy To Present Award To Shepard

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy will present the civilian space agency's distinguished service medal to astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr., when he personally welcomes the first U. S. space voyager Monday, the White House announced today.

The White House said the medal will be presented in ceremonies at the executive mansion when Shepard arrives here for a hero's welcome.

Shepard will be only the second American to receive the award.

The nation's capital joined a jubilant America in preparing high honors for Commander Shepard.

Everywhere in the capital there was pride and joy in Shepard's flight in the spacecraft Freedom 7.

He will receive the award at a 10 a.m. White House ceremony and a later 1 p.m. news conference by Shepard will be carried live by all the major radio and television networks.

Shepard's arrival from Grand Bahama Island, where he is resting and undergoing medical checks, is scheduled from 9:45 a.m. Monday at Andrews Air Force Base in nearby Maryland. This, too, will be carried on nationwide radio and TV hookups.

Accompanied by his family and his six fellow astronauts, Shepard will be flown by helicopter from the air base to the south lawn of the White House where he and his party will be met by Kennedy and the first lady.

After the White House greetings, Kennedy will present the medal to Shepard. Several congressmen have declared they will sponsor legislation to award the congressional medal of honor to the astronaut.

The only previous recipient of the medal was John W. Crowley Jr., who received it in June, 1959, for 38 years of "outstanding leadership in research and development of American aircraft, missiles and spacecraft." Crowley was one of the first officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA).

Kennedy will meet privately with Shepard and the other astronauts for about a half hour after the televised outdoor reception at the White House.

The astronauts will motor to the capitol at about 11:15 a.m. A reception by members of congress is scheduled in the old Supreme Court chamber at 11:30 a.m.

From the Capitol, the astronauts will go to the state department auditorium where Shepard will hold a news conference. The site is the one used by Kennedy for his news conferences.

There are no plans yet for the astronauts after that.

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev congraulated President John F. Kennedy today on America's first space flight. But in a speech earlier today he stressed that Alan Shepard's flight was "just up and down" and not orbital.

The official Tass News Agency said Khrushchev sent the telegram to Kennedy in the "name of the people of the Soviet Union and himself personally." It asked him to "convey my cordial congratulations to the flier, Shepard."

"The latest outstanding achievement in man's conquest of the cosmos opens up unlimited possibilities for the study of nature in the name of progress."

Khrushchev's speech in which he mentioned the Shepard flight was made in Yerevan in Soviet Armenia on the 40th anniversary of the communist government there. He hailed Soviet space achievement as proof of the eventual triumph of communism over capitalism.

"We will show you yet," he told capitalists in general. "We tremble at your fate."

Khrushchev's words on the first American space flight was indicative of official Soviet reaction so far. It came as a Tass commentary suggested the United States was two years behind Russia in space research.

Khrushchev, speaking slowly and deliberately, praised Russian spaceman Yuri Gagarin "for the triumphant flight of man aboard a spaceship around the globe— around the globe precisely, and not just up and down." The remark drew thunderous applause.

Soviet newspapers carried the news of Shepard's space flight as a routine item in their back page foreign news columns. The communist organ Pravda said it could in no way be compared with the Soviet space flight.

In the commentary Tass said "it is believed here that the American experiment resembled the Soviet tests in the summer of 1959 when animals were sent up in rockets to altitudes of several hundred kilometers and brought back safely to earth."

Soviet scientists suggested that the United States was following Russia's lead. It quoted Prof. Georgy Pokrovsky as saying that in following this road, the U. S. "may possibly travel at a faster rate."

But, said Pokrovsky, the space gap still remains. He said he believed U. S. rocketry did not demonstrate anything new.

The non-Communist world however, hailed America's launching of a man into space, contrasting the openness of the U.S. achievement with the secrecy veiling Russia's prior "cosmonaut" claim.

Three London dailies, the leftist Mirror and the conservative Express and Mail, all carried the same headline—"Boy!

Nixon Urges GOP To Woo Minorities

CHICAGO (UPI) — Richard M. Nixon today bluntly told the Republican Party to "quit being an exclusive social club" and work actively with Negroes and other racial minorities.

Nixon's remarks came at a news conference after a breakfast meeting with GOP leaders from Illinois, Indiana and Missouri. Nixon and his staff then began drafting the speech he planned to deliver tonight in Des Moines. He was to fly to Des Moines early this afternoon.

"Too many Republicans," the former vice president said, "think all we have to do is to find a public relations program or back civil rights to win Negro votes.

"The difficulty with Republicans is that they have been too apart from Negroes as individuals. This is just stupid," Nixon said.

He said the GOP needs "more good Negro candidates" to win in the 1962 elections.

Seminary Head For Change In Denomination's Name

President Favors Dropping Term 'Southern'

WILL ATTEND CONVENTION—Golden Gate Baptist Seminary president Harold K. Graves, who favors changing the name of the Southern Baptist denomination, will speak at its convention in St. Louis, Mo., May 25. Dr. Carlyle D. Bennett, professor of voice at the Golden Gate Seminary, will moderate a panel discussion at the denomination's music conference in St. Louis May 22, announced the Baptist Press. (Independent-Journal photo)

President Harold K. Graves of the Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary in Mill Valley told the Independent-Journal this week that he thought it would be better if his denomination dropped the name "southern."

(He was questioned in light of recent suggestions by Baptist Church leaders that the Southern Baptist Convention change its name. Here are the questions and president Graves' answers.)

Q. President Graves, do you think that the growth of the Southern Baptist churches in the North could be vastly improved if the denomination would change its name?

A. These proposals that a change in name for the Southern Baptist Convention be made are not new. I have heard them for 25 years but nothing ever comes of them. I believe it would be better if we had a change in name, but I do not look for it soon. I do not believe that a change would make a vast difference in our growth in the North.

Q. Does the term "southern" tend to isolate the denomination geographically, when actually the term identifies destinctive theological beliefs?

A. Immediate response to the name is to think of it in geographical isolation, but it comes to be a distinct theological and methods and program difference. I do not believe that the geographical idea continues.

Q. "The term tends to preserve the animosity generated during the Civil War," says Pastor Charles Wood of the Medvale Baptist Church in Madison, Wisc. Do you agree?

A. I do not agree with Rev. Charles Wood that it preserves animosity from the Civil War. It is denominational pride rather than geographical pride.

Our desire to spread throughout the entire world was made in a statement in 1845 when the convention was first organized. California was entered 107 years ago, but the difficulties of the Civil War and the terrible poverty of the South during those years and years immediately following caused the far western work of the convention to be abandoned.

It is a fundamental Baptist concept that religion must be a voluntary matter and consequently geographical location cannot determine denominational affiliation.

8 CHOIRS TO SING

Sanctuary Anniversary Planned In San Anselmo

The First Presbyterian Church of San Anselmo will commemorate the third anniversary of the dedication of its sanctuary tomorrow at 5 p.m. with eight Marin County choirs participating, announced Mrs. Homer Malaby, church secretary.

The some 150 singers will be under the direction of Dr. John Milton Kelly of the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo. The choirs will sing individual numbers and together present anthems by Ralph Vaughan Williams, Gustave Holst, and David Felter, among others.

Churches participating are First Presbyterian, San Rafael; First Baptist, San Anselmo; Sleepy Hollow Presbyterian; Redwoods Presbyterian, Larkspur; Holy Innocent's Episcopal, Corte Madera; Mill Valley Methodist; Hamilton Air Force Base Protestant, and the host church.

The Marin Handbell Choir will also take part. Dike Kite will be the trumpeter and Wilbur Russell, the organist.

THEODORE GILL WILL PREACH

President Theodore Gill of the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo will be the guest speaker tomorrow at the First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael. He will preach at both its 9:30 and 11 a.m. worship services, it was announced. Dr. Gill's sermon will be "A Little Gospel."

Indian Missionary To The Indians Scheduled

The Rev. and Mrs. Virgil Sampson, missionary-pastors of the New Papago Indian Church at Stanfield, Ariz., will be guest speakers at the Southern Marin Assembly of God tomorrow at 11 a.m., announced Pastor J. C. Walton.

The Sampsons are under appointment of the National Home Missions Department of the Assemblies of God, and are ministers of the Northern California and Nevada district. Rev. Sampson is an American Indian. Both he and his wife were pastors in Greenville, Plumas County, before he went to work among his own people in Arizona.

TO SING IN SAN RAFAEL—Miss Rose Arzoomanian, soloist, will present a concert of sacred music during the 11 a.m. worship service of the First Christian Church of San Rafael May 14, announced Minister Richard W. Wilcox. Miss Arzoomanian has appeared on a number of radio and television shows in Chicago, said the minister.

Special Family Day Set For Lutherans

Families of Grace Lutheran Church in Novato will tomorrow make "renewed commitments to Christ" in observance of National Family Week at rededication and Holy Communion services, announced Mrs. Charlotte Larson, member.

The day will begin with an 8:45 a.m. breakfast and Bible study for this year's confirmation class and the Walther Leaguers, an organization of confirmed youths. The study will be led by counselor Norman Schiewe.

At 11 a.m. a rededication and Holy Communion service will be conducted by Pastor Arthur Koheler. Families, and confirmation classes from the past six years will renew their communion vows at the service, said Mrs. Larson.

AUTHOR TO LECTURE—Dr. Arnold Come, author of the recently published book, Agents of Reconciliation, will be the guest speaker Thursday at the noon luncheon meeting of the Women's Assn. of the First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael, announced Mrs. Robert Pendergrass, spiritual life chairman. Dr. Come is Professor of Systematic Theology at the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo. He will discuss the role of the church laity in society.

Marin Poets Publish Nationally

Two Marin County residents have their first published poems in national religious periodicals this month.

Mrs. Marjorie Long of 662 Olive Avenue in Novato, has a poem "Lovely Lady" in the Way of Saint Francis, a national Catholic periodical. The verse is of Mary, the mother of Jesus. Mrs. Long is a member of Our Lady of Loretto Catholic Church in Novato.

Thirteen-year-old Susan Rice of 337 Point San Pedro Road, Loch Lomond, wrote a Civil War poem called, "The Cry of a Wooden Soldier." It appears in Venture, a youth publication of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. Miss Rice is a member of St. Luke's Parish in Loch Lomond.

Seminary Head For Change In Denomination's Name

WILL ATTEND CONVENTION—Golden Gate Baptist Seminary president Harold K. Graves, who favors changing the name of the Southern Baptist denomination, will speak at its convention in St. Louis, Mo., May 25. Dr. Carlyle D. Bennett, professor of voice at the Golden Gate Seminary, will moderate a panel discussion at the denomination's music conference in St. Louis May 22, announced the Baptist Press. (Independent-Journal photo)

President Favors Dropping Term 'Southern'

President Harold K. Graves of the Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary in Mill Valley told the Independent-Journal this week that he thought it would be better if his denomination dropped the name "southern."

(He was questioned in light of recent suggestions by Baptist Church leaders that the Southern Baptist Convention change its name. Here are the questions and president Graves' answers.)

Q. President Graves, do you think that the growth of the Southern Baptist churches in the North could be vastly improved if the denomination would change its name?

A. These proposals that a change in name for the Southern Baptist Convention be made are not new. I have heard them for 25 years but nothing ever comes of them. I believe it would be better if we had a change in name, but I do not look for it soon. I do not believe that a change would make a vast difference in our growth in the North.

Q. Does the term "southern" tend to isolate the denomination geographically, when actually the term identifies destinctive theological beliefs?

A. Immediate response to the name is to think of it in geographical isolation, but it comes to be a distinct theological and methods and program difference. I do not believe that the geographical idea continues.

Q. "The term tends to preserve the animosity generated during the Civil War," says Pastor Charles Wood of the Medvale Baptist Church in Madison, Wisc. Do you agree?

A. I do not agree with Rev. Charles Wood that it preserves animosity from the Civil War. It is denominational pride rather than geographical pride.

Our desire to spread throughout the entire world was made in a statement in 1845 when the convention was first organized. California was entered 107 years ago, but the difficulties of the Civil War and the terrible poverty of the South during those years and years immediately following caused the far western work of the convention to be abandoned.

It is a fundamental Baptist concept that religion must be a voluntary matter and consequently geographical location cannot determine denominational affiliation.

8 CHOIRS TO SING

Sanctuary Anniversary Planned In San Anselmo

The First Presbyterian Church of San Anselmo will commemorate the third anniversary of the dedication of its sanctuary tomorrow at 5 p.m. with eight Marin County choirs participating, announced Mrs. Homer Malaby, church secretary.

The some 150 singers will be under the direction of Dr. John Milton Kelly of the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo. The choirs will sing individual numbers and together present anthems by Ralph Vaughan Williams, Gustave Holst, and David Felter, among others.

Churches participating are First Presbyterian, San Rafael; First Baptist, San Anselmo; Sleepy Hollow Presbyterian; Redwoods Presbyterian, Larkspur; Holy Innocent's Episcopal, Corte Madera; Mill Valley Methodist; Hamilton Air Force Base Protestant, and the host church.

The Marin Handbell Choir will also take part. Dike Kite will be the trumpeter and Wilbur Russell, the organist.

THEODORE GILL WILL PREACH

President Theodore Gill of the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo will be the guest speaker tomorrow at the First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael. He will preach at both its 9:30 and 11 a.m. worship services, it was announced. Dr. Gill's sermon will be "A Little Gospel."

Indian Missionary To The Indians Scheduled

The Rev. and Mrs. Virgil Sampson, missionary-pastors of the New Papago Indian Church at Stanfield, Ariz., will be guest speakers at the Southern Marin Assembly of God tomorrow at 11 a.m., announced Pastor J. C. Walton.

The Sampsons are under appointment of the National Home Missions Department of the Assemblies of God, and are ministers of the Northern California and Nevada district. Rev. Sampson is an American Indian. Both he and his wife were pastors in Greenville, Plumas County, before he went to work among his own people in Arizona.

TO SING IN SAN RAFAEL—Miss Rose Arzoomanian, soloist, will present a concert of sacred music during the 11 a.m. worship service of the First Christian Church of San Rafael May 14, announced Minister Richard W. Wilcox. Miss Arzoomanian has appeared on a number of radio and television shows in Chicago, said the minister.

Special Family Day Set For Lutherans

Families of Grace Lutheran Church in Novato will tomorrow make "renewed commitments to Christ" in observance of National Family Week at rededication and Holy Communion services, announced Mrs. Charlotte Larson, member.

The day will begin with an 8:45 a.m. breakfast and Bible study for this year's confirmation class and the Walther Leaguers, an organization of confirmed youths. The study will be led by counselor Norman Schiewe.

At 11 a.m. a rededication and Holy Communion service will be conducted by Pastor Arthur Koheler. Families, and confirmation classes from the past six years will renew their communion vows at the service, said Mrs. Larson.

Marin Poets Publish Nationally

Two Marin County residents have their first published poems in national religious periodicals this month.

Mrs. Marjorie Long of 662 Olive Avenue in Novato, has a poem "Lovely Lady" in the Way of Saint Francis, a national Catholic periodical. The verse is of Mary, the mother of Jesus. Mrs. Long is a member of Our Lady of Loretto Catholic Church in Novato.

Thirteen-year-old Susan Rice of 337 Point San Pedro Road, Loch Lomond, wrote a Civil War poem called, "The Cry of a Wooden Soldier." It appears in Venture, a youth publication of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. Miss Rice is a member of St. Luke's Parish in Loch Lomond.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Congo Airport Closed

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo, (AP)—The Congo Republic has closed its important Brazzaville Airport to United Nations planes, the U.N. command reported today.

A U.N. spokesman said President Abbe Fulbert Youlou of the neighboring Congo Republic charged U.N. planes have been buzzing his capital, Brazzaville. A number of U.N. planes are stationed in Brazzaville and use the airport for supply missions to The Congo.

Antitrust Hearings

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Antitrust Subcommittee planned to resume its investigation into electrical industry price rigging next Wednesday with testimony from some smaller companies, a spokesman said today.

The investigators this week heard from officials of General Electric Co. and Westinghouse Electric Corp.

The subcommittee spokesman said other Westinghouse officials, probably in the higher echelons would be invited to appear at the public hearings. He said officials of Allis-Chalmers and other firms also would be heard.

Ike TV Film

NEW YORK (UPI) — Former President Eisenhower has agreed to discuss his eight years in the White House in a series of filmed conversations to be televised by the Columbia Broadcasting System.

William S. Paley, CBS board chairman, said the documentary to be filmed in Eisenhower's office at Gettysburg, Pa., presented "one of the most exciting and significant projects in CBS history."

The negative of this document," Paley said, "will remain permanently in the archives of the Eisenhower Museum in Abilene, Kan., and will be available to scholars of all nations."

Rusk Flies To Europe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk flew to Europe today, heading for a meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's foreign ministers' council in Oslo, Norway, starting Monday.

Case Closed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Final charges against Robert J. Meisenbach as the result of last year's city hall riots were dismissed by Municipal Judge Albert Axelrod yesterday "in the interest of justice."

Meisenbach, a 23-year-old University of California student, was acquitted by a jury Wednesday on a charge of felonious assault. The charges dismissed yesterday had accused Meisenbach of disturbing the peace, resisting arrest, and inciting a riot.

'Death Threshold' Of Jews Open Wide In Berlin

BERLIN (UPI) — A Jewish leader today showed newsmen through a 10-by-10-foot room next door to Adolph Eichmann's Berlin wartime office which was called the "threshold to death."

"Untold numbers of slave laborers and Jews imprisoned by the Gestapo must have waited here to walk the last mile," said Heinz Schenk, secretary of the Jewish community in Berlin's Soviet Sector.

Pathetic messages scratched on the room's stone walls—uncovered by accident recently when age-yellowed wallpaper was removed — bore mute witness to its use as a detention cell.

"The Fascists will kill me," one message said. "I spent my last hours here."

Swastikas Appear

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — The exterior walls and doors of Temple Beth Israel here were smeared with 23 spray-painted swastikas sometime Thursday night. Rabbi Emanuel Rose said the black swastikas could probably be removed by sandblasting only.

"I think such acts are stimulated by the total world situation," he said.

Rabbi Rose said the ultra-conservative John Birch society and the freedom crusade, a Portland group of so-called communists fighters, are partly responsible.

Groups which insist their way is the only truly American way can do a great deal of harm," he said. "What can be more soviet-like than a group which tried to impose its own way as the only way for Americans."

Indonesia Ban

JAKARTA, Indonesia (UPI) — Indonesia banned Time and Life magazines indefinitely yesterday, charging the U.S. publications had defamed President Sukarno.

The crackdown followed publication by Time and Life of articles dealing with Sukarno during his visit to the United States last week. A decree issued by the Indonesian Central War Administration charged that the articles were "considered insulting to the prestige of the President of the Indonesian Republic." It described articles on Sukarno as "derogatory."

Tunisia Chief Sick

WASHINGTON (AP)—Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba today canceled a scheduled visit to Tennessee and Texas because of an attack of bronchitis.

He will remain in the President's Guest House here but hopes to resume his U.S. tour in New York May 10.

Is Eichmann Being Ignored At The Trial?

JERUSALEM (UPI) — One of the odd facts developing in the trial of Adolf Eichmann is that the former Nazi SS colonel is becoming a forgotten man while two branches of the Israeli government bicker over how to try him.

There have been sharp clashes between Chief Judge Moshe Andau and the prosecutor, Atty. Gen. Gideon Hauser. Meanwhile, Eichmann and his German attorney are sitting by peacefully watching the proceedings in a detached sort of way.

The controversy between Landau and Hausner hinges on the question whether this trial is primarily a historical pageant about the degradation and murder of Jews or legal proceedings to determine the guilt or innocence of Eichmann.

Hausner, presumably acting under the guidance of the government, has been unraveling the grim history of Nazi terror in Europe. Most of the witnesses apparently never heard of Eichmann until he was abducted from Argentina by Israeli agents.

The testimony, obviously irrelevant in the strict legal sense, has caused cynical comment in the pressroom. A typical remark was: "Hausner is devoting an awful lot of time proving that Nazis didn't like Jews."

The trial was recessed yesterday until Monday morning.

Bob Kennedy Rips Bias In Southern Speech

ATHENS, Ga. (UPI) — Atty Gen. Robert F. Kennedy told an audience of southerners today that he was going to do his best to end racial discrimination everywhere — including within his own department.

Kennedy said, in a prepared speech at the University of Georgia, that he would vigorously enforce the Supreme Court's 1954 school desegregation mandate and civil rights laws dealing with the right to vote.

Kennedy scored financial leaders "who deplore discrimination in the south but belong to institutions where no Negroes or Jews are allowed."

He also struck at union officials who "criticize southern leaders and yet practice discrimination within their unions" and government officials who "belong to private clubs in Washington where Negroes, including ambassadors, are not welcomed even at mealtime."

"The problem between the white and colored people is a problem for all sections of the United States," he said, adding that the South has a special role to play in "demonstrating America at its greatest — at its full potential of liberty under law."

In his first major speech since assuming office, the president's brother said he believed "there has been a great deal of hypocrisy" in handling discrimination problems. He said that when he first came to the justice department only 10 of its 950 lawyers were Negroes.

"At the same moment the lawyers of the department of justice were bringing legal action to end discrimination," he added, "that same discrimination was being practiced within the department itself."

New Probe Of Negro Voter Rights Begun

Federal investigators presented evidence at yesterday's opening session of the civil rights commission bearing that indicated Negroes had to pass harder tests than whites before being allowed to vote.

Most registrars said they would read part of the Constitution and if the applicant could not interpret it satisfactorily he was rejected.

Miss Mary Ethel Fox, Plaquemines Parish (county) Registrar, flunked a test using her own standards for stating the age of the applicant.

On an enlarged application, she filled out her age to the day. But a re-check by an interrogator showed she was wrong by more than a month. She had earlier testified that a discrepancy of more than a day would disqualify an applicant.

Plaquemines Parish has 4,135 non-whites over 21 years old, of whom only 44 are registered voters. There are 8,183 whites over 21 in the parish with 7,010 registered.

Attorney Edgar Brown, a commission investigator, said a sampling of records in Plaquemines Parish showed 86 per cent of all whites registered in one precinct were given two simplified tests while none of the Negroes had the same tests.

Discrimination Dispute At College

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (UPI)—Syracuse University officials last night denied in front of a group of foreign students that the college has a policy of discouraging interracial dating.

Charges of discrimination were made by the student paper, the Daily Orange, yesterday in a front page story which quoted two unidentified white coeds as saying they had been warned that if they continued to date boys of another race, their parents would be notified.

"An official university policy of discouraging dating between students of different religions and races was revealed" by the two girls, the newspaper said.

Drunken Driving Fine For Hub Woman, 68

Evelyn S. Soares, 68, of 8 Laurel Avenue, San Anselmo, drew $105 fine and six months probation yesterday for her first drunken driving offense.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court sentenced her for driving while intoxicated at Redhill Avenue and Sequoia Drive in San Anselmo last Feb. 21. For 90 days, she may drive only for business and necessary errands.

Student Speakers Chosen For Drake High Graduation

Chosen by a faculty committee, the five have picked the theme, "individualism" as their keynote. Each will deliver a three minute address at Drake's graduation exercises, June 16.

Speakers and topics are: Sam Johnson, "Builders"; Melinda Miller, "Quarry"; Dorothy Hartman, "Stone Upon Stone"; Karen Nelsen, "Earthquakes," and Luray Schiewe, "Legacy."

Johnson, 17, is this semester's student body president. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Johnson, 139 Oak Manor Drive, Fairfax. He has been a member of the varsity football, basketball, and baseball teams the last two years, and won a National Football Foundation "Hall of Fame" award this year as an outstanding scholar-athlete.

Miss Miller, 16, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo E. Miller of 13 Jordan Avenue, San Anselmo. She is California Scholarship Federation secretary and a member of Representative Assembly and Honor Crew.

Miss Hartman, 17, of 55 Woodside Drive, San Anselmo, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Hartman. She belongs to CSF, Honor Crew, and the student assembly committee.

Miss Nelsen, 17, is a daughter of Mrs. E. Nelsen, 12 West Court, San Anselmo. She has been a class officer for three years and is now co-chairman of Drake self-government committee. She is president of CSF, and a member of Honor Crew and Drake Pedagogues. Last year she represented Drake at Girls' State.

Miss Schiewe, 17, is academically among Drake's 300 seniors. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Schiewe, 55 Kensington Road, San Anselmo. She is chairman of the student body election and survey committee, senior representative to Girls' League, chairman of CSF scholarship committee, and a member of Honor Crew.

Events preceding graduation include a junior-class sponsored junior-senior picnic May 24, a senior-mother tea June 3, the senior ball June 9, and the senior banquet June 14.

Fraud Convictions Upheld For Four In 1958 Trial

The District Court of Appeals yesterday upheld the convictions of four San Rafael car salesmen, who were tried in Marin Superior Court in 1958.

The jury found four salesmen of the now defunct Towne-Martin auto agency guilty of fraud and conspiracy to defraud customers who bought cars. It was a history-making trial in Marin in that it was the longest (nine weeks) and the first time that jurors were locked up overnight. They deliberated for four days and three nights.

Judge N. Charles Brusatori, who presided, sentenced the men to nine months in jail and five years probation. They appealed to the higher court.

The district court yesterday upheld the conviction of all defendants on all counts. All but William S. Richards have already served their sentences. The others were Louis D. Reymenandt, Lyle A. Johnston, and S. G. Winning.

PERHAPS OF ANY SEASON

Marin Symphony Concert Best Of Season's Series

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Sandor Salgo conducted the Marin Symphony Orchestra, the Winifred Baker Chorale and four guest soloists last night at Marin Catholic High School in perhaps the best concert of this season's series and possibly any of its other series.

Not only was the program well chosen for contrast in style and interest, but the orchestra was in top form whether playing the brilliant final movement of Brahms' Symphony No. 1 and Debussy's "festival" or the ethereal "Clouds" by Debussy.

A novel and pleasing feature of the concert was the opportunity afforded the woodwinds to be heard to great advantage, especially in the first and second movements of the Brahms symphony and in the introduction to "Khovanshchina" by Moussorgsky. Entitled to take bows were woodwind section principals Anthony Ojeda, clarinet; Jean Stevens, oboe; and Lucia Yates, flute.

The string choirs, always to be counted on for impeccable performance, were particularly effective in "Clouds," in which concertmaster Charles Meacham's high notes were of exquisite clarity and sweetness —as they were also in the andante sostenuto of the symphony.

The brasses were commendable for smooth control of pianissimo passages in the adagio movement of the symphony and in "Festival."

In Kodaly's "Te Deum" the full orchestra with the Winifred Baker Chorale and four soloists achieved a spine-tingling sonority and emotional impact. Soprano Nancy Cronburg, alto Inga Tarshis, tenor Leonard Wecks and bass Mark Baer had good trained voices, but the combination of their tonal qualities was not as pleasing as it might have been.

Although the large audience that filled the main floor and most of the balcony gave the major works, the Brahms symphony and the "Te Deum" the loudest acclaim, the shorter poetic Moussorgsky and Debussy numbers were gems of their own kind deserving of high praise.

When the chorale joined the orchestra for the "Te Deum," attention was again called to the need for an adequate concert hall in Marin.

Sausalitan Says Friend Beat Him

James Robert Osborne of 30 Crescent Avenue, Sausalito, he and his friend, Julius Flynn of the same address, began arguing as they sat in Osborne's car parked at 95 Granada Avenue in Corte Madera about 2 a.m. yesterday.

Osborne said Flynn struck him several times, threw him from the car and drove off in his white, 1957 Oldsmobile sedan. Osborne did not say what the argument was about.

Struck Down By Car

Alice Margaret Arbini of 26 Center Street, San Rafael, received minor injuries when she was struck in a crosswalk at Fifth Avenue and Nye Street about 5 p.m. yesterday by a car driven by Jean Hogan of 50 Sierra Vista, Novato, police reported. Mrs. Arbini was not knocked down, but at 8:30 last night, she went to San Rafael General Hospital for examination, according to police.

S.F. Newsman In Accident, Auto Burns

A car driven by a San Francisco newspaperman was destroyed by fire early today in an accident on Highway 101 near Rodeo Avenue in Sausalito.

Joseph F. X. Carroll, 29, of 120 Olima Street, Sausalito, told the California Highway Patrol he was driving north about 55 miles per hour. As he rounded a curve, his wife fell against him.

He was momentarily distracted, he said, and the car drifted to the left, struck the left curb and guard rail. Carroll lost control, and the car swerved across the northbound lanes, came to a stop on the shoulder and caught fire. No one was injured.

Stephen G. Recze, 25, of Oakland, suffered a cut early today in a two-car collision on Highway 101 north of Atherton Avenue near Novato, the highway patrol reported. He was treated at Novato General Hospital.

Recze said he was driving south when he saw another car pull out from a divider passthrough "right in front of me." He braked and swerved, but could not avoid striking the other car.

The other driver, Gerard W. Allen, 18, attached to the 78th Air Police Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base, said he saw Recze's car some distance away. He pulled out and was struck from the rear. His car spun around and rolled over.

ATHENS, Ga. (UPI) — Atty Gen. Robert F. Kennedy told an audience of southerners today that he was going to do his best to end racial discrimination everywhere — including within his own department.

Kennedy said, in a prepared speech at the University of Georgia, that he would vigorously enforce the Supreme Court's 1954 school desegregation mandate and civil rights laws dealing with the right to vote.

Kennedy scored financial leaders "who deplore discrimination in the south but belong to institutions where no Negroes or Jews are allowed."

He also struck at union officials who "criticize southern leaders and yet practice discrimination within their unions" and government officials who "belong to private clubs in Washington where Negroes, including ambassadors, are not welcomed even at mealtime."

"The problem between the white and colored people is a problem for all sections of the United States," he said, adding that the South has a special role to play in "demonstrating America at its greatest — at its full potential of liberty under law."

In his first major speech since assuming office, the president's brother said he believed "there has been a great deal of hypocrisy" in handling discrimination problems. He said that when he first came to the justice department only 10 of its 950 lawyers were Negroes.

"At the same moment the lawyers of the department of justice were bringing legal action to end discrimination," he added, "that same discrimination was being practiced within the department itself."

New Probe Of Negro Voter Rights Begun

Federal investigators presented evidence at yesterday's opening session of the civil rights commission bearing that indicated Negroes had to pass harder tests than whites before being allowed to vote.

Most registrars said they would read part of the Constitution and if the applicant could not interpret it satisfactorily he was rejected.

Miss Mary Ethel Fox, Plaquemines Parish (county) Registrar, flunked a test using her own standards for stating the age of the applicant.

On an enlarged application, she filled out her age to the day. But a re-check by an interrogator showed she was wrong by more than a month. She had earlier testified that a discrepancy of more than a day would disqualify an applicant.

Plaquemines Parish has 4,135 non-whites over 21 years old, of whom only 44 are registered voters. There are 8,183 whites over 21 in the parish with 7,010 registered.

Attorney Edgar Brown, a commission investigator, said a sampling of records in Plaquemines Parish showed 86 per cent of all whites registered in one precinct were given two simplified tests while none of the Negroes had the same tests.

Discrimination Dispute At College

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (UPI)—Syracuse University officials last night denied in front of a group of foreign students that the college has a policy of discouraging interracial dating.

Charges of discrimination were made by the student paper, the Daily Orange, yesterday in a front page story which quoted two unidentified white coeds as saying they had been warned that if they continued to date boys of another race, their parents would be notified.

"An official university policy of discouraging dating between students of different religions and races was revealed" by the two girls, the newspaper said.

Drunken Driving Fine For Hub Woman, 68

Evelyn S. Soares, 68, of 8 Laurel Avenue, San Anselmo, drew $105 fine and six months probation yesterday for her first drunken driving offense.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court sentenced her for driving while intoxicated at Redhill Avenue and Sequoia Drive in San Anselmo last Feb. 21. For 90 days, she may drive only for business and necessary errands.

Student Speakers Chosen For Drake High Graduation

Chosen by a faculty committee, the five have picked the theme, "individualism" as their keynote. Each will deliver a three minute address at Drake's graduation exercises, June 16.

Speakers and topics are: Sam Johnson, "Builders"; Melinda Miller, "Quarry"; Dorothy Hartman, "Stone Upon Stone"; Karen Nelsen, "Earthquakes," and Luray Schiewe, "Legacy."

Johnson, 17, is this semester's student body president. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Johnson, 139 Oak Manor Drive, Fairfax. He has been a member of the varsity football, basketball, and baseball teams the last two years, and won a National Football Foundation "Hall of Fame" award this year as an outstanding scholar-athlete.

Miss Miller, 16, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo E. Miller of 13 Jordan Avenue, San Anselmo. She is California Scholarship Federation secretary and a member of Representative Assembly and Honor Crew.

Miss Hartman, 17, of 55 Woodside Drive, San Anselmo, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Hartman. She belongs to CSF, Honor Crew, and the student assembly committee.

Miss Nelsen, 17, is a daughter of Mrs. E. Nelsen, 12 West Court, San Anselmo. She has been a class officer for three years and is now co-chairman of Drake self-government committee. She is president of CSF, and a member of Honor Crew and Drake Pedagogues. Last year she represented Drake at Girls' State.

Miss Schiewe, 17, is academically among Drake's 300 seniors. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Schiewe, 55 Kensington Road, San Anselmo. She is chairman of the student body election and survey committee, senior representative to Girls' League, chairman of CSF scholarship committee, and a member of Honor Crew.

Events preceding graduation include a junior-class sponsored junior-senior picnic May 24, a senior-mother tea June 3, the senior ball June 9, and the senior banquet June 14.

Fraud Convictions Upheld For Four In 1958 Trial

The District Court of Appeals yesterday upheld the convictions of four San Rafael car salesmen, who were tried in Marin Superior Court in 1958.

The jury found four salesmen of the now defunct Towne-Martin auto agency guilty of fraud and conspiracy to defraud customers who bought cars. It was a history-making trial in Marin in that it was the longest (nine weeks) and the first time that jurors were locked up overnight. They deliberated for four days and three nights.

Judge N. Charles Brusatori, who presided, sentenced the men to nine months in jail and five years probation. They appealed to the higher court.

The district court yesterday upheld the conviction of all defendants on all counts. All but William S. Richards have already served their sentences. The others were Louis D. Reymenandt, Lyle A. Johnston, and S. G. Winning.

PERHAPS OF ANY SEASON

Marin Symphony Concert Best Of Season's Series

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Sandor Salgo conducted the Marin Symphony Orchestra, the Winifred Baker Chorale and four guest soloists last night at Marin Catholic High School in perhaps the best concert of this season's series and possibly any of its other series.

Not only was the program well chosen for contrast in style and interest, but the orchestra was in top form whether playing the brilliant final movement of Brahms' Symphony No. 1 and Debussy's "festival" or the ethereal "Clouds" by Debussy.

A novel and pleasing feature of the concert was the opportunity afforded the woodwinds to be heard to great advantage, especially in the first and second movements of the Brahms symphony and in the introduction to "Khovanshchina" by Moussorgsky. Entitled to take bows were woodwind section principals Anthony Ojeda, clarinet; Jean Stevens, oboe; and Lucia Yates, flute.

The string choirs, always to be counted on for impeccable performance, were particularly effective in "Clouds," in which concertmaster Charles Meacham's high notes were of exquisite clarity and sweetness —as they were also in the andante sostenuto of the symphony.

When a string broke on principal Jean Maguire's cello, she showed rare poise in quickly exchanging her instrument for that of a player behind her and continued with very little interruption.

The brasses were commendable for smooth control of pianissimo passages in the adagio movement of the symphony and in "Festival."

In Kodaly's "Te Deum" the full orchestra with the Winifred Baker Chorale and four soloists achieved a spine-tingling sonority and emotional impact. Soprano Nancy Cronburg, alto Inga Tarshis, tenor Leonard Wecks and bass Mark Baer had good trained voices, but the combination of their tonal qualities was not as pleasing as it might have been.

Although the large audience that filled the main floor and most of the balcony gave the major works, the Brahms symphony and the "Te Deum" the loudest acclaim, the shorter poetic Moussorgsky and Debussy numbers were gems of their own kind deserving of high praise.

When the chorale joined the orchestra for the "Te Deum," attention was again called to the need for an adequate concert hall in Marin.

S.F. Newsman In Accident, Auto Burns

A car driven by a San Francisco newspaperman was destroyed by fire early today in an accident on Highway 101 near Rodeo Avenue in Sausalito.

Joseph F. X. Carroll, 29, of 120 Olima Street, Sausalito, told the California Highway Patrol he was driving north about 55 miles per hour. As he rounded a curve, his wife fell against him.

He was momentarily distracted, he said, and the car drifted to the left, struck the left curb and guard rail. Carroll lost control, and the car swerved across the northbound lanes, came to a stop on the shoulder and caught fire. No one was injured.

Stephen G. Recze, 25, of Oakland, suffered a cut early today in a two-car collision on Highway 101 north of Atherton Avenue near Novato, the highway patrol reported. He was treated at Novato General Hospital.

Recze said he was driving south when he saw another car pull out from a divider passthrough "right in front of me." He braked and swerved, but could not avoid striking the other car.

The other driver, Gerard W. Allen, 18, attached to the 78th Air Police Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base, said he saw Recze's car some distance away. He pulled out and was struck from the rear. His car spun around and rolled over.

Sausalitan Says Friend Beat Him

James Robert Osborne of 30 Crescent Avenue, Sausalito, he and his friend, Julius Flynn of the same address, began arguing as they sat in Osborne's car parked at 95 Granada Avenue in Corte Madera about 2 a.m. yesterday.

Osborne said Flynn struck him several times, threw him from the car and drove off in his white, 1957 Oldsmobile sedan. Osborne did not say what the argument was about.

Struck Down By Car

Alice Margaret Arbini of 26 Center Street, San Rafael, received minor injuries when she was struck in a crosswalk at Fifth Avenue and Nye Street about 5 p.m. yesterday by a car driven by Jean Hogan of 50 Sierra Vista, Novato, police reported. Mrs. Arbini was not knocked down, but at 8:30 last night, she went to San Rafael General Hospital for examination, according to police.

Joan Smiley In Surprise Reno Nuptials

Surprising relatives and friends, two University of California students, Joan Smiley and Alan Shattuck, whose engagement had been announced in February were married in Reno last Saturday. Their announced plans then were for a formal wedding in September.

Joan is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Smiley of Ross and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stanley, also of Ross and the late Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Smiley. She has one brother, Peter. Joan, a graduate of Dominican High School, is a sophomore at U.C. She revealed the romance when she passed the traditional box of candy to her Alpha Phi sisters.

Alan, member of a pioneer and prominent East Bay family, will be graduated from the university in June and will attend law school. He and his bride have an apartment in Berkeley. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Shattuck of Oakland and grandson of Mrs. E. R. Richards of Berkeley and the late Mr. and Mrs. William Shattuck. He has one brother, Malcolm

The Smileys will soon be moving to Sacramento where Spencer has been transferred by the Crocker-Anglo Bank. They have bought a home in the William Land Park Area and have leased their Ross home to the David Mellinkoffs of Beverly Hills. He is an attorney and now writing a law book. She is a talented and versatile artist.

SUSAN KATHRYN CULLEN, whose engagement to John Theodore Bassett has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene R. Cullen of San Anselmo. (Photo by Les Walsh)

SUSAN CULLEN'S BETROTHAL TO JOHN T. BASSETT TOLD

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene R. Cullen of San Anselmo are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Susan Kathryn Cullen, to John Theodore Bassett. The bride-elect has one sister, Sister Mary Eugene, O.P. of Dominican Convent.

Susan is a graduate of Marin Catholic High School and attended College of Marin where she was president of Delta Rho Tau. She is the granddaughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. G. Hughes of San Rafael and the late Mr. and Mrs. Eugene J. Cullen of Oakland.

John, son of Mrs. Elva M. Bassett of Sebastopol and the late William T. Bassett has one brother, William R. Bassett of Sebastopol. He is the grandson of Mrs. Lucy Ann Roberts of Sebastopol and the late Walter Roberts and of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Bassett of Fallon.

The future benedict, a graduate of Tomales High School, served two years in the Army with the Signal Corps. Both he and his financee are employees of the Pacific Telephone Co.

Marin Women

Junior Leaguers To Host Pre-Ball Party

The Marin Unit of the Junior League of San Francisco will give a cocktail party and buffet supper for members and their escorts next Friday evening preceding the league's 50th anniversary ball, "Portals of the Past," at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel. The Marin group always has a "just for fun" party for its members each year, but because of the ball, decided on this pre-ball gathering instead.

The party will take place at the Broadway home of Mrs. Wallace Terry in San Francisco. Mrs. Terry is the grandmother of one of the Marin members, Mrs. Theodore Theiss of Mill Valley.

Mrs. Clarence O. Amonette, Jr., Marin member of the 50th anniversary committee, and Mrs. James Eschen, hospitality chairman, are in charge of arrangements. Mrs. Trevor Hoy is in charge of reservations.

Among those attending will be Messrs. and Mesdames David Plant, Donald Westerbeke, Neil Fulton, Hugh Carruthers, Dickerson McAfee, Edward Elliott, Benjamin Webb, Richard Newell, Robert Danielson, Stanleigh Arnold, Sanford Lowengart, William Niccolls and James McNab.

St. Rita's Guild To Meet Monday

The Women's Guild of St. Rita's Parish in Fairfax will hold its meeting on Monday, May 8 at 8:15 p.m. in the parish hall.

Guest speaker for the evening will be Henry Clervi from the Youth Guidance Center in San Francisco who will speak on "Juvenile Delinquency."

Guild members are presently working on the Mother-Daughter Tea which will be held this year on May 21 under the chairmanship of Mrs. Roy Stiller and Mrs. Oliver Austin.

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Candlelight Ball Is Inspiring Parties

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Before going up the hill to the Meadow Club tonight for the Candlelight Ball, always the spectacular spring event of the Social Service Auxiliary of Marin County, many members, husbands and friends will gather at pre-ball parties. One of the largest will be given at the Roger Yores' home in Greenbrae. Co-hosting with the Yores will be the Mert Hipsleys just back from a fabulous trip to Fiji, Tahiti and Honolulu. Mickey Yore is president of the Social Service Auxiliary and Bee Hipsley is the auxiliary's social chairman. They'll greet 80 guests.

Peggy and Gus Niederholzer of Kentfield will have as their guests the Eugene Lynches, the James Duryeas and Rene Grialous over from San Francisco. Peggy is chairman of the ball which will combine dinner and dancing.

In San Anselmo the Dolph Squeris will be hosts to Messrs. and Mesdames Wesley Phelps, Charles Gombia, John Egisti, and Thomas Doyle. At their new home in San Anselmo the John Greys are entertaining. (She and Mrs. Alfred Quilici are co-chairmen of decorations for the ball). Enjoying the hospitality of the Greys will be Messrs. and Mesdames George Imperiali and Carl Hillsman of San Francisco and Messrs. and Mesdames Donald May, Jay Jones, Edo Micheli, Donald Morrell of Marin and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ramatici of Petaluma. Al and Calista Quilici will host a party at their San Rafael home. Guests will be a trio of couples from Orinda, the John Rileys, Charles Coburns and Gregory Englehards; also Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lehmquhl of Sausalito. The William Donohoes of San Rafael will entertain the William Larsons, J. Conrad Abbetts, Walter Coynes and Edmund Coynes. And closer to the Meadow Club is the party the John Sutters are giving. Joining them at their Marinda Oaks home will be Messrs. and Mesdames George Cervelli, Ed Schmidt, Rome Bacci and Arthur Luchetti. Prudy Phelps, who has worked with a large group for months on the handmade blossoms which are adorning the Meadow Club tonight, with her husband, Wesley, is entertaining her co-workers and their husbands.

CELEBRITY TRAIL leads to Sausalito, it seems, these days. Guests at a luncheon at the Alta Mira today were the beautiful Begum Aga Khan, who arrived in San Francisco Wednesday for her first visit in the Bay Area, and her party. She went to Muir Woods to see the redwoods which her late husband had often talked about. The Begum, his fourth wife, was Miss France of 1930 and divides her time between her villa in Nice, France, and her palace in Egypt.

TRAVEL NOTES. Mr. and Mrs. August Rasmussen of Fairfax left by jet for Copenhagen, Denmark this week. This is their second visit there and they will make a five day boat trip into the fjords of Norway and will then take delivery of a car and travel through Germany, France and Spain. During their three months absence their home is being occupied by friends from Texas.

The Stanford Anthony Raymonds of Kent Woodlands left today via the polar route for a vacation in Europe. A new car awaits them in Germany and they will follow the Rhine River Valley to Heidelberg. In Austria they will visit Vienna and motor through the Tyrol to Liechtenstein and Switzerland. Venice and Rome are their objectives in Italy and the Raymonds will return via the Riviera, travel through France to the Netherlands where they will ship their car home and complete the journey by plane, going to Paris, London and Copenhagen. Friends are staying at their home.

Mrs. George (Vera) Rivers and Mrs. Verne Franchini, daughter, Royann, and son, Bruce, have returned from a three weeks tour of Mexico, traveling by air and car. They visited Mexico City, Cuernevaca, Puebla, Toluca, Taxco, Guadalajara, Puerto Vallarta, Mazatlan and Acapulco.

MRS. JOSEPH HICKINGBOTHAM arrived home from the East just in time for Thursday's report luncheon for Guide Dogs for the Blind. She joined her mother, Mrs. Stanley Dollar of Piedmont in New York. Primary purpose of the trip was to visit the colleges in which her daughter, Heidi, who is graduating from Dominican, might enroll. Heidi, who will be presented to Society at the Cotillion in December, was in New York with her grandmother during the Easter vacation, visiting friends and also making tours of the colleges in which she is interested.

Diana Hickingbotham and Mrs. Fisher Kinslow Jr. leaders in the drive for Guide Dogs for the Blind, discussed also tomorrow's landwarming of the new Dominican campus in Sleepy Hollow. Janet Kinslow is particularly interested because the new campus is on the grounds of the former home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert G. Raisch, who now live in San Francisco. However, they have a weekend place in Marin and come over frequently to ride their horses.

IN BENNINGTON, Vermont, for the annual spring meeting of the board of directors of Bennington College was Mrs. Ivan R. Cousins Jr. of Sausalito. She is a member-at-large of the board. While at Bennington she also attended the alumnae weekend April 27 to April 30.

RESEARCHING Family Records, Mr. and Mrs. J. Boatner Chamberlain occupied much of their time during their trip East. They flew East and back, returning to their Ross home Saturday night. They took a car in Baltimore, Md., and Boatner delighted in tracing the family history in Bel Air. In Culpepper County, Va., Ruth traced her family back before the Revolution. Ruth and Boatner visited the famous battlefields but all their time was not spent with the past. They enjoyed touring the Shenandoah Valley where the apple trees were in full bloom and seeing many of the pre-bellum homes. One of the highlights of the trip was a visit with Dale Marshall of San Anselmo in Annapolis. He is a first classman and will be graduated from the U.S. Naval Academy this year. Another delightful experience for the visitors was being guests of Dr. Frederick Cole, president of Washington and Lee University in Lexington, where Boatner had been a student. The Ross couple spent a week in Washington, D.C. and of course, went to Williamsburg.

A REUNION IN LAS VEGAS had long been planned by Mr. and Mrs. Keith E. Roberts of San Rafael and George Hurt, who now lives in Belo Horizonte, Brazil. The Hacienda at the Nevada resort provided a place for the delightful rendezvous last week, when Mr. Hurt with his bride, a Brazilian, arrived from South America. The two couples had four wonderful days on the fabulous Strip and the two men talked of the old days when they worked in the same office in San Francisco. When the Hurts return to Brazil they are moving to Sao Paulo. While in Las Vegas the Hurts met Dr. and Mrs. William Neal of Terra Linda, who also stayed at the Hacienda.

TWO SAN FRANCISCO couples and two from Marin were dinner guests of the Andrew Halleys of Kent Woodlands a week ago tonight. Crossing the bridge for the party were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Petri and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schneider. Other guests were the John Lymans and Wallace Hickmans.

CELEBRATING THEIR wedding anniversaries aboard the Lurline on the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce-sponsored cruise to Hawaii will be the Wishard Browns and Irving Chapmans. Wishard and Shirley will mark the 18th milestone on June 5. The day before Irv and Maxine will celebrate their 28th anniversary.

DOMICILE change has been noted in San Anselmo where the Edson Adams' have sold their home on Crooked Road. The Scotts will take possession in July when Edson and Stephanie move to San Francisco.

Ruth Ingram To Be Bride

From former San Rafael residents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Ingram, who now live in Fair Oaks, comes the announcement of the engagement of their daughter, Ruth Joanne Ingram, to Grove W. Hill III. Ruth is generally called Joanne. Grove is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Jearls of Broderick and is a graduate of James Marshall High School in West Sacramento.

The bride-elect, a graduate of San Rafael High School, attended Brigham Young University in Salt Lake City, Utah. She has been active in Little Theater work and had the role of Cinderella in the play of that name produced by Sacramento Civic Theater.

June 10 has been set as the wedding date.

TO MARRY IN JUNE. Ruth Joanne Ingram, who will trade nuptial vows with Grove W. Hill III on June 10. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Ingram of Fair Oaks, formerly of San Rafael.

Diana Bruce To Be Married In Washington, D.C. July 1

Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Bruce of Berkeley are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Diana Abbey Bruce, and Otho Evans Eskin of Washington, D.C. The wedding will take place, Saturday, July 1, at St. John's Episcopal Church in Washington.

The bride-elect is a former reporter of the Independent-Journal in San Rafael and has been in Washington since Oct. 1960 writing her thesis. She expects to receive an M.A. in political science from UC in June. She was graduated from Berkeley High School and from the university (in 1955). She studied in Paris under the Sweet Briar Junior Year in France program. She was a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority at the University of California. She has two sisters, Mrs. Jon B. Applequist of New York City and Betty Bruce, a freshman at UC at Davis. Mrs. Edward H. Schulz of Berkeley is her grandmother.

The bridegroom-to-be is the son of Mrs. Cornelia Evans Goodhue of Washington, D.C., writer-editor for the Children's Bureau, Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and Sam Eskin of Woodstock, N.Y. His brother, Stanley G. Eskin of New Haven, Conn. is an English instructor at Yale University, this year studying in Paris under a post-doctoral Fulbright Fellowship.

Otho, in his senior year of high school, studied at Lycee Henri IV in Paris, received the B.A. degree from Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine in 1956 and in 1959 was graduated from the George Washington University Law School in Washington. In the summer of that year he took a six-week course at the Academy of International Law, The Hague, Netherlands and is a member of the District of Columbia Bar. He will enter the Foreign Service of the Department of State on May 18.

PLANNING a wedding is Diana Bruce, former Independent-Journal reporter. She will exchange nuptial vows with Otho Evans Eskin on July 1 at St. John's Episcopal Church in Washington, D. C.

SUSAN CULLEN'S BETROTHAL TO JOHN T. BASSETT TOLD

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene R. Cullen of San Anselmo are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Susan Kathryn Cullen, to John Theodore Bassett. The bride-elect has one sister, Sister Mary Eugene, O.P. of Dominican Convent.

Susan is a graduate of Marin Catholic High School and attended College of Marin where she was president of Delta Rho Tau. She is the granddaughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. G. Hughes of San Rafael and the late Mr. and Mrs. Eugene J. Cullen of Oakland.

John, son of Mrs. Elva M. Bassett of Sebastopol and the late William T. Bassett has one brother, William R. Bassett of Sebastopol. He is the grandson of Mrs. Lucy Ann Roberts of Sebastopol and the late Walter Roberts and of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Bassett of Fallon.

The future benedict, a graduate of Tomales High School, served two years in the Army with the Signal Corps. Both he and his financee are employees of the Pacific Telephone Co.

Marin Women

Junior Leaguers To Host Pre-Ball Party

The Marin Unit of the Junior League of San Francisco will give a cocktail party and buffet supper for members and their escorts next Friday evening preceding the league's 50th anniversary ball, "Portals of the Past," at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel. The Marin group always has a "just for fun" party for its members each year, but because of the ball, decided on this pre-ball gathering instead.

The party will take place at the Broadway home of Mrs. Wallace Terry in San Francisco. Mrs. Terry is the grandmother of one of the Marin members, Mrs. Theodore Theiss of Mill Valley.

Mrs. Clarence O. Amonette, Jr., Marin member of the 50th anniversary committee, and Mrs. James Eschen, hospitality chairman, are in charge of arrangements. Mrs. Trevor Hoy is in charge of reservations.

Among those attending will be Messrs. and Mesdames David Plant, Donald Westerbeke, Neil Fulton, Hugh Carruthers, Dickerson McAfee, Edward Elliott, Benjamin Webb, Richard Newell, Robert Danielson, Stanleigh Arnold, Sanford Lowengart, William Niccolls and James McNab.

St. Rita's Guild To Meet Monday

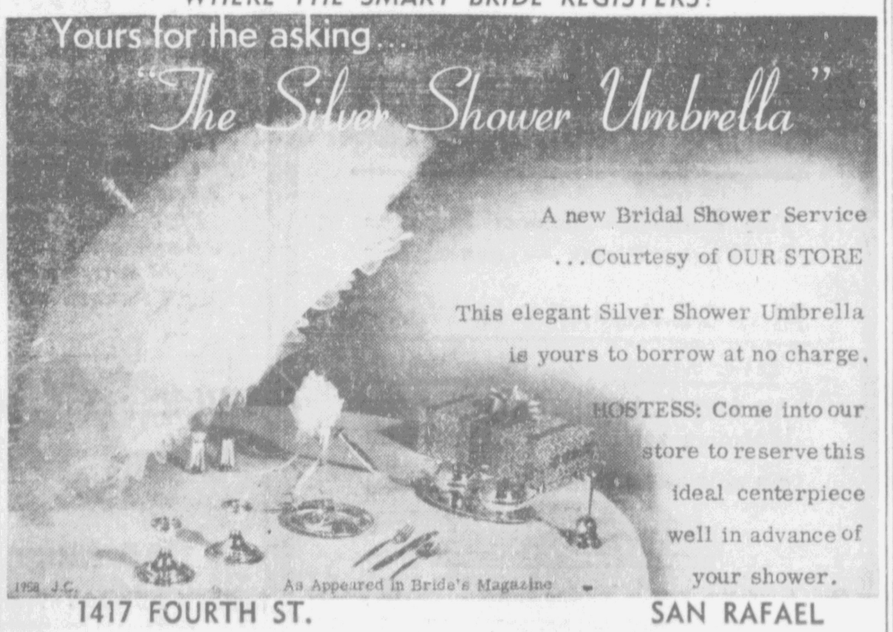

The Women's Guild of St. Rita's Parish in Fairfax will hold its meeting on Monday, May 8 at 8:15 p.m. in the parish hall.

Guest speaker for the evening will be Henry Clervi from the Youth Guidance Center in San Francisco who will speak on "Juvenile Delinquency."

Guild members are presently working on the Mother-Daughter Tea which will be held this year on May 21 under the chairmanship of Mrs. Roy Stiller and Mrs. Oliver Austin.

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Candlelight Ball Is Inspiring Parties

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Before going up the hill to the Meadow Club tonight for the Candlelight Ball, always the spectacular spring event of the Social Service Auxiliary of Marin County, many members, husbands and friends will gather at pre-ball parties. One of the largest will be given at the Roger Yores' home in Greenbrae. Co-hosting with the Yores will be the Mert Hipsleys just back from a fabulous trip to Fiji, Tahiti and Honolulu. Mickey Yore is president of the Social Service Auxiliary and Bee Hipsley is the auxiliary's social chairman. They'll greet 80 guests.

Peggy and Gus Niederholzer of Kentfield will have as their guests the Eugene Lynches, the James Duryeas and Rene Grialous over from San Francisco. Peggy is chairman of the ball which will combine dinner and dancing.

In San Anselmo the Dolph Squeris will be hosts to Messrs. and Mesdames Wesley Phelps, Charles Gombia, John Egisti, and Thomas Doyle. At their new home in San Anselmo the John Greys are entertaining. (She and Mrs. Alfred Quilici are co-chairmen of decorations for the ball). Enjoying the hospitality of the Greys will be Messrs. and Mesdames George Imperiali and Carl Hillsman of San Francisco and Messrs. and Mesdames Donald May, Jay Jones, Edo Micheli, Donald Morrell of Marin and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ramatici of Petaluma. Al and Calista Quilici will host a party at their San Rafael home. Guests will be a trio of couples from Orinda, the John Rileys, Charles Coburns and Gregory Englehards; also Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lehmquhl of Sausalito. The William Donohoes of San Rafael will entertain the William Larsons, J. Conrad Abbetts, Walter Coynes and Edmund Coynes. And closer to the Meadow Club is the party the John Sutters are giving. Joining them at their Marinda Oaks home will be Messrs. and Mesdames George Cervelli, Ed Schmidt, Rome Bacci and Arthur Luchetti. Prudy Phelps, who has worked with a large group for months on the handmade blossoms which are adorning the Meadow Club tonight, with her husband, Wesley, is entertaining her co-workers and their husbands.

CELEBRITY TRAIL leads to Sausalito, it seems, these days. Guests at a luncheon at the Alta Mira today were the beautiful Begum Aga Khan, who arrived in San Francisco Wednesday for her first visit in the Bay Area, and her party. She went to Muir Woods to see the redwoods which her late husband had often talked about. The Begum, his fourth wife, was Miss France of 1930 and divides her time between her villa in Nice, France, and her palace in Egypt.

TRAVEL NOTES. Mr. and Mrs. August Rasmussen of Fairfax left by jet for Copenhagen, Denmark this week. This is their second visit there and they will make a five day boat trip into the fjords of Norway and will then take delivery of a car and travel through Germany, France and Spain. During their three months absence their home is being occupied by friends from Texas.

The Stanford Anthony Raymonds of Kent Woodlands left today via the polar route for a vacation in Europe. A new car awaits them in Germany and they will follow the Rhine River Valley to Heidelberg. In Austria they will visit Vienna and motor through the Tyrol to Liechtenstein and Switzerland. Venice and Rome are their objectives in Italy and the Raymonds will return via the Riviera, travel through France to the Netherlands where they will ship their car home and complete the journey by plane, going to Paris, London and Copenhagen. Friends are staying at their home.

Mrs. George (Vera) Rivers and Mrs. Verne Franchini, daughter, Royann, and son, Bruce, have returned from a three weeks tour of Mexico, traveling by air and car. They visited Mexico City, Cuernevaca, Puebla, Toluca, Taxco, Guadalajara, Puerto Vallarta, Mazatlan and Acapulco.

MRS. JOSEPH HICKINGBOTHAM arrived home from the East just in time for Thursday's report luncheon for Guide Dogs for the Blind. She joined her mother, Mrs. Stanley Dollar of Piedmont in New York. Primary purpose of the trip was to visit the colleges in which her daughter, Heidi, who is graduating from Dominican, might enroll. Heidi, who will be presented to Society at the Cotillion in December, was in New York with her grandmother during the Easter vacation, visiting friends and also making tours of the colleges in which she is interested.

Diana Hickingbotham and Mrs. Fisher Kinslow Jr. leaders in the drive for Guide Dogs for the Blind, discussed also tomorrow's landwarming of the new Dominican campus in Sleepy Hollow. Janet Kinslow is particularly interested because the new campus is on the grounds of the former home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert G. Raisch, who now live in San Francisco. However, they have a weekend place in Marin and come over frequently to ride their horses.

IN BENNINGTON, Vermont, for the annual spring meeting of the board of directors of Bennington College was Mrs. Ivan R. Cousins Jr. of Sausalito. She is a member-at-large of the board. While at Bennington she also attended the alumnae weekend April 27 to April 30.

RESEARCHING Family Records, Mr. and Mrs. J. Boatner Chamberlain occupied much of their time during their trip East. They flew East and back, returning to their Ross home Saturday night. They took a car in Baltimore, Md., and Boatner delighted in tracing the family history in Bel Air. In Culpepper County, Va., Ruth traced her family back before the Revolution. Ruth and Boatner visited the famous battlefields but all their time was not spent with the past. They enjoyed touring the Shenandoah Valley where the apple trees were in full bloom and seeing many of the pre-bellum homes. One of the highlights of the trip was a visit with Dale Marshall of San Anselmo in Annapolis. He is a first classman and will be graduated from the U.S. Naval Academy this year. Another delightful experience for the visitors was being guests of Dr. Frederick Cole, president of Washington and Lee University in Lexington, where Boatner had been a student. The Ross couple spent a week in Washington, D.C. and of course, went to Williamsburg.

A REUNION IN LAS VEGAS had long been planned by Mr. and Mrs. Keith E. Roberts of San Rafael and George Hurt, who now lives in Belo Horizonte, Brazil. The Hacienda at the Nevada resort provided a place for the delightful rendezvous last week, when Mr. Hurt with his bride, a Brazilian, arrived from South America. The two couples had four wonderful days on the fabulous Strip and the two men talked of the old days when they worked in the same office in San Francisco. When the Hurts return to Brazil they are moving to Sao Paulo. While in Las Vegas the Hurts met Dr. and Mrs. William Neal of Terra Linda, who also stayed at the Hacienda.

TWO SAN FRANCISCO couples and two from Marin were dinner guests of the Andrew Halleys of Kent Woodlands a week ago tonight. Crossing the bridge for the party were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Petri and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schneider. Other guests were the John Lymans and Wallace Hickmans.

CELEBRATING THEIR wedding anniversaries aboard the Lurline on the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce-sponsored cruise to Hawaii will be the Wishard Browns and Irving Chapmans. Wishard and Shirley will mark the 18th milestone on June 5. The day before Irv and Maxine will celebrate their 28th anniversary.

DOMICILE change has been noted in San Anselmo where the Edson Adams' have sold their home on Crooked Road. The Scotts will take possession in July when Edson and Stephanie move to San Francisco.

Ruth Ingram To Be Bride

From former San Rafael residents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Ingram, who now live in Fair Oaks, comes the announcement of the engagement of their daughter, Ruth Joanne Ingram, to Grove W. Hill III. Ruth is generally called Joanne. Grove is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Jearls of Broderick and is a graduate of James Marshall High School in West Sacramento.

The bride-elect, a graduate of San Rafael High School, attended Brigham Young University in Salt Lake City, Utah. She has been active in Little Theater work and had the role of Cinderella in the play of that name produced by Sacramento Civic Theater.

June 10 has been set as the wedding date.

TO MARRY IN JUNE. Ruth Joanne Ingram, who will trade nuptial vows with Grove W. Hill III on June 10. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Ingram of Fair Oaks, formerly of San Rafael.

Diana Bruce To Be Married In Washington, D.C. July 1

Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Bruce of Berkeley are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Diana Abbey Bruce, and Otho Evans Eskin of Washington, D.C. The wedding will take place, Saturday, July 1, at St. John's Episcopal Church in Washington.

The bride-elect is a former reporter of the Independent-Journal in San Rafael and has been in Washington since Oct. 1960 writing her thesis. She expects to receive an M.A. in political science from UC in June. She was graduated from Berkeley High School and from the university (in 1955). She studied in Paris under the Sweet Briar Junior Year in France program. She was a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority at the University of California. She has two sisters, Mrs. Jon B. Applequist of New York City and Betty Bruce, a freshman at UC at Davis. Mrs. Edward H. Schulz of Berkeley is her grandmother.

The bridegroom-to-be is the son of Mrs. Cornelia Evans Goodhue of Washington, D.C., writer-editor for the Children's Bureau, Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and Sam Eskin of Woodstock, N.Y. His brother, Stanley G. Eskin of New Haven, Conn. is an English instructor at Yale University, this year studying in Paris under a post-doctoral Fulbright Fellowship.

Otho, in his senior year of high school, studied at Lycee Henri IV in Paris, received the B.A. degree from Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine in 1956 and in 1959 was graduated from the George Washington University Law School in Washington. In the summer of that year he took a six-week course at the Academy of International Law, The Hague, Netherlands and is a member of the District of Columbia Bar. He will enter the Foreign Service of the Department of State on May 18.

PLANNING a wedding is Diana Bruce, former Independent-Journal reporter. She will exchange nuptial vows with Otho Evans Eskin on July 1 at St. John's Episcopal Church in Washington, D. C.

French Film Festival Honors Gary Cooper

CANNES, France (UPI)—France last night awarded the French officer's cross of the Order of Arts and Letters to cancer-stricken Gary Cooper for his "contribution to world movies for 35 years."

Fourre Cormerait, president of the French National Movie Institute, presented Cooper's medal to U.S. moviemaker Fred Zinneman. Cormerait substituted for Culture Minister Andre Malraux, who was unable to attend the ceremony because of the recent Algerian crisis.

Zinneman said, "Thank you. I will see that this medal gets to Mr. Cooper."

Cannes film festival officials said the medal will be flown to Cooper, who was reported near death.

The presentation ceremony was originally scheduled for today, but was changed unexpectedly to last night.

General Dean Will Speak At Academy

Maj. William F. Dean will make an address at the annual San Rafael Military Academy Alumni Day tomorrow, Justice A. Frank Bray, alumni president, announced today.

Activities will begin with a 10 a.m. brunch at the Edgewater Inn, Corte Madera. General Dean was the Korean War hero who was captured and held prisoner of the North Korean Communists for three years. He was released on Sept. 4, 1953.

The alumni and wives will go to the academy for military exercises including the passing in review of the Cadet Corps. The science and auditorium buildings will be dedicated.

The auditorium building, which also serves as a chapel for the cadets, will be decorated by a hand-carved six-foot redwood cross, presented to the school as a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Agnew Jr. Agnew is the business manager at the academy.

Three Boys Start Fire

Three boys, all about 5 years of age, were reprimanded Thursday by Tiburon Fire Chief Frank J. Buscher for having started a fire with matches in a mattress underneath Building B of the Hilarita Housing Project where they live. Buscher said damage was $50.

Marin Poet's Latest Work 'Big Sell-Out'

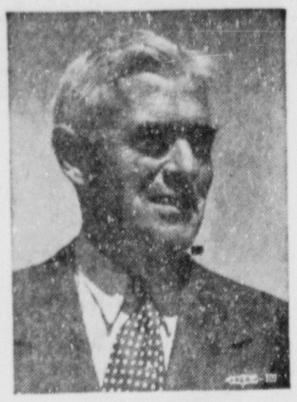

A Marin man's just published book of poetry was sold out before its first edition came off the press, according to the New York publisher, A. S. Barnes and Co.

As a result a second printing of John Milton Hagen's "The Shrewd Nude and Other Light Verse" is under way.

Hagen's poetry is unique in that most of the verses are rhymed in the first word, deviating from the traditional last word rhymings.

The book also includes favorable comment from such celebrities as W. Somerset Maugham, Ogden Nash, Jimmy Durante, and Eleanor Roosevelt.

Hagen, a Mill Valley resident, has had earlier verse published both in this country and abroad, and has written some 500 published songs. His poems have appeared in the Independent - Journal Magazine's poetry corner under the name of Sterling Sherwin.

ROGER KENT

Roger Kent Gets Post For Stamps

Roger Kent of Kentfield, chairman of the California Democratic Central Committee, has received an appointment from the Kennedy administration—not specifically because of his party activities, but because he is a stamp collector.

Kent, who has been a collector of United States stamps since boyhood, was one of six philatelists named by Postmaster General J. Edward Day to his 11-member citizen stamp advisory committee.

The non-salaried committee, which includes historian Bruce Catton, a representative of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing and three artists, will advise the Post Office Department on selection of subjects and designs for new postage stamps.

A similar committee served under Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield in the Eisenhower Administration.

Kent will address the Greater San Rafael Democratic Club Wednesday, May 10, on "Marin and California Politics, Past, Present and Future." The meeting, open to the public, will be held at Hoffman School in Terra Linda at 8 p.m.

1,000 STUDENTS

San Rafael Planning School Music Fete

One thousand San Rafael elementary and high school pupils will participate in the tenth annual city schools music festival at 3 p.m. May 21 in the San Rafael High School gymnasium.

Highlights of the event will be presentation of 13 $50 scholarships and the annual awards to outstanding music students.

The festival will be dedicated to Harold Fulkerson and Willard Vernon, two former board of education members who completed eight years of service this year. They did not run for re-election.

Instrumental and vocal music students in grades 4-12 will take part. The festival, culmination of the year's music program, is designed to show the "total picture" from elementary grades through high school, said Hugo Rinaldi, director of music for the city schools.

All numbers will be performed by groups, including a combined Terra Linda and San Rafael High band of 125 students, combined high school orchestras of 100, combined high school choirs of 150, combined junior high bands, orchestras and choirs, beginning string orchestras (grades 4-6), beginning elementry band (grades 4-6), combined elementary choirs (grades 5-6).

The program, lasting about 1½ hours, will feature classical music, Rinaldi said. The finale will be a special arrangement of the theme from "Exodus," featuring 500 voices, the full orchestra with organ and antiphonal brass choir. The singers will use the words to the theme written by Pat Boone.

Proceeds from the festival help pay for the music scholarships. The Parent-Teacher associations of West End, San Pedro and Laurel Dell Schools each contribute a scholarship, and other schools contribute one P-TA Council scholarship together.

About 200 students have tried out for the scholarships. That group was narrowed down to 50 and Thursday five judges not connected with the school system selected the winners—five from the high schools, four from the junior highs and four from the elementary.

Supt. Frank L. Lucas will announce the winners and present the scholarships at the festival.

The Max F. Walten award, highest musical recognition, will be awarded to the top high school student in the district. Walten was a music teacher here many years.

Awards also will go to the outstanding instrumentalist, most improved player, outstanding freshman, outstanding vocal students and the student showing most outstanding creativity.

Eight students who participated in the all-California symphony orchestra in Santa Barbara in February will receive recognition.

Working with Rinaldi in preparation for the festivals are Mrs. Dorothy Wall, classroom vocal music consultant; Robert Jacobson, instrumental teacher, Terra Linda High and elementary schools; Miss Jean Stevens, instrumental teacher, Santa Venetia junior high and elementary schools; Melvin Stanley, instrumental, San Rafael High and elementary schools; Mrs. Esther Furnas, instrumental, Davidson and elementary schools; Byron Jones, vocal music, San Rafael High and junior highs.

Tam Valley Backs

The Tamalpais Valley Improvement Club agreed Thursday to write a letter to Rep. Clement W. Miller (D-Corte Madera) supporting his proposal for a wholly federal flood control project for the entire Richardson Bay Basin. The proposal is for a $35,000 study fund for the project, according to Mrs. Marin Borg, secretary.

French Film Festival Honors Gary Cooper

CANNES, France (UPI)— France last night awarded the French officer's cross of the Order of Arts and Letters to cancer-stricken Gary Cooper for his "contribution to world movies for 35 years."

Fourre Cormerait, president of the French National Movie Institute, presented Cooper's medal to U.S. moviemaker Fred Zinneman. Cormerait substituted for Culture Minister Andre Malraux, who was unable to attend the ceremony because of the recent Algerian crisis.

Zinneman said, "Thank you. I will see that this medal gets to Mr. Cooper."

Cannes film festival officials said the medal will be flown to Cooper, who was reported near death.

The presentation ceremony was originally scheduled for today, but was changed unexpectedly to last night.

Cooper celebrates his 60th birthday tomorrow in Hollywood.

General Dean Will Speak At Academy

Maj. William F. Dean will make an address at the annual San Rafael Military Academy Alumni Day tomorrow, Justice A. Frank Bray, alumni president, announced today.

Activities will begin with a 10 a.m. brunch at the Edgewater Inn, Corte Madera. General Dean was the Korean War hero who was captured and held prisoner of the North Korean Communists for three years. He was released on Sept. 4, 1953.

The alumni and wives will go to the academy for military exercises including the passing in review of the Cadet Corps. The science and auditorium buildings will be dedicated.

The auditorium building, which also serves as a chapel for the cadets, will be decorated by a hand-carved six-foot redwood cross, presented to the school as a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Agnew Jr. Agnew is the business manager at the academy.

Three Boys Start Fire

Three boys, all about 5 years of age, were reprimanded Thursday by Tiburon Fire Chief Frank J. Buscher for having started a fire with matches in a mattress underneath Building B of the Hilarita Housing Project where they live. Buscher said damage was $50.

Marin Poet's Latest Work 'Big Sell-Out'

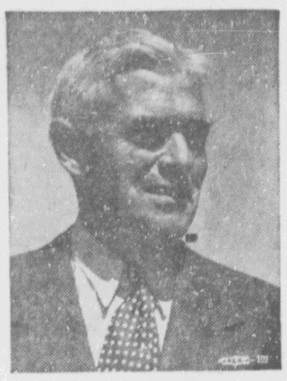

A Marin man's just published book of poetry was sold out before its first edition came off the press, according to the New York publisher, A. S. Barnes and Co.

As a result a second printing of John Milton Hagen's "The Shrewd Nude and Other Light Verse" is under way.

Hagen's poetry is unique in that most of the verses are rhymed in the first word, deviating from the traditional last word rhymings.

The book also includes favorable comment from such celebrities as W. Somerset Maugham, Ogden Nash, Jimmy Durante, and Eleanor Roosevelt.

Hagen, a Mill Valley resident, has had earlier verse published both in this country and abroad, and has written some 500 published songs. His poems have appeared in the Independent - Journal Magazine's poetry corner under the name of Sterling Sherwin.

ROGER KENT

Roger Kent Gets Post For Stamps

Roger Kent of Kentfield, chairman of the California Democratic Central Committee, has received an appointment from the Kennedy administration — not specifically because of his party activities, but because he is a stamp collector.

Kent, who has been a collector of United States stamps since boyhood, was one of six philatelists named by Postmaster General J. Edward Day to his 11-member citizen stamp advisory committee.

The non-salaried committee, which includes historian Bruce Catton, a representative of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing and three artists, will advise the Post Office Department on selection of subjects and designs for new postage stamps.

A similar committee served under Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield in the Eisenhower Administration.

Kent will address the Greater San Rafael Democratic Club Wednesday, May 10, on "Marin and California Politics, Past, Present and Future." The meeting, open to the public, will be held at Hoffman School in Terra Linda at 8 p.m.

Navy. Ens. Larry C. Donovan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Miriam Delemos of Overlook Drive, Bolinas, is undergoing training with Fighter Squadron 101 at the Naval Air Station, Oceana, Va.

1,000 STUDENTS

San Rafael Planning School Music Fete

One thousand San Rafael elementary and high school pupils will participate in the tenth annual city schools music festival at 3 p.m. May 21 in the San Rafael High School gymnasium.

Highlights of the event will be presentation of 13 $50 scholarships and the annual awards to outstanding music students.

The festival will be dedicated to Harold Fulkerson and Willard Vernon, two former board of education members who completed eight years of service this year. They did not run for re-election.

Instrumental and vocal music students in grades 4-12 will take part. The festival, culmination of the year's music program, is designed to show the "total picture" from elementary grades through high school, said Hugo Rinaldi, director of music for the city schools.

All numbers will be performed by groups, including a combined Terra Linda and San Rafael High band of 125 students, combined high school orchestras of 100, combined high school choirs of 150, combined junior high bands, orchestras and choirs, beginning string orchestras (grades 4-6), beginning elementry band (grades 4-6), combined elementary choirs (grades 5-6).

The program, lasting about 1½ hours, will feature classical music, Rinaldi said. The finale will be a special arrangement of the theme from "Exodus," featuring 500 voices, the full orchestra with organ and antiphonal brass choir. The singers will use the words to the theme written by Pat Boone.

Proceeds from the festival help pay for the music scholarships. The Parent-Teacher associations of West End, San Pedro and Laurel Dell Schools each contribute a scholarship, and other schools contribute one P-TA Council scholarship together.

About 200 students have tried out for the scholarships. That group was narrowed down to 50 and Thursday five judges not connected with the school system selected the winners— five from the high schools, four from the junior highs and four from the elementary.

Supt. Frank L. Lucas will announce the winners and present the scholarships at the festival.

The Max F. Walten award, highest musical recognition, will be awarded to the top high school student in the district. Walten was a music teacher here many years.

Awards also will go to the outstanding instrumentalist, most improved player, outstanding freshman, outstanding vocal students and the student showing most outstanding creativity.

Eight students who participated in the all-California symphony orchestra in Santa Barbara in February will receive recognition.

Working with Rinaldi in preparation for the festivals are Mrs. Dorothy Wall, classroom vocal music consultant; Robert Jacobson, instrumental teacher, Terra Linda High and elementary schools; Miss Jean Stevens, instrumental teacher, Santa Venetia junior high and elementary schools; Melvin Stanley, instrumental, San Rafael High and elementary schools; Mrs. Esther Furnas, instrumental, Davidson and elementary schools; Byron Jones, vocal music, San Rafael High and junior highs.

Tam Valley Backs

The Tamalpais Valley Improvement Club agreed Thursday to write a letter to Rep. Clement W. Miller (D-Corte Madera) supporting his proposal for a wholly federal flood control project for the entire Richardson Bay Basin. The proposal is for a $35,000 study fund for the project, according to Mrs. Marin Borg, secretary.

San Rafael's Jack Sovereign No-Hits Drake Pirates

Webster defines the word "sovereign" as: "Chief or highest; supreme. Supreme in power; superior in position to all others . . ."

To that, San Rafael High School says, "Amen!"

Yesterday afternoon San Rafael's appropriately named Jack Sovereign became the first pitcher in Marin Athletic League history to pitch a no-hit, no-run game with a masterful 7-0 shutout of the Drake Pirates.

And after learning the lanky, fireballing righthander had chalked up his fourth league victory in as many tries, the rest of the league threw up their hands in frustration. Sovereign is only a junior! He'll be back firing next year.

Just wild enough — he walked six batters—to keep the Pirates from taking a toe hold, Sovereign had the enemy in his hip pocket all afternoon. He struck out nine; eight other outs were infielder grounders, one runner was picked off base, two popped up to the infield and only one Pirate, Vince Pallavicini, hit the ball past the infield. That was a fly out to center.

His nine strikeouts brought to 39 the total he has whiffed in 24 league innings. In all that time he has given up just one earned run to Marin Catholic for a phenomenal 0.26 ERA.

This week in four relief innings against Redwood Tuesday and yesterday's masterpiece, Sovereign has pitched 11 consecutive innings without giving up a hit or a run while striking out 18.

The Blazing Bulldog got off to a rocky start in the first inning by loading the bases on walks with only one out. But, he then retired the dangerous Sam Johnson and Steve Anderson in order to get out of the mess.

Those two final outs were the start of nine straight Pirates to go down in order before Johnson drew a walk in the fourth. Mike Bresnan worked a free pass in the fifth and Hamish Tyler walked in the seventh for the only other Pirate runners.

San Rafael, meanwhile, was clubbing Drake's Russ Honeyman and Stan Chapman for 10 hits. Third sacker Tom Williams rapped a towering two-run homer to highlight a three-run first inning; Billy Roberts drilled out three hits for two RBI and Gary Ledson also had two RBI on a pair of safeties. Rich Curry was the other Bulldog with two hits.

San Rafael now sports a 5-1 league record in a tie for first place with Tamalpais. Drake, the defending champion and tournament titlist, now has three losses and three wins.

3 Marks Broken In Marin Track Trials

Three Marin Athletic League varsity records were broken and one more tied yesterday as the track and field athletes of the six league schools competed in the annual trials at Drake High School in San Anselmo.

San Rafael accounted for two marks and the tied record and continued as the favorite to capture the Class A team championship in the finals next Friday night at San Rafael.

San Rafael's record-setters were:

Jay Lathrop with a 4:36.4 clocking in the mile, 12.1 seconds better than the league mark;

Tam High's versatile Jim Mitchelle picked up the other new mark by broad jumping 20 feet 8 inches. The old record was 19-3¾.

Drake's fleet Bill Collins and San Rafael's strong man Dennis Nickel each led qualifiers in two events—Collins in the sprints and Nickel in the shot and discus. Marin Catholic's Rich Ongaro had the best time in the 120-yard high hurdles and tied with two others with best time in the low hurdles.

Those divisions produced a flock of records yesterday, but summaries will not be published until next week.

Greatest performance of the day yesterday was that of San Rafael's Bob Olson in Class C. The little guy set records in the broad jump (17-7), the 75-yard dash (8-3), 150 (16.0) and ran a leg of the record-breaking relay team.

Tam Keeps Pace With S.R. In League Race

Tamalpais Indians kept pace with San Rafael in the Marin Athletic League's baseball race yesterday with a 7-2 victory over the still winless Redwood Giants.

Tam capitalized on Giant pitching wildness in the third inning by scoring four runs on five walks, a hit batsman, a sacrifice fly by Bill Hurley and a single by Chip Collins.

Collins with three hits and one run-batted in, Hurley with two RBI and Harry "Butch" Herr with two singles and two RBI led the Indian batters.

Tam starter Fred Mack went five innings on the mound, giving up one run in the second while striking out seven and walking two. Still a bit weak from a bout with the flu, Mack was relieved by Russ Adams in the sixth and he chalked up two strikeouts, one walk and gave up the other run.

LEADING BATTER

Adams, the league's leading batter, maintained his .500 batting pace by getting one single in two official trips to the plate. In six games now he has 10 hits in 20 at-bats and 9 runs batted in.

Collins boosted his average from .421 to .478 with 11 hits in 23 tries. Hurley is batting .438 as Tam continues to dominate the league's batting statistics.

Next Tuesday the Indians tackle Drake at San Anselmo.

Johnson Rips Off 9.3 For Fourth Time

SUNNYVALE (AP) — Dennis Johnson last night tied the world record for the 100-yard dash for the fourth time this season.

Dan Studney of San Jose State tossed the javelin 244-feet, 9-inches, the nation's second best collegiate effort this spring.

Jay Silvester, former Utah star, took a double, putting the shot 58 feet, 6 inches and wheeling the discus 171-feet 6½ inches. Silvester competing for the Santa Clara Youth Village.

Marin 'Cats Nip Novato In Baseball

Marin Catholic High took advantage of errors, passed balls and a one-run triple by Wildcat first baseman Hank Ryan yesterday to defeat Novato 3 runs to 2 in the Marin Athletic League.

The Wildcats unleased the scoring in the second inning when Ryan singled and Chris Ahearn walked. Then both runners were advanced on a wild pitch by Hornet Ron Grayson. Ryan was thrown out on a grounder, but a wild pitch to the next batter allowed Ahearn to present Marin its first tally.

In the third inning with two away, Ken Bowerman slugged a clean single. The next Wildcat batter was Ryan, who let loose with a triple to score Bowerman. Novato got its first run after winning pitcher Frank Burch put four balls past Bob Remley, who eventually scored on a passed ball.

WINNING RUN

Marin tallied its third and winning run in the fifth inning. Two Wildcats were on base due to Hornet errors. One of them, John Odetto, was able to score on a passed ball. The Hornets pushed across the games' final run in the bottom of the sixth as Jerry Correia whacked a single to put Larry Hale across the dish. Hale put himself on base with a single.

Coach Harry Moore, who's Catholic club has been cutting up the league this season, and dumping teams when they least expect it said today that the Wildcats "were just beginning to realize that they are a fair ball club and if they wanted, could go all the way — they're starting to fight a little."

Loes Duels Roberts Tonight; Mays Amazes Philly Crowd

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Willie Mays may not be the greatest baseball player active today—but you'd probably have a hard time convincing the San Francisco Giants he isn't.

Incomparable Mays showed Philadelphia another facet of his greatness last night, racing home from first on a routine single to spark the Giants to a 4-2 win over the Phillies.

But Mays didn't take all the glory. Right-hander Juan Marichal (2-1) contributed a share of stardom by going the distance and notching a neat seven-hitter.

It marked the Giants' third straight victory and increased their National League lead to two full games over Pittsburgh and Los Angeles.

LOES GOES

Manager Alvin Dark tentatively selected Billy Loes (2-1) for mound duty tonight. He'll face veteran Robin Roberts, who is still seeking his first victory after four defeats.

The Phillies grabbed a run in the first when John Callison singled, stole second, and scored on Bobby Gene Smith's single.

But Marichal helped his own cause in the second by capping a two-run rally with a single to drive across Ed Bailey. Bailey singled home Orlando Cepeda with the innings' first tally.

Mays' daredevil act on the basepaths occurred in the third. The center fielder reached first on a walk. Then he broke for second on a hit-and-run play with Cepeda at bat.

WILLIE FLIES

Cepeda singled into short left, where Bobby Gene Smith fielded the ball and took his time returning it to shortstop Ruben Amaro. Mays raced into third with time to spare and never slowed down as he turned the corner. Fleet Willie scored in a breeze as Amaro threw to second in an attempt to head off Cepeda.

Mays' dash for home made it 3-1, and Callison hit his fourth homer of the campaign in the Phils' half of the inning to leave it 3-2 until the ninth.

Philadelphia starter Frank Sullivan (1-2) took the loss. He was lifted in the ninth. Marichal struck out six and walked four.

Hebert Keeps Lead In Vegas; Snead Second

LAS VEGAS (AP) — Jay Hebert led the way into the third round of the $52,000 Tournament of Champions today with six formidable pro golfers bunched within five strokes from the top in the 72-hole desert classic.

The 38-year-old Lafayette, La., pro dominated the field of 26 select fellow pros with a 36-hole score of 133 off two superb rounds of 66-67 on the par 72 Desert Inn Country Club course.

Just two strokes back, with rounds of 68-67, was one of golf's more renowned elder statesmen, Samuel Jackson Snead, who has in two days of play shed the jinx of the course.

Deadlocked at 136 were Tommy Bolt, Stan Leonard and Doug Ford. The 138 bracket, to round out the roll of nearest contenders, had two former U.S. Open champions, Billy Casper Jr., and Julius Boros.

OTHER THREATS

But yesterday Palmer fell apart on the greens—took four putts to get down on one—and he ended up with a 40-36—76 for the par 36-36—72 layout and a total score of 145.

Hebert's putting, on the other hand, was superb. He revealed he has experimented with 100 or more putters in the past but in recent weeks has settled on one particular mallet.

"I think I'll keep this one—as long as those putts drop in," said Hebert.

The surprise thus far has been Snead. 'Way back in 1953, when Hebert was little known, Snead at this same stage of this same tournament was nestled dead last with rounds of 79-73—152.

Old Sam didn't finish that one dead last, he beat two others for the questionable honor. But today's standings proved that years are no factor with the big swinger from West Virginia. Samuel is still dangerous.

S.A. Semi-Pro Team Tryouts Tomorrow

Ongaro Plumbers semi-pro baseball team of San Anselmo will conduct the season's first public tryout tomorrow, 9 a.m. to noon, at Albert Field in San Rafael, Manager Dom Boccabella has announced.

Further tryouts are scheduled May 14 and 21, same time and same location, Boccabella added.

Bears Edge Stanford

STANFORD (UPI)—California pitcher Mike Juregi hit a two-run double in the 10th yesterday to lead the Bears to a 7-4 win over Stanford.

The win gave California a 5-4 record in the CIBA.

Pelicans To Practice

Giambra Favored In TVer Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — Joey Giambra, Buffalo, N. Y. middleweight, hasn't lost a fight since Rory Calhoun beat him Aug. 26, 1957. That is one reason why he is favored to win his 12th straight tonight over Yama Bahama of Bimini B. W. I.

The 10-round match will be held at St. Nicholas Arena, starting at 7 p.m. (PDT) with the usual network (ABC) television coverage. Two judges and a referee will score it by rounds.

Among the victims in his latest victory string, Giambra numbers Joey Giardello, Tiger Jones twice and Calhoun. He has not fought since Dec. 6 when he outpointed Jones in Buffalo. His record of 69 fights is 62-5-2.

Bahama, 28 and two years younger than Giambra, has been a busy fighter with 80 bouts and a 65-11-4 record. In his last 14 scraps, Bahama has won 10 including a KO over Bobby Shaw and a decision over Giancarlo Garbelli in Milan this year.

San Rafael's Jack Sovereign No-Hits Drake Pirates

To that, San Rafael High School says, "Amen!"

Yesterday afternoon San Rafael's appropriately named Jack Sovereign became the first pitcher in Marin Athletic League history to pitch a no-hit, no-run game with a masterful 7-0 shutout of the Drake Pirates.

And after learning the lanky, fireballing righthander had chalked up his fourth league victory in as many tries, the rest of the league threw up their hands in frustration. Sovereign is only a junior! He'll be back firing next year.

Just wild enough — he walked six batters—to keep the Pirates from taking a toe hold, Sovereign had the enemy in his hip pocket all afternoon. He struck out nine; eight other outs were infielder grounders, one runner was picked off base, two popped up to the infield and only one Pirate, Vince Pallavicini, hit the ball past the infield. That was a fly out to center.

His nine strikeouts brought to 39 the total he has whiffed in 24 league innings. In all that time he has given up just one earned run to Marin Catholic for a phenomenal 0.26 ERA.

This week in four relief innings against Redwood Tuesday and yesterday's masterpiece, Sovereign has pitched 11 consecutive innings without giving up a hit or a run while striking out 18.

The Blazing Bulldog got off to a rocky start in the first inning by loading the bases on walks with only one out. But, he then retired the dangerous Sam Johnson and Steve Anderson in order to get out of the mess.

Those two final outs were the start of nine straight Pirates to go down in order before Johnson drew a walk in the fourth. Mike Bresnan worked a free pass in the fifth and Hamish Tyler walked in the seventh for the only other Pirate runners.

San Rafael, meanwhile, was clubbing Drake's Russ Honeyman and Stan Chapman for 10 hits. Third sacker Tom Williams rapped a towering two-run homer to highlight a three-run first inning; Billy Roberts drilled out three hits for two RBI and Gary Ledson also had two RBI on a pair of safeties. Rich Curry was the other Bulldog with two hits.

San Rafael now sports a 5-1 league record in a tie for first place with Tamalpais. Drake, the defending champion and tournament titlist, now has three losses and three wins.

3 Marks Broken In Marin Track Trials

Three Marin Athletic League varsity records were broken and one more tied yesterday as the track and field athletes of the six league schools competed in the annual trials at Drake High School in San Anselmo.

San Rafael accounted for two marks and the tied record and continued as the favorite to capture the Class A team championship in the finals next Friday night at San Rafael.

San Rafael's record-setters were:

Jay Lathrop with a 4:36.4 clocking in the mile, 12.1 seconds better than the league mark;

Tam High's versatile Jim Mitchelle picked up the other new mark by broad jumping 20 feet 8 inches. The old record was 19-3¾.

Drake's fleet Bill Collins and San Rafael's strong man Dennis Nickel each led qualifiers in two events—Collins in the sprints and Nickel in the shot and discus. Marin Catholic's Rich Ongaro had the best time in the 120-yard high hurdles and tied with two others with best time in the low hurdles.

Those divisions produced a flock of records yesterday, but summaries will not be published until next week.

Greatest performance of the day yesterday was that of San Rafael's Bob Olson in Class C. The little guy set records in the broad jump (17-7), the 75-yard dash (8-3), 150 (16.0) and ran a leg of the record-breaking relay team.

Tam Keeps Pace With S.R. In League Race

Tamalpais Indians kept pace with San Rafael in the Marin Athletic League's baseball race yesterday with a 7-2 victory over the still winless Redwood Giants.

Tam capitalized on Giant pitching wildness in the third inning by scoring four runs on five walks, a hit batsman, a sacrifice fly by Bill Hurley and a single by Chip Collins.

Collins with three hits and one run-batted in, Hurley with two RBI and Harry "Butch" Herr with two singles and two RBI led the Indian batters.

Tam starter Fred Mack went five innings on the mound, giving up one run in the second while striking out seven and walking two. Still a bit weak from a bout with the flu, Mack was relieved by Russ Adams in the sixth and he chalked up two strikeouts, one walk and gave up the other run.

LEADING BATTER

Adams, the league's leading batter, maintained his .500 batting pace by getting one single in two official trips to the plate. In six games now he has 10 hits in 20 at-bats and 9 runs batted in.

Collins boosted his average from .421 to .478 with 11 hits in 23 tries. Hurley is batting .438 as Tam continues to dominate the league's batting statistics.

Next Tuesday the Indians tackle Drake at San Anselmo.

Johnson Rips Off 9.3 For Fourth Time

SUNNYVALE (AP) — Dennis Johnson last night tied the world record for the 100-yard dash for the fourth time this season.

Dan Studney of San Jose State tossed the javelin 244-feet, 9-inches, the nation's second best collegiate effort this spring.

Jay Silvester, former Utah star, took a double, putting the shot 58 feet, 6 inches and wheeling the discus 171-feet 6½ inches. Silvester competing for the Santa Clara Youth Village.

Marin 'Cats Nip Novato In Baseball

Marin Catholic High took advantage of errors, passed balls and a one-run triple by Wildcat first baseman Hank Ryan yesterday to defeat Novato 3 runs to 2 in the Marin Athletic League.

The Wildcats unleased the scoring in the second inning when Ryan singled and Chris Ahearn walked. Then both runners were advanced on a wild pitch by Hornet Ron Grayson. Ryan was thrown out on a grounder, but a wild pitch to the next batter allowed Ahearn to present Marin its first tally.

In the third inning with two away, Ken Bowerman slugged a clean single. The next Wildcat batter was Ryan, who let loose with a triple to score Bowerman. Novato got its first run after winning pitcher Frank Burch put four balls past Bob Remley, who eventually scored on a passed ball.

WINNING RUN

Marin tallied its third and winning run in the fifth inning. Two Wildcats were on base due to Hornet errors. One of them, John Odetto, was able to score on a passed ball. The Hornets pushed across the games' final run in the bottom of the sixth as Jerry Correia whacked a single to put Larry Hale across the dish. Hale put himself on base with a single.

Coach Harry Moore, who's Catholic club has been cutting up the league this season, and dumping teams when they least expect it said today that the Wildcats "were just beginning to realize that they are a fair ball club and if they wanted, could go all the way — they're starting to fight a little."

Loes Duels Roberts Tonight; Mays Amazes Philly Crowd

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Willie Mays may not be the greatest baseball player active today—but you'd probably have a hard time convincing the San Francisco Giants he isn't.

Incomparable Mays showed Philadelphia another facet of his greatness last night, racing home from first on a routine single to spark the Giants to a 4-2 win over the Phillies.

But Mays didn't take all the glory. Right-hander Juan Marichal (2-1) contributed a share of stardom by going the distance and notching a neat seven-hitter.

It marked the Giants' third straight victory and increased their National League lead to two full games over Pittsburgh and Los Angeles.

LOES GOES

Manager Alvin Dark tentatively selected Billy Loes (2-1) for mound duty tonight. He'll face veteran Robin Roberts, who is still seeking his first victory after four defeats.

The Phillies grabbed a run in the first when John Callison singled, stole second, and scored on Bobby Gene Smith's single.

But Marichal helped his own cause in the second by capping a two-run rally with a single to drive across Ed Bailey. Bailey singled home Orlando Cepeda with the innings' first tally.

Mays' daredevil act on the basepaths occurred in the third. The center fielder reached first on a walk. Then he broke for second on a hit-and-run play with Cepeda at bat.

WILLIE FLIES

Cepeda singled into short left, where Bobby Gene Smith fielded the ball and took his time returning it to shortstop Ruben Amaro. Mays raced into third with time to spare and never slowed down as he turned the corner. Fleet Willie scored in a breeze as Amaro threw to second in an attempt to head off Cepeda.

Mays' dash for home made it 3-1, and Callison hit his fourth homer of the campaign in the Phils' half of the inning to leave it 3-2 until the ninth.

Philadelphia starter Frank Sullivan (1-2) took the loss. He was lifted in the ninth. Marichal struck out six and walked four.

Hebert Keeps Lead In Vegas; Snead Second

LAS VEGAS (AP) — Jay Hebert led the way into the third round of the $52,000 Tournament of Champions today with six formidable pro golfers bunched within five strokes from the top in the 72-hole desert classic.

The 38-year-old Lafayette, La., pro dominated the field of 26 select fellow pros with a 36-hole score of 133 off two superb rounds of 66-67 on the par 72 Desert Inn Country Club course.

Just two strokes back, with rounds of 68-67, was one of golf's more renowned elder statesmen, Samuel Jackson Snead, who has in two days of play shed the jinx of the course.

Deadlocked at 136 were Tommy Bolt, Stan Leonard and Doug Ford. The 138 bracket, to round out the roll of nearest contenders, had two former U.S. Open champions, Billy Casper Jr., and Julius Boros.

OTHER THREATS

But yesterday Palmer fell apart on the greens—took four putts to get down on one—and he ended up with a 40-36—76 for the par 36-36—72 layout and a total score of 145.

Hebert's putting, on the other hand, was superb. He revealed he has experimented with 100 or more putters in the past but in recent weeks has settled on one particular mallet.

"I think I'll keep this one—as long as those putts drop in," said Hebert.

The surprise thus far has been Snead. 'Way back in 1953, when Hebert was little known, Snead at this same stage of this same tournament was nestled dead last with rounds of 79-73—152.

Old Sam didn't finish that one dead last, he beat two others for the questionable honor. But today's standings proved that years are no factor with the big swinger from West Virginia. Samuel is still dangerous.

S.A. Semi-Pro Team Tryouts Tomorrow

Ongaro Plumbers semi-pro baseball team of San Anselmo will conduct the season's first public tryout tomorrow, 9 a.m. to noon, at Albert Field in San Rafael, Manager Dom Boccabella has announced.

Further tryouts are scheduled May 14 and 21, same time and same location, Boccabella added.

Bears Edge Stanford

STANFORD (UPI)—California pitcher Mike Juregi hit a two-run double in the 10th yesterday to lead the Bears to a 7-4 win over Stanford.

The win gave California a 5-4 record in the CIBA.

Pelicans To Practice

Giambra Favored In TVer Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — Joey Giambra, Buffalo, N. Y. middleweight, hasn't lost a fight since Rory Calhoun beat him Aug. 26, 1957. That is one reason why he is favored to win his 12th straight tonight over Yama Bahama of Bimini B. W. I.

The 10-round match will be held at St. Nicholas Arena, starting at 7 p.m. (PDT) with the usual network (ABC) television coverage. Two judges and a referee will score it by rounds.

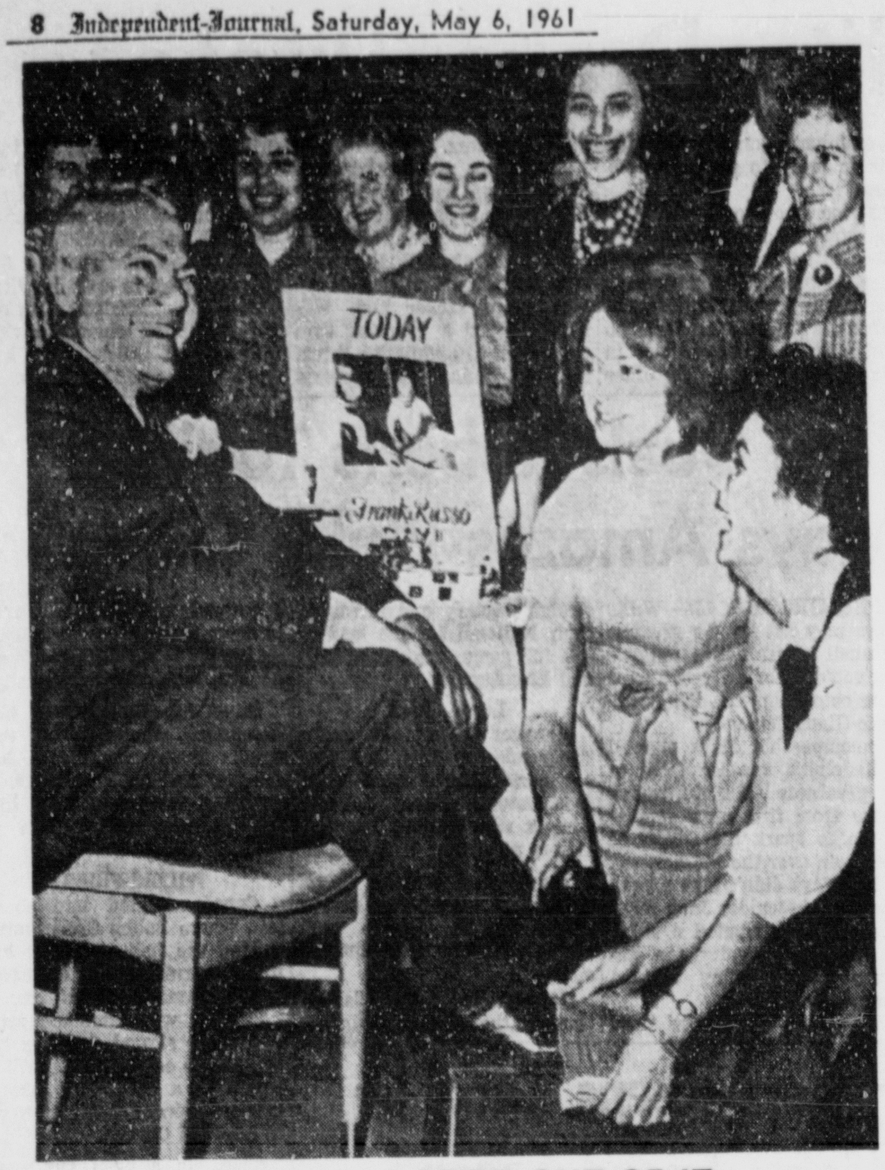

Among the victims in his latest victory string, Giambra numbers Joey Giardello, Tiger Jones twice and Calhoun. He has not fought since Dec. 6 when he outpointed Jones in Buffalo. His record of 69 fights is 62-5-2.

Bahama, 28 and two years younger than Giambra, has been a busy fighter with 80 bouts and a 65-11-4 record. In his last 14 scraps, Bahama has won 10 including a KO over Bobby Shaw and a decision over Giancarlo Garbelli in Milan this year.

'Something For Nothing' Guys Still Find Suckers Aplenty Amid Gullible

"Like to own a shiny new car, Neighbor? Give me the names of six prospective buyers . . . for $100 apiece! Then come in and collect $50 for every name one of them gives me. In no time you'll earn enough to pay for the car of your choice!"

Would you buy a car, vacuum cleaner, water softener, based on that pitch? According to Vernon A. Libby, executive vice president of the San Francisco Better Business Bureau, hundreds of gullible people have.

In one current "something-for-nothing" deal, the prospect is told that he can get some article free, if he's willing to cooperate in a word-of-mouth advertising program.

It all began when Mr. John "Dough" was approached by a promoter who immediately embarked on a long dissertation, explaining that a poll of automobile manufacturers revealed 45 per cent of their sales were made on the strength of word-of-mouth recommendation. The manufacturers had decided it would be worth their while to pay a sum of money to an individual who would advertise a particular car.

The "salesman" went on to explain that his company would put Mr. "Dough" in a new car if he would, in turn, set up appointments for six of his friends who might be interested in buying.

For every friend Mr. "Dough" sent, he was told he would get $100 from the company. Moreover, an additional $50 was offered for everyone who signed up as a result of interviews.

Mr. "Dough" saw a rosy picture of sums of $100 and $50 pouring in. He was sold! He picked out the car, signed a contract, left a deposit.

According to the Better Business Bureau, this type of gimmick is operating all over the country.

There is nothing new in the "referral scheme." It preys on the gullibility of individuals and can be put over with enough conviction to disarm many otherwise prudent buyers.

However, watch for these earmarks:

1. A friend or neighbor urges you to agree to an appointment to learn how you can get something for nothing.

2. At the appointed interview the salesman explains how you can participate in an "advertising" campaign.

3. He points out that through his person-to-person advertising plan a car, or what have you, will be "free."

4. He tells you it's easy to interest a few of your friends or neighbors in getting the same article without having to pay for it.

5. He implies that you will probably make money over and above the actual price.

6. He wants you to rush into the deal right now—tonight!

7. He asks you to sign all the usual sales agreements just like any purchaser.

Bolinas Post Office Bids Are Requested

SUSPECT

money wired by relatives. Dunham said Aldeguer voluntarily gave a full account of the double slaying.

According to Officer Dunham, Aldeguer told of having "a fight with this fellow who has been messing around with my wife."

Dunham said Aldeguer told him:

"I have seen them in the kitchen messing around and necking and smooching and this makes my blood boil."

He then related how he went to his car to get a knife, broke the kitchen window, and "chased him (Collins) and hit him with the knife, I don't know how many times."

Mrs. Aldeguer has already told the jury how she was attacked with the same knife. She said she later learned from the number of wounds on her body that she must have been stabbed 27 times.

A jury of eight men and four women are hearing the case before Judge Thomas F. Keating. District Attorney Roger P. Garety, the prosecutor, is opposed by Public Defender Peter Allen Smith, defense lawyer.

Trial is recessed until 10 a.m. Tuesday. However, the two lawyers will appear in court at 4 p.m. Monday to argue several legal points.

The defense contends that Aldeguer's re-enactment of the crime in Mill Valley and photographs taken at that time should not be admitted in evidence. Public Defender Smith says the suspect should have been brought straight to court before he was taken to the crime scene for a re-enactment. This violates a man's constitutional rights and the right to be brought before a magistrate with dispatch, Smith argues.

District Attorney Garety says Aldeguer was brought before a judge with dispatch. Aldeguer was flown from Los Angeles in the morning, arrived in Mill Valley, and was arraigned in court that same afternoon, the D.A. points out.

Another legal question is, whether a wife should be allowed to testify concerning a threat made by Aldeguer against Collins. The defense lawyer holds that a wife cannot testify against her husband concerning acts committed against another person.

The district attorney says that Aldeguer committed crimes against both his wife and Collins. Since she was also a victim, she can testify concerning his threats, Garety contends.

The jurors who will decide the fate of Aldeguer are:

Mrs. Audrey C. Bell, clerk, 875 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo; James A. Bell, shipping company employee, 108 Kipling Drive, Mill Valley; Mrs. Aimee A. Randle, Army employee, 901 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo; William C. Woolston, executive, 34 Rock Road, Kentfield; Mrs. Jewel C. Pearson, housewife, 11-B Chestnut, San Rafael, and Alfred C. Kuehl, architect, 10 Rock Road, Kentfield.

The Mail praised the Americans for "letting the world listen in on the whole great adventure, and the Daily Telegraph congratulated the United States for showing its astronaut taking off and returning.

In Australia, where Shepard's flight occurred in the wee small hours before dawn, hundreds of thousands of persons sat up with ears glued to their radios following the historic count-down.

In Paris, the newspaper Figaro commented that Frenchmen were more excited by Shepard's flight than Gagarin's, "doubtless because the Americans . . . made it possible for us to follow the whole experience, minute by minute."

In West Germany, Munich's suddeutsche zeitung said the Shepard flight "narrowed the space gap" between Russia and the United States.

The Swedish newspaper Dagens Nyheter expressed the hope that the Americans would continue to inform the world about its space achievements rather than retreat behind a Soviet-style curtain of secrecy.

The Buenos Aires newspaper Correo de la Tarde said Shepard's flight was "more promising for humanity" than Gagarin's "because it was dedicated to mankind and not 'the party.'"

Mexico instructed its ambassador to Washington, Antonio Carrillo Flores, to convey President Adolfo Lopez Mateos's congratulations to Kennedy.

Philippine Sen. Fulogio Balao, a former defense minister, said America's "magnificent feat" should inspire the free world to fight the Communists "blow by blow" in the field of politics, military achievement and science.

"I think a lot of people were beginning to think America is a third-rate power," Balao said. "This space flight should change their minds."

GETTING A BOOT OUT OF IT

'Something For Nothing' Guys Still Find Suckers Aplenty Amid Gullible

"Like to own a shiny new car, Neighbor? Give me the names of six prospective buyers . . . for $100 apiece! Then come in and collect $50 for every name one of them gives me. In no time you'll earn enough to pay for the car of your choice!"

Would you buy a car, vacuum cleaner, water softener, based on that pitch? According to Vernon A. Libby, executive vice president of the San Francisco Better Business Bureau, hundreds of gullible people have.

In one current "something-for-nothing" deal, the prospect is told that he can get some article free, if he's willing to cooperate in a word-of-mouth advertising program.

It all began when Mr. John "Dough" was approached by a promoter who immediately embarked on a long dissertation, explaining that a poll of automobile manufacturers revealed 45 per cent of their sales were made on the strength of word-of-mouth recommendation. The manufacturers had decided it would be worth their while to pay a sum of money to an individual who would advertise a particular car.

The "salesman" went on to explain that his company would put Mr. "Dough" in a new car if he would, in turn, set up appointments for six of his friends who might be interested in buying.

For every friend Mr. "Dough" sent, he was told he would get $100 from the company. Moreover, an additional $50 was offered for everyone who signed up as a result of interviews.

Mr. "Dough" saw a rosy picture of sums of $100 and $50 pouring in. He was sold! He picked out the car, signed a contract, left a deposit.

According to the Better Business Bureau, this type of gimmick is operating all over the country.

There is nothing new in the "referral scheme." It preys on the gullibility of individuals and can be put over with enough conviction to disarm many otherwise prudent buyers.

However, watch for these earmarks:

1. A friend or neighbor urges you to agree to an appointment to learn how you can get something for nothing.
2. At the appointed interview the salesman explains how you can participate in an "advertising" campaign.
3. He points out that through his person-to-person advertising plan a car, or what have you, will be "free."
4. He tells you it's easy to interest a few of your friends or neighbors in getting the same article without having to pay for it.
5. He implies that you will probably make money over and above the actual price.
6. He wants you to rush into the deal right now—tonight!
7. He asks you to sign all the usual sales agreements just like any purchaser.

SUSPECT

money wired by relatives. Dunham said Aldeguer voluntarily gave a full account of the double slaying.

According to Officer Dunham, Aldeguer told of having "a fight with this fellow who has been messing around with my wife."

Dunham said Aldeguer told him:

"I have seen them in the kitchen messing around and necking and smooching and this makes my blood boil."

He then related how he went to his car to get a knife, broke the kitchen window, and "chased him (Collins) and hit him with the knife, I don't know how many times."

Mrs. Aldeguer has already told the jury how she was attacked with the same knife. She said she later learned from the number of wounds on her body that she must have been stabbed 27 times.

A jury of eight men and four women are hearing the case before Judge Thomas F. Keating. District Attorney Roger P. Garety, the prosecutor, is opposed by Public Defender Peter Allen Smith, defense lawyer.

Trial is recessed until 10 a.m. Tuesday. However, the two lawyers will appear in court at 4 p.m. Monday to argue several legal points.

The defense contends that Aldeguer's re-enactment of the crime in Mill Valley and photographs taken at that time should not be admitted in evidence. Public Defender Smith says the suspect should have been brought straight to court before he was taken to the crime scene for a re-enactment. This violates a man's constitutional rights and the right to be brought before a magistrate with dispatch, Smith argues.

District Attorney Garety says Aldeguer was brought before a judge with dispatch. Aldeguer was flown from Los Angeles in the morning, arrived in Mill Valley, and was arraigned in court that same afternoon, the D.A. points out.

Another legal question is, whether a wife should be allowed to testify concerning a threat made by Aldeguer against Collins. The defense lawyer holds that a wife cannot testify against her husband concerning acts committed against another person.

The district attorney says that Aldeguer committed crimes against both his wife and Collins. Since she was also a victim, she can testify concerning his threats, Garety contends.

The jurors who will decide the fate of Aldeguer are:

Mrs. Audrey C. Bell, clerk, 875 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo; James A. Bell, shipping company employee, 108 Kipling Drive, Mill Valley; Mrs. Aimee A. Randle, Army employee, 901 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo; William C. Woolston, executive, 34 Rock Road, Kentfield; Mrs. Jewel C. Pearson, housewife, 11-B Chestnut, San Rafael, and Alfred C. Kuehl, architect, 10 Rock Road, Kentfield.

The Mail praised the Americans for "letting the world listen in on the whole great adventure, and the Daily Telegraph congratulated the United States for showing its astronaut taking off and returning.

In Australia, where Shepard's flight occurred in the wee small hours before dawn, hundreds of thousands of persons sat up with ears glued to their radios following the historic count-down.

In Paris, the newspaper Figaro commented that Frenchmen were more excited by Shepard's flight than Gagarin's, "doubtless because the Americans . . . made it possible for us to follow the whole experience, minute by minute."

In West Germany, Munich's suddeutsche zeitung said the Shepard flight "narrowed the space gap" between Russia and the United States.

The Swedish newspaper Dagens Nyheter expressed the hope that the Americans would continue to inform the world about its space achievements rather than retreat behind a Soviet-style curtain of secrecy.

The Buenos Aires newspaper Correo de la Tarde said Shepard's flight was "more promising for humanity" than Gagarin's "because it was dedicated to mankind and not 'the party.'"

Mexico instructed its ambassador to Washington, Antonio Carrillo Flores, to convey President Adolfo Lopez Mateos's congratulations to Kennedy.

Philippine Sen. Fulogio Balao, a former defense minister, said America's "magnificent feat" should inspire the free world to fight the Communists "blow by blow" in the field of politics, military achievement and science.

"I think a lot of people were beginning to think America is a third-rate power," Balao said. "This space flight should change their minds."

Hub Information Bureau To Answer Appraisal Questions

An information bureau will be set up next week at the American Legion Log Cabin in San Anselmo for property owners of the San Anselmo area who have questions concerning new appraisal figures to be used for the coming year's tax roll.

Assessor Bert Broemmel announced that the information bureau will be open from 1 to 9 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday of next week. A staff will be there with complete records to answer questions about property appraisals.

The assessor has mailed out notices to all taxpayers in San Anselmo, giving the new appraisal figures compiled on the basis of current market values. Broemmel said this is part of his continuing effort to keep values current in an effort to equalize the tax burden on all properties.

Next Saturday another information bureau will be set up at the Stinson Beach Community Center from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. to answer questions from property owners in the Stinson and Muir Beach areas.

The assessor said he picked a Saturday for Stinson Beach for the convenience of the many residents who are there only on weekends.

Court Clerks To Attend Parley

Edna L. Lemke, clerk of Marin Municipal Court, and seven members of her staff will attend the spring conference of the Assn. of Municipal Court Clerks at Stockton this weekend.

Marin will be represented by Mrs. Lemke; June C. Black, chief deputy clerk; Anna M. Franke, member of the board of directors of the association; Hazel Baker, Flora Thurber, Martha Jean Warner, Lucyle Manning and Helen Strider.

Tam Student Winner Of Scholarship

Ellen France Oman, student at Tamalpais High School, won a third place $50 scholarship in the Press and Union League Club's 16th annual junior scholarships competition for high school journalists.

She received the award at a luncheon today in San Francisco attended by more than 300 contestants, students and faculty advisers from 55 high schools in Northern California. Miss Oman placed third in the feature writing category.

LONDON (UPI)—A "quiet family weekend" marked the first anniversary of the wedding of Princess Margaret and Antony Armstrong-Jones — an event given virtually no public notice.

Scanty Bathing Suits Don't Mean Teen-Age Girls Are Sex Delinquents

(Q)—"My girls are twins, 17 years old. This is the first time they have ignored my advice. Over my objections they bought themselves two-piece bathing suits. The suits aren't bikinis, but they are rather scanty. Does this mean they'll become sex delinquents?" — V.D.

(Q)—"You once printed some simple rules for kite safety. My children are crazy over kites. I want to protect them. Will you print the rules again?" — M.R.

(A)—Here they are:

1. Keep kites away from all electric lines. The farther away the better.

2. Use ordinary cotton string to fly kites. Never use wire or metallic string.

3. Build kites without metal. Wood, string, paper and glue are sufficient.

4. Never run across a street or highway while flying kites.

5. Never climb poles to dislodge entangled kites.

(Q)—"My wife and I are divorcing. Our present problem is the custody of our children. I want to have them on weekends. She thinks I should not see them. I'm a good father and she admits it. But she is afraid the children will be torn by their loyalties. Is she right?" — T.D.

(A)—The answer depends on how the two of you treat your children. Each one should be careful not to undermine their confidence in their other parent. You should agree to enforce the same rules of conduct. You should treat them consistently. Then they can get along. If you can't do these things, they probably would be better off not seeing you. I suggest that the two of you go to a trained marriage counselor. Try to find a way to save your marriage. Your children need a good home with both their parents in it.

ABOARD THE LURLINE — It's not hot coffee or bullion that the relaxed passengers enjoy during the morning "break" aboard the Matson Line flagship Lurline. Instead they are served chilled sherbet. And it tastes mighty good in the warm sunshine of the Pacific.

DREAM A LITTLE

Just Imagine Yourself Enroute To Islands

Still dreaming about sailing to Hawaii aboard the Lurline on the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce sponsored tour?

You should be.

There will be 700 fellow passengers—700 new friends—along on the 2,000-mile cruise from San Francisco to Honolulu.

And during the four and a half days at sea you'll have plenty of time to get to know many of them while you, perLaps, learn to hula, watch a shipboard horse race (toy horses), or relax on deck in the warm sun.

You'll hear lively sounds coming from the bar and lounge areas, and if you go in you'll have the feeling you stumbled inot a house party.

The ship's hostess, a beautiful Hawaiian girl, will serve Hawaiian appetizers of puffy, crisp butterfly shrimp and assorted canapes.

A Hawaiian musician, in white ducks and flowered aloha shirt, will be playing and singing a catchy Island song that you'll find yourself humming happily as you go below to unpack.

After dinner, you and your "shipmates" might try your luck at bingo in the marin lounge, or dance in the ballroom that seems like a seagoing night club.

The hours will whisk by and later, as you walk the deck under a star-filled sky, you'll wonder where the time has gone.

Marine At Pendleton

Complaints Over Channel Dredge Plans

"Several" complaints against plans of Marin developer Samuel R. Neider to dredge the channel off Tiburon Peninsula's Strawberry Point were on file with the Army Engineer District in San Francisco yesterday.

What's more, telephoned word to district headquarters at 180 New Montgomery Street forecast the arrival of more protests before the one-month deadline for such communications had passed.

The engineers said this meant they would have to give considerable thought to the proposal and that the problem might have to be forwarded to higher authorities.

Neider wants to dredge and fill a portion of an existing channel, placing dredged material on two tideland lots on the east side of Strawberry Point and moving the channel farther out.

Property owners of Strawberry have made several efforts to block various aspects of Neider's plans in their area, including "tower apartments" on Strawberry Point. A re-zoning petition for the area, not tied to any specific project, is awaiting county planning commission hearings.

Tickets For Two Drawing On Monday

San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis will draw the lucky number for two tickets for a free round trip to Hawaii at 12:15 p.m. Monday in front of the Marin County Courthouse on the Hawaiian platform.

The mayor will draw 10 tickets. The numbers will be recorded and published in the Independent-Journal for several days. Merchants also will have a record of the lucky numbers.

If the holder of the first number drawn does not appear with the ticket at the chamber of commerce by noon Thursday, the second number drawn will be the winner, or one of the following alternates.

Alternates should register at the chamber before Thursday to maintain their chance to win. Thursday is the deadline for all lucky number holders to register.

Mill Valley Jaycees Plan Dinner Meeting

The Mill Valley Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold a dinner meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at Zack's By-the-Bay in Sausalito to nominate officers. Election will be May 23 at the regular meeting at 8 p.m. in Park School.

A membership drive party will be given May 20 at Alice Eastwood Camp. Interested persons may inquire of L. R. Patterson of 220 Reed Boulevard, Mill Valley.

Former Policeman Won't Testify At Pension Hearing

A retired San Francisco policeman, now living in Fairfax and working as sales manager for a brewery company, refused Wednesday to testify before the San Francisco Retirement Service Board concerning his disability pension.

Frank Van DerVort of 12 San Gabriel Court, Fairfax, was one of three called by the retirement board. Of the two others, one failed to show up, and his pension was cut off. The other explained his present earnings, and his pension will be continued.

Van DerVort's pension payments have been halted for his previous refusal to answer past questionnaires. Van DerVort refused to testify Thursday on the advice of his attorney. He said he would testify only in confidence because he fears his testimony, if made public, may jeopardize his livelihood.

Reed District Budget Meeting

Reed Union School District trustees will hear a preliminary report on the 1961-62 budget by Supt. Paul R. Stouffer at a meeting Monday at 8 p.m. in the Reed School multi-purpose room.

The meeting, originally scheduled for Tuesday, will be held Monday because of a conflicting date for use of the room, Stouffer said.

Leland Spencer will give the schedule for this year's summer school program, of which he will be principal.

Joint Dinner Slated

Tiburon volunteer firemen will host a joint dinner with the Belvedere volunteer fire department on May 20 in the Tiburon Boulevard main fire station.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Hub Information Bureau To Answer Appraisal Questions

An information bureau will be set up next week at the American Legion Log Cabin in San Anselmo for property owners of the San Anselmo area who have questions concerning new appraisal figures to be used for the coming year's tax roll.

Assessor Bert Broemmel announced that the information bureau will be open from 1 to 9 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday of next week. A staff will be there with complete records to answer questions about property appraisals.

The assessor has mailed out notices to all taxpayers in San Anselmo, giving the new appraisal figures compiled on the basis of current market values. Broemmel said this is part of his continuing effort to keep values current in an effort to equalize the tax burden on all properties.

Next Saturday another information bureau will be set up at the Stinson Beach Community Center from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. to answer questions from property owners in the Stinson and Muir Beach areas.

The assessor said he picked a Saturday for Stinson Beach for the convenience of the many residents who are there only on weekends.

Court Clerks To Attend Parley

Edna L. Lemke, clerk of Marin Municipal Court, and seven members of her staff will attend the spring conference of the Assn. of Municipal Court Clerks at Stockton this weekend.

Marin will be represented by Mrs. Lemke; June C. Black, chief deputy clerk; Anna M. Franke, member of the board of directors of the association; Hazel Baker, Flora Thurber, Martha Jean Warner, Lucyle Manning and Helen Strider.

Tam Student Winner Of Scholarship

Ellen France Oman, student at Tamalpais High School, won a third place $50 scholarship in the Press and Union League Club's 16th annual junior scholarships competition for high school journalists.

She received the award at a luncheon today in San Francisco attended by more than 300 contestants, students and faculty advisers from 55 high schools in Northern California. Miss Oman placed third in the feature writing category.

(Q)—"My girls are twins, 17 years old. This is the first time they have ignored my advice. Over my objections they bought themselves two-piece bathing suits. The suits aren't bikinis, but they are rather scanty. Does this mean they'll become sex delinquents?" — V.D.

(Q)—"You once printed some simple rules for kite safety. My children are crazy over kites. I want to protect them. Will you print the rules again?" — M.R.

(A)—Here they are:

1. Keep kites away from all electric lines. The farther away the better.

2. Use ordinary cotton string to fly kites. Never use wire or metallic string.

3. Build kites without metal. Wood, string, paper and glue are sufficient.

4. Never run across a street or highway while flying kites.

5. Never climb poles to dislodge entangled kites.

(Q)—"My wife and I are divorcing. Our present problem is the custody of our children. I want to have them on weekends. She thinks I should not see them. I'm a good father and she admits it. But she is afraid the children will be torn by their loyalties. Is she right?" — T.D.

(A)—The answer depends on how the two of you treat your children. Each one should be careful not to undermine their confidence in their other parent. You should agree to enforce the same rules of conduct. You should treat them consistently. Then they can get along. If you can't do these things, they probably would be better off not seeing you. I suggest that the two of you go to a trained marriage counselor. Try to find a way to save your marriage. Your children need a good home with both their parents in it.

ABOARD THE LURLINE — It's not hot coffee or bullion that the relaxed passengers enjoy during the morning "break" aboard the Matson Line flagship Lurline. Instead they are served chilled sherbet. And it tastes mighty good in the warm sunshine of the Pacific.

DREAM A LITTLE

Just Imagine Yourself Enroute To Islands

Still dreaming about sailing to Hawaii aboard the Lurline on the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce sponsored tour?

You should be.

There will be 700 fellow passengers—700 new friends—along on the 2,000-mile cruise from San Francisco to Honolulu.

And during the four and a half days at sea you'll have plenty of time to get to know many of them while you, perLaps, learn to hula, watch a shipboard horse race (toy horses), or relax on deck in the warm sun.

You'll hear lively sounds coming from the bar and lounge areas, and if you go in you'll have the feeling you stumbled inot a house party.

The ship's hostess, a beautiful Hawaiian girl, will serve Hawaiian appetizers of puffy, crisp butterfly shrimp and assorted canapes.

A Hawaiian musician, in white ducks and flowered aloha shirt, will be playing and singing a catchy Island song that you'll find yourself humming happily as you go below to unpack.

After dinner, you and your "shipmates" might try your luck at bingo in the marin lounge, or dance in the ballroom that seems like a seagoing night club.

The hours will whisk by and later, as you walk the deck under a star-filled sky, you'll wonder where the time has gone.

Marine At Pendleton

Complaints Over Channel Dredge Plans

"Several" complaints against plans of Marin developer Samuel R. Neider to dredge the channel off Tiburon Peninsula's Strawberry Point were on file with the Army Engineer District in San Francisco yesterday.

What's more, telephoned word to district headquarters at 180 New Montgomery Street forecast the arrival of more protests before the one-month deadline for such communications had passed.

The engineers said this meant they would have to give considerable thought to the proposal and that the problem might have to be forwarded to higher authorities.

Neider wants to dredge and fill a portion of an existing channel, placing dredged material on two tideland lots on the east side of Strawberry Point and moving the channel farther out.

Property owners of Strawberry have made several efforts to block various aspects of Neider's plans in their area, including "tower apartments" on Strawberry Point, A re-zoning petition for the area, not tied to any specific project, is awaiting county planning commission hearings.

Tickets For Two Drawing On Monday

San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis will draw the lucky number for two tickets for a free round trip to Hawaii at 12:15 p.m. Monday in front of the Marin County Courthouse on the Hawaiian platform.

The mayor will draw 10 tickets. The numbers will be recorded and published in the Independent-Journal for several days. Merchants also will have a record of the lucky numbers.

If the holder of the first number drawn does not appear with the ticket at the chamber of commerce by noon Thursday, the second number drawn will be the winner, or one of the following alternates.

Alternates should register at the chamber before Thursday to maintain their chance to win. Thursday is the deadline for all lucky number holders to register.

Mill Valley Jaycees Plan Dinner Meeting

The Mill Valley Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold a dinner meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at Zack's By-the-Bay in Sausalito to nominate officers. Election will be May 23 at the regular meeting at 8 p.m. in Park School.

A membership drive party will be given May 20 at Alice Eastwood Camp. Interested persons may inquire of L. R. Patterson of 220 Reed Boulevard, Mill Valley.

Former Policeman Won't Testify At Pension Hearing

A retired San Francisco policeman, now living in Fairfax and working as sales manager for a brewery company, refused Wednesday to testify before the San Francisco Retirement Service Board concerning his disability pension.

Frank Van DerVort of 12 San Gabriel Court, Fairfax, was one of three called by the retirement board. Of the two others, one failed to show up, and his pension was cut off. The other explained his present earnings, and his pension will be continued.

Van DerVort's pension payments have been halted for his previous refusal to answer past questionnaires. Van DerVort refused to testify Thursday on the advice of his attorney. He said he would testify only in confidence because he fears his testimony, if made public, may jeopardize his livelihood.

Reed District Budget Meeting

Reed Union School District trustees will hear a preliminary report on the 1961-62 budget by Supt. Paul R. Stouffer at a meeting Monday at 8 p.m. in the Reed School multi-purpose room.

The meeting, originally scheduled for Tuesday, will be held Monday because of a conflicting date for use of the room, Stouffer said.

Leland Spencer will give the schedule for this year's summer school program, of which he will be principal.

Joint Dinner Slated

Tiburon volunteer firemen will host a joint dinner with the Belvedere volunteer fire department on May 20 in the Tiburon Boulevard main fire station.

Tomales Bay Park Job Bids To Open

Tomales Bay State Park will be improved by construction of a residence, roads and a parking area.

Bids for the project will be opened May 23, Gordon T. Kishbaugh, superintendent of District 2, State Division of Beaches and Parks, announced today.

The residence will make possible full 24-hour protection of the park, Kishbaugh said. The roads and parking area will meet a demand for more public use facilities, he noted.

Tomales Bay Park Job Bids To Open

Tomales Bay State Park will be improved by construction of a residence, roads and a parking area.

Bids for the project will be opened May 23, Gordon T. Kishbaugh, superintendent of District 2, State Division of Beaches and Parks, announced today.

The residence will make possible full 24-hour protection of the park, Kishbaugh said. The roads and parking area will meet a demand for more public use facilities, he noted.

Dear Nancy,
I value your opinion, my owner reluctantly is selling me, I'm new, I'm level, I'm electric, I'm really in good shape, and I'm located in Fairfax. What am I? A home or a house? I know I'm a bargain at $22,500.

Dear Cy and Nan,
I've found it! That close in 3 bedroom, 2 bath home in the right area, loaded with charm and equipment. If you can afford high monthly payments, you can buy a $33,000 home for $30,500, with only $3,000 down.

Dear Cy,
I'm plumb crazy over this well built broad beamed Fairhills home — Any other owner would jack the price up and wait for an architect to come along to appreciate it. 2400 sq. ft. of expensive building went into this 3 bedroom, 2 bath plus den and lanai. Asking $36,500.

Dear Cy,
I'm plumb crazy over this well built broad beamed Fairhills home — Any other owner would jack the price up and wait for an architect to come along to appreciate it. 2400 sq. ft. of expensive building went into this 3 bedroom, 2 bath plus den and lanai. Asking $36,500.
Wyman

Dear Nancy,
I called to let everyone know that my dream home is for sale. I've reduced my price $5,000 rather than wait. Where else can a person find a Belvedere view lot with 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, easy access and practically new — for only $35,500.

. . . 3,000 sq. feet of architectural splendor—from oak-parque floors to towering beam ceilings. Matched redwood walls throughout huge living area: 18x24 living room, with volcanic stone fireplace . . . 12x24 kitchen-family room area, complete with every possible convenience—all overlooking this superb vista . . . separate dining room, with built-in buffet, spacious den and gallery—all surrounding inner flagstone court, replete with cascading waterfall and pond.

. . . even the 3-bedroom wing overlooks this tremendous expanse of skyline and water. King-sized master not only offers a huge walk-in closet, but special closet for purse-shoe storage plus additional closet for outdoor apparel. Marble-top vanity is separate from bathroom which provides both tub and stall shower. Two and one-half baths in all. Laundry area, with two capacious closets, is ideally located in bedroom wing.

. . . nationally known landscape architect has further enhanced this picturesque setting with three stone patio areas: morning, mid-day and afternoon. Special emphasis placed on extremely low maintenance gardening.

. . . Harbor Point Beach Club just yards away. Club is featuring docking facilities, heated swimming pool, cabanas, tennis courts, club restaurant, ball room, plus guest facilities. Membership through committee application.

. . . for this exceptional Harbor Point property, just 20 minutes from downtown San Francisco, please contact OWNER who, regretfully, is leaving for Seattle, Washington. DU 8-8564. $72,500.

. . . 3,000 sq. feet of architectural splendor—from oak-parque floors to towering beam ceilings Matched redwood walls throughout huge living area: 18x24 living room, with volcanic stone fireplace . . . 12x24 kitchen-family room area, complete with every possible convenience—all overlooking this superb vista . . . separate dining room, with built-in buffet, spacious den and gallery—all surrounding inner flagstone court, replete with cascading waterfall and pond.

. . . even the 3-bedroom wing overlooks this tremendous expanse of skyline and water. King-sized master not only offers a huge walk-in closet, but special closet for purse-shoe storage plus additional closet for outdoor apparel. Marble-top vanity is separate from bathroom which provides both tub and stall shower. Two and one-half baths in all. Laundry area, with two capacious closets, is ideally located in bedroom wing.

. . . nationally known landscape architect has further enhanced this picturesque setting with three stone patio areas: morning, mid-day and afternoon. Special emphasis placed on extremely low maintenance gardening.

. . . Harbor Point Beach Club just yards away. Club is featuring docking facilities, heated swimming pool, cabanas, tennis courts, club restaurant, ball room, plus guest facilities. Membership through committee application.

. . . for this exceptional Harbor Point property, just 20 minutes from downtown San Francisco, please contact OWNER who, regretfully, is leaving for Seattle, Washington. DU 8-8564. $72,500.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

Brown Patina Is Warning That Fire Danger Is Here

Marin's hills are still green. But there is the beginning of a brown patina, an indication that the golden hills of summer are not far away.

This is a warning of something else, something far less agreeable. It is a warning of the approach of the fire season, a time of year when carelessness can make desolation of beauty and tragedy of outing.

It is not too early to start thinking about the safety habits of summertime, of care with matches and cigarettes, of extreme caution with campfires, of attention to safety of automotive and camping equipment, of anything which might start a serious conflagration.

At the same time, we might call attention to the service of those who sit and wait; sit and wait for the fire siren or the phone call which will send them scurrying to extinguish the cause of someone's carelessness, either at home or in the open.

Today, by decree of the governor, is Fire Service Saturday. He called upon "all citizens to salute our brave and conscientious fire fighters." He pointed out the "tragic losses in life and property" in California each year.

"As our state continues to grow," Gov. Edmund G. Brown declared, "our fire hazards increase, thus demanding ever closer coordination between our fire fighters and our people."

He called upon the people of Marin and the rest of the state, to "learn their responsibilities" in the prevention and control of fire.

We agree with the governor. We urge you and your family to start now, not later, to observe your fire safety rules, not only around the house, but when out on a ride or picnicking as well.

You Can Help An Unfortunate

It is no suprise to residents of Marin County that Goodwill Industries performs a real service both for the handicapped person and for the housewife.

For years now, Goodwill trucks, driven by drivers with physical problems of their own, have made daily forays through the streets of the county, picking up clothing here, old furniture there, lighting fixtures or play pens somewhere else.

This service to the housewives, who don't know what to do with unused but still useful things, has at the same time provided jobs for many handicapped persons who otherwise might be unemployed.

It is surprising to learn, therefore, that a lack of donated items is actually limiting activities of the organization. Bay Area Goodwill plant facilities could add another 75 handicapped employees if more cribs, furniture, clothing, household equipment and the like were to be donated. Refurbishing of these things, their sale and use is the heart of the organization.

Tomorrow is the start of National Goodwill Week. We hope you take the observance as an appropriate time to look into the attic or the storeroom for things which can mean employment for someone less fortunate.

Bouquets And Brickbats

A BOUQUET to Dr. Warren L. Bostick of San Rafael on his election as president of the California Medical Assn. But how'd you get mixed up in the Dr. Paul O'Rourke affair?

BOUQUETS to the San Rafael Beautiful Committee which has gone ahead with the planning, promotion and actual planting supervision for 27 new downtown trees already, with more to come.

BOUQUETS—of greenbacks maybe? —to Karen Nelson of San Anselmo for her ability to win college scholarships. Her picture was in the I-J Tuesday for receiving one $200 scholarship and in Friday's paper twice for a $300 and a $500 award. She deserves them, too.

BRICKBATS to men who prey on old ladies, whether in roofing rackets, house sidings or water softeners. Immediate, sure punishment is the best we can wish them.

ORIGIN OF MOTTO ON COINS

American coins reflect a public acknowledgement of God and testify to our nation's spiritual heritage.

During the Civil War, a Protestant minister, the Rev. M. R. Watkinson of Ridleyville, Pa., wrote Secretary of the Treasury Salmon P. Chase, on November 13, 1861, requesting "the recognition of the Almighty God on our coins."

He concluded his letter by saying: "This would put us openly under the divine protection we have personally claimed. From my heart I have felt our national shame in disowning God as not the least of our present national disasters . . ."

In 1863, after several wordings had been submitted, Mr. Chase instructed James Pollack, director of the U.S. mint in Philadelphia, to start inscribing the words "In God We Trust" on all coins.

Do your part to permeate public as well as private life with a living application of that dependence on God which is acknowledged on our coins.

"The eyes of the Lord are on them that fear Him."

(Psalm 32:18)

Thanks to You, O bountiful Creator, for all that we are and hope to be.

Kennedy Is Not Doing Things He Says Need To Be Done

WASHINGTON — In the wake of Castro's repulse of the Cuban freedom-fighters, Khrushchev's wrecking of the test-ban talks by demanding a veto over inspection, and, now, the Communists' near conquest of Laos, President Kennedy is certainly saying enough about averting the worst.

It is well that the President is responding to the accumulating peril so soberly. This is the beginning of mobilizing the spirit and the resources essential to fight the enemy who proclaims that the Communists are going to make all the world their own.

At this stage we are losing, not winning—and we are not yet strong enough to win.

It is my conviction that we will continue to lose this "war called peace" as long as we try to conduct it on a basis of business-as-usual, politics-as-usual, and defense-as-usual.

REFERRING TO the Communist tactics of "infiltration, subversion, intimidation, and guerrilla warfare"—in Cuba, Laos, South Vietnam, Iran, and in the Congo — President Kennedy declared that "no war ever posed a greater threat to our security."

But if "no war ever posed a greater threat," is the President proposing measures equal to this threat?

FOR EXAMPLE, the new administration saw the great need to expand our limited-war capability, fully appreciated that over-reliance on massive retaliation might deter a nuclear war while losing every vulnerable nation in Asia. But when the new defense budget is carried into effect, it won't add much more than 5,000 men to our limited war capability.

On the President's declared convictions that our very civilization is "at stake," that the hour is late, that never has "a greater threat" confronted us than this war called peace—nothing that the Administration is yet doing "to provide for it" is anywhere near equal to the peril.

Why?

He has given a clew in his statement that the nation's greatest adversary is not the Russians but "our own unwillingness to do what must be done."

THERE IS TRUTH in this but it is a dangerous half-truth. I am convinced that the whole truth is that the American people will respond galvanically, not to presidential words, but only to presidential action—by adding not a puny 5,000 but 500,000 men, if necessary, to our limited-war forces, by expanding radically our capacity to meet unconventional aggression with unconventional means.

This would mean accepting a degree of national mobilization to provide a doctrinal change in our defense strategy and thus to enlarge our means to wage successfully this "war called peace."

I believe that the country is anxiously waiting for the President to act in a way equal to the urgency of his own words.

It's Great To Have Often Seen Name

By CHAPIN A. DAY

CHIP DAY

Some recollections of Washington:

California's congressmen were gathering at a reception last week, a reception at which the two California senators would be present as well as the chief justice of the Supreme Court, Earl Warren.

Rep. Clem Miller thought it would be nice if I could attend, so he instructed his secretary: "Call up Mr. Day and invite him to come tonight."

The girl dutifully made the call and reported back that "Mr. and Mrs. Day will be happy to be present."

This confused Clem slightly, because I hadn't told him my wife was along (she wasn't). But when he went to the party he kept his eyes open for me.

After 8 p.m. he began to hang around the entrance lobby to watch for me. I didn't show up. He had me paged in a couple of hotels. No luck.

Finally he noticed another fellow sort of hanging around the lobby, and a great light dawned. The other man was J. Edward Day, the postmaster general. The girl couldn't tell Day from Day.

I missed it.

FIRST NIGHT I arrived in the capital, I wanted to go over into Virginia to visit Jack Eisen, a San Rafael boy and former I-J city editor, now a reporter on the Washington Post. He told me to take a bus to the end of the line and he'd meet me there.

I jumped in a taxi at the Statler-Hilton Hotel, gave the taxi driver the approximate address of the bus terminal. He started the car with a jerk, then began to audibly grumble something like this:

"Can you imagine this . . . Sunday night . . . you pick up a fare at the Statler . . . Where does he want to go? . . . The bus depot . . . Nobody rides the bus in Washington . . . I ride taxis all the time . . . even when I'm not working . . . grumble . . . grumble . . . make only four bits on this trip . . . better have stayed home and watched TV . . ."

This went on until we reached the intersection nearest the bus stop.

Henceforth, though, I questioned each driver about the taxi system. Seems there are 300 or more taxi companies in Washington owning from one to several thousand taxis each. Best estimate was there are 13,000 to 17,000 taxis in service for a population of about a million.

You don't need a franchise to start in business. You need a permit and a physical examination, total cost about $17. And a taxi, of course.

The 50 cents it costs to go anywhere in zone 1, which includes practically all of the major federal buildings, makes it an inexpensive way to travel. This set fee also means a taxi has to keep moving to make any money. On snowy or wet days, when they can't make any time and it takes two or three times as long to make a trip, lots of the taxi drivers just stay home. It's not worth it.

They all seemed to be at home when I was caught in the rain, that's for sure.

OPERATION OF Congress were quite different than the way the legislature does it. In Sacramento, sometimes you see the solons sitting around on the floor of the chambers reading the paper or talking together while a colleague is speaking.

I saw California's senior Sen. Thomas Kuchel deliver an important speech on the Senate floor. It dealt with narcotics and called for a two-pronged campaign aimed at eliminating the "grave narcotics problem" in California and the nation.

Sen. Maurine B. Neuberger (D, Ore.) was presiding. Sen. Michael J. Mansfield (D, Montana) was the only other senator in the chamber. As Kuchel's oratory rolled on, Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R, N.Y.) came in and sat down. At this, Senator Mansfield got up and left.

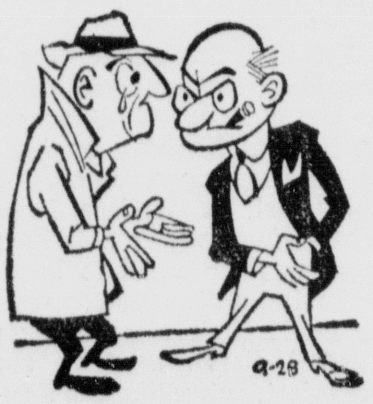

Senate Press Gallery attaches told me that on that day, they had received and circulated to newsmen texts of 55 speeches. No wonder the senators weren't listening.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A once wealthy gentleman was reduced to borrowing small sums from all his former business associates in order to keep body and soul together. "I'll bet you were worth a million three years ago," said one old friend, shaking his head. "What did you do with all that money?"

"Part of it," admitted the down-and-outer, "went for gambling, part for liquor, and part for girls. The rest I spent foolishly."

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

To classify books, that is, rate them on whether they are suitable for youngsters: This movement for classification of books, periodicals, magazines, etc., seems to be growing apace in this country.

Classification is a "hidden form of censorship" and would bring with it all evils that are traditionally associated with censorship. For example, in order to keep books, magazines, etc., from being rated as objectionable for youngsters, publishers might reject all or most reading material to the level of being suitable for a child.

The emphasis for a greater need of knowledge should not be overlooked. We do not possess at this time, i.e., "more scientifically demonstrated evidence of precisely what is harmful for youngsters, as distinct from what we tense and often taboo-ridden adults may think is harmful to them."

Before any restrictive steps are taken, a definite study ought to be made—or one so authoritative that it would not be challenged. For the fact is that in spite of the dogmatic assurance of the would-be censors, there is no agreement among experts in this field.

Before any kind of a hidden censorship is introduced, we certainly ought to have the benefits of all the facts, instead of being stampeded by prejudice and emotion.

Is George D. Monardo of Mill Valley qualified to undertake this censorship? Is his educator qualities such that he can assume this responsibility of this task?

April Was Month In Which Wars Start, But Carmel Booth's Due Back

Certainly glad to see the month of April pass by without anything more serious than Laos and Cuba.

Historians were no doubt holding their breaths, because the month of April has probably started more wars involving the United States than any other month of the year.

A hundred years ago on April 12 came the Civil War. Paul Revere's famous ride was on the night of April 18. Spanish-American War started, they tell me, on April 21. And we entered World War I officially on April 6.

There were a few exceptions of course. We dilly dallied on the War of 1812 by a couple of months. And World War II started in December, which didn't give us much of a chance to wait until the following April.

We ought to have fairly smooth sailing from now on, at least until next April.

BUT DON'T COUNT on it. Because local wars are likely to erupt at any moment.

Storm clouds are reported gathering in Lake County where former Mayor Carmel Booth of San Anselmo moved last year. Up there, she's known as the "gnat lady," spearheading a campaign to rid the county of the pesky insects.

Here's the local angle. Word is filtering down that Mrs. Booth may be headed toward Marin in the near future on a secret mission. And when she's around, not only gnats, but sparks may fly.

This will be his 31st year in law enforcement work in the county.

But even a veteran has his ups and downs. The other day, Middagh and his men scoured the county looking for a man on whom attorney Bob Corlett wanted to serve legal papers. After about a week, Middagh's men reported back: "After due diligence, can't locate him."

No wonder! The man had been locked up in the county jail at the other end of the building all that time.

COUNCILMAN-ORATOR Roger Morse of Corte Madera bowed out in style from his last council meeting (he resigned last week). During a long-drawn out discussion, Morse paused long enough to ask Town Atty. John Ehlen:

GARY GIACOMINI, the county recorder's son, is getting to be quite a vote getter. He was elected student body president at St. Mary's with a vote of 497 out of 503.

By the way, isn't it true that Judge Leonard Thomas was once president at the same college?

Another local boy who makes good is Jack Leone of San Rafael. His Marine Corps platoon at Camp Pendleton graduated with the highest honors ever attained in the Marine Corps, they tell me.

Need Natural Childbirth Plan

Independent-Journal:

I urge the doctors of Marin County (of which there are so many) to adopt a natural childbirth program. So many women have to make the trip to San Francisco to seek obstetricians who practice this philosophy of childbirth.

I happen to know if they should initiate such a program in Marin County, they'd find the response would be great.

"Heavens, when you asked me to attend, I thought it was a horticultural group . . . I didn't know we were going to impeach anyone . . .!"

By CHAPIN A. DAY

CHIP DAY

Some recollections of Washington:

California's congressmen were gathering at a reception last week, a reception at which the two California senators would be present as well as the chief justice of the Supreme Court, Earl Warren.

Rep. Clem Miller thought it would be nice if I could attend, so he instructed his secretary: "Call up Mr. Day and invite him to come tonight."

The girl dutifully made the call and reported back that "Mr. and Mrs. Day will be happy to be present."

This confused Clem slightly, because I hadn't told him my wife was along (she wasn't). But when he went to the party he kept his eyes open for me.

After 8 p.m. he began to hang around the entrance lobby to watch for me. I didn't show up. He had me paged in a couple of hotels. No luck.

Finally he noticed another fellow sort of hanging around the lobby, and a great light dawned. The other man was J. Edward Day, the postmaster general. The girl couldn't tell Day from Day.

The postmaster general, himself a Californian, enjoyed the party.

FIRST NIGHT I arrived in the capital, I wanted to go over into Virginia to visit Jack Eisen, a San Rafael boy and former I-J city editor, now a reporter on the Washington Post. He told me to take a bus to the end of the line and he'd meet me there.

I jumped in a taxi at the Statler-Hilton Hotel, gave the taxi driver the approximate address of the bus terminal. He started the car with a jerk, then began to audibly grumble something like this:

"Can you imagine this . . . Sunday night . . . you pick up a fare at the Statler . . . Where does he want to go? . . . The bus depot . . . Nobody rides the bus in Washington . . . I ride taxis all the time . . . even when I'm not working . . . grumble . . . grumble . . . make only four bits on this trip . . . better have stayed home and watched TV . . ."

This went on until we reached the intersection nearest the bus stop.

"I don't know where the bus terminal is, you'll have to get out here," he declared. I did. No tip.

Henceforth, though, I questioned each driver about the taxi system. Seems there are 300 or more taxi companies in Washington owning from one to several thousand taxis each. Best estimate was there are 13,000 to 17,000 taxis in service for a population of about a million.

You don't need a franchise to start in business. You need a permit and a physical examination, total cost about $17. And a taxi, of course.

The 50 cents it costs to go anywhere in zone 1, which includes practically all of the major federal buildings, makes it an inexpensive way to travel. This set fee also means a taxi has to keep moving to make any money. On snowy or wet days, when they can't make any time and it takes two or three times as long to make a trip, lots of the taxi drivers just stay home. It's not worth it.

They all seemed to be at home when I was caught in the rain, that's for sure.

OPERATION OF Congress were quite different than the way the legislature does it. In Sacramento, sometimes you see the solons sitting around on the floor of the chambers reading the paper or talking together while a colleague is speaking.

I saw California's senior Sen. Thomas Kuchel deliver an important speech on the Senate floor. It dealt with narcotics and called for a two-pronged campaign aimed at eliminating the "grave narcotics problem" in California and the nation.

Sen. Maurine B. Neuberger (D, Ore.) was presiding. Sen. Michael J. Mansfield (D, Montana) was the only other senator in the chamber. As Kuchel's oratory rolled on, Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R, N.Y.) came in and sat down. At this, Senator Mansfield got up and left.

Senate Press Gallery attaches told me that on that day, they had received and circulated to newsmen texts of 55 speeches. No wonder the senators weren't listening.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A once wealthy gentleman was reduced to borrowing small sums from all his former business associates in order to keep body and soul together. "I'll bet you were worth a million three years ago," said one old friend, shaking his head. "What did you do with all that money?"

"Part of it," admitted the down-and-outer, "went for gambling, part for liquor, and part for girls. The rest I spent foolishly."

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

EDITOR,

A Tireless Worker For Worthy Causes

That's Miriam Austin, One Of Marin's Busiest Women

By PATRICIA ZINN

Miriam Fulton Austin is a name familiar to today's generation of Marin school children, and their parents as well.

To some students she is their patient and understanding mathematics teacher at Tamalpais High School, and to all others author of a booklet on Marin nature lore. To their parents she is a tireless and devoted worker for community causes. And to both, she is known as the charming and gracious wife of College of Marin president Ward H. Austin.

Miriam Austin has long identified herself with community causes, but her career in the teaching profession on a full time basis spans only the past five years. The years before were devoted to being a homemaker and mother.

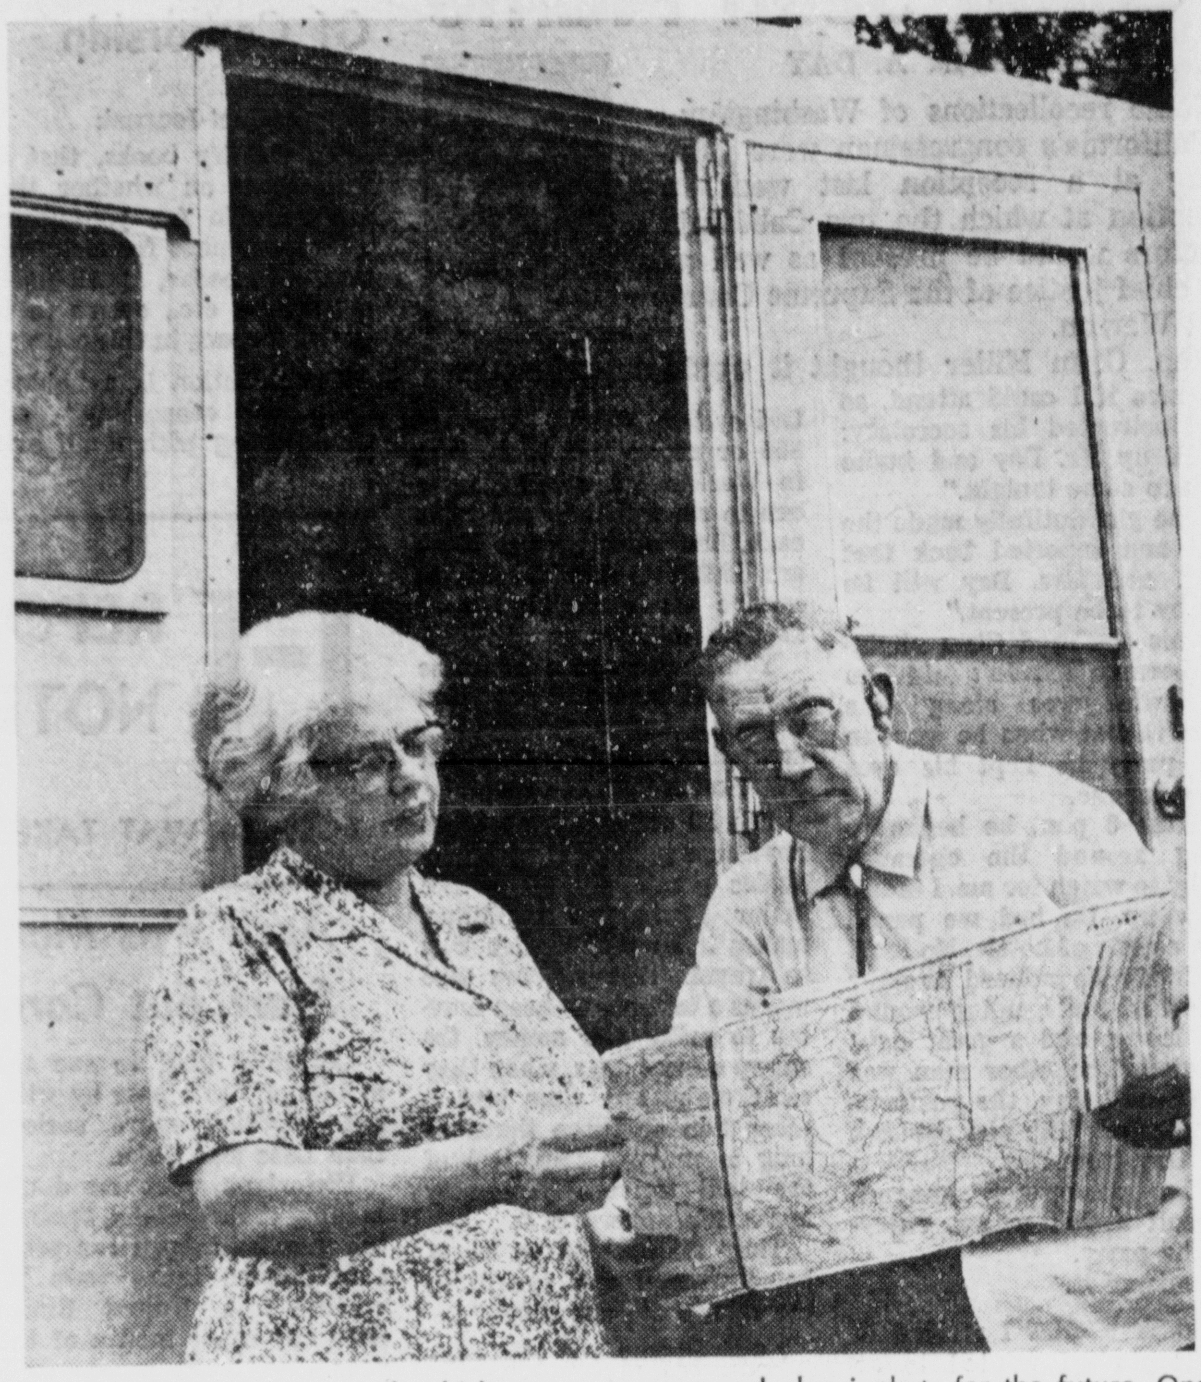

ON MAY 15 Miriam Austin will be one of eight women honored by the American Association of University Women for their contributions to Marin.

This is well earned recognition for a woman who embodies the philosophy that an adult owes something to the community, and for whom it has been a joy to have the strength and health to serve.

Born in Harper, Kan., Miriam Fulton Austin has spent her life since the age of 3 in the state of California, where her family lived in Monterey Park. She was graduated from Alhambra High School and attended the University of California at Los Angeles which was at that time a two year school. It was while attending UCLA that she met a young engineering student from Covina, Ward H. Austin. By the time the coeds came north to complete their requirements at the University of California in Berkeley, they were engaged to be married.

They were married a month after her graduation in May of 1923, and took up their residence in Albany. Ward Austin continued at the university as a laboratory assistant and graduate student in electrical engineering.

IN 1926 THE Austins became parents of their first child, a son, Ward H. Austin Jr. The following year the family moved to Kentfield, where Ward Austin accepted a position as a teacher of engineering at the College of Marin.

"Having enjoyed hiking in Marin during college days, we never expected to be so fortunate as to live and work here," said Mrs. Austin. While in Kentfield, they became the parents of a daughter, Lorna, now Mrs. Arnold Brown of Livingston, N. J., and after moving to Ross, greeted the arrival of another son, Carl Fulton.

As her youngsters grew up, the energetic and vivacious mother found herself involved in their activities, serving as a Cub den mother for each of her sons, guardian of her daughter's Camp Fire group, and teacher in the church Sunday school. For 10 years she served as sponsor of Di Rhau Theas, a College of Marin women's service club. Now, at Tamalpais High School, she sponsors Pi Alpha Tau, the junior-senior women's service club.

"It's a good thing my house is spacious for it has seen many buffet suppers, teas, and slumber parties. I recall one time especially when my husband, having spent the night on a cot in the college gym, came home early the next morning to get a forgotten razor. He found the hall so full of girls in sleeping bags that he couldn't so much as open the door. Thirty girls can make quite a houseful."

Miriam Austin packed and hiked 200 miles in the High Sierra on her honeymoon and it is "what we have loved and shared through the years." When their youngest child was 7, family vacations became month-long pack trips in the Sierra. Loading all supplies and equipment on four burros and, in the early years, taking a fifth burro for the two younger children to ride alternately, they hiked, camped and fished the Kern, King and San Joaquin River wilderness areas. An extensive kodachrome record of these trips of high adventure helps to keep alive the months of family fun.

THEY WILL never forget breaking snow-covered trail to climb Mount Whitney on Carl's ninth birthday, or finally catching up with elusive "big" fish in Wallace Lake (11,000 feet) where a 12-inch trout was too small to keep, or having a pine marten warily circle their camp site on Tyndall Creek as they ate breakfast, or finding the lovely, fragrant lavender Sky Pilot (Poehlmann) as they crossed 12,000-foot passes. From this interest have stemmed her hobbies.

As an amateur naturalist, she has a copyrighted booklet on Marin nature lore adopted by the Marin school, and currently, she is working on an herbarium of Marin. Another hobby is that of painting in oil the landscapes of her beloved high mountain country in both the Sierra and the Wind River Mountains of Wyoming, where she and her husband have packed since 1943.

This introduction to out-of-doors was also to have its effect on the boys for Ward Jr. is now in Tripoli as chief geologist for the Africa Branch of Cities Service while Carl is with the U. S. Naval Ordinance Test Station in China Lake, Calif., as a research geologist.

In 1935 the Austins moved to a wooded location in Larkspur. Building a double garage with a loft which served as a dormitory, the family was snugly comfortable as their large English style home was planned and built. Then, says Mrs. Austin, "we expanded like an accordion."

As the years progressed, Mrs. Austin intensified her community work. In Camp Fire Girls she served as a member of the executive board and was president of the Marin Council from 1940 to 1950, as the Marin Council was reorganized and Kilowana, the summer camp, built. During the recent celebration of the Camp Fire Golden Jubilee, she made the presentations at the anniversary dinner at the Meadow

FCC APPROVED MULTIPLEX FOR STEREO BROADCASTS. On April 19, 1961, the FCC announced that the system approved for stereo broadcasting on FM radio was the Zenith GE method. Tests can begin at once, and the stations may begin broadcasts on June 15, 1961.

The system adopted has many overall advantages. One of the important ones is that those listeners that do not have a stereo system will receive a full program, both Channel A and Channel B, on the tuned-in FM station instead of just one sound channel of the broadcast.

To receive the FM multiplexed stereo broadcasts, a multiplex adapter will have to be interconnected to your present FM tuner. The function of the multiplex adapter is to take the supersonic information channel from your FM tuner, use this information to reconvert the broadcast into two sound channels and reintroduce them into your music system as Channel A and Channel B. The major manufacturers are already designing and testing adapters to be used with their tuners.

For the technically minded, the main FM carrier will transmit both the left and right channel information. A sub-carrier at 38 KC will transmit the difference between the two signals, in other words, the stereo information. The FCC approved Multiplex system requires that the FM tuner be capable of receiving signals up to at least 53,000 cps for full performance. This bears out the point I have made in many previous articles; namely, in order to receive multiplexed stereo broadcasts with full range and quality a well designed FM tuner or receiver is required.

Club in Fairfax. As an ordained deacon of the First Presbyterian Church in San Anselmo, she has served as a Sunday school superintendent and teacher. Today, she is a member of the social education and action committee of that church.

DURING THE war years Miriam Austin did much to "keep the home fires burning" as she worked with the American Red Cross. In the Red Cross Canteen Corps, she taught six canteen courses in Marin, training both adults and high school girls for wartime service. As chairman of the Larkspur-Corte Madera unit, she did hospital and flightline work at Hamilton Field and served at the blood bank.

"I have," she says, "unforgettable memories of the drama of watching at night as the great ambulance planes unloaded their stretcher cases from Pacific battlefields; of serving ice cream cones in the hospital wards to boys just back from fighting, or of making egg sandwiches for hungry young soldiers, patiently waiting on the flightlines in hopes of an empty seat for a home leave."

As chairman of the Dietician's Aide Corps, she organized the corps which served at Hamilton Field hospitals under U. S. Army dieticians for one year. As a volunteer and chairman of the Home Service Corps of the Red Cross, she gave one or two days per week and emergency weekend coverage for one and a half years, doing family case work which included interviewing and field work.

She has given endless hours of time to Marin Community Chest, which evolved into Marin United Fund, and to the United Bay Area Crusade as she served on their board of directors, executive committee, admissions and allocations committees, and special study committees. For two years, in 1952 and 1953, she was president of the Marin Community Chest.

Today Mirian Austin can afford to slow down because such organizations as the Marin United Fund, United Bay Area Crusade and the American Cancer Society, Marin Branch, are strong because men and women like herself lent strength to their early development.

AMAZINGLY enough, Miriam Austin continued her education throughout these years and between 1924 and the present, completed 70 units of post graduate work. In June of 1949, she received her general secondary credential from Dominican College. Teaching activities have included a stint as acting dean of women at College of Marin and substitute teacher at Tamalpais, Sir Francis Drake and San Rafael High School as well as the Kentfield college.

Current plans include driving their camp truck to Alaska, and dreams of a trip to New Zealand and Australia. Letters from the children are also important to the Austins, especially now that they have six grandchildren. Mrs. Austin is proud, too, that Carl's daughter is her namesake. She regrets having so little opportunity to enjoy being a grandmother since her family is so widely scattered. She does fly East most years for a week's visit with her daughter and family. This spring she had the fun of both the jet flight and a helicopter trip from New York to Newark, N. J.

The years have not dimmed the enthusiasm of Miriam Austin. Indeed, they seem to have heightened it. She will, it is certain, continue to add other laurels to an already distinguished career.

IN HER CLASSROOM at Tamalpais High School in Mill Valley, teacher Miriam Austin gives some assistance to one of her mathematics students, Norm Kreuter. Mrs. Austin, wife of the College of Marin president, has been a full-time teacher for five years, but prior to that had experience as a substitute teacher in several Marin schools, and as acting dean of women at the junior college. Club in Fairfax. As an ordained deacon of the First Presbyterian Church in San Anselmo, she has served as a Sunday school superintendent and teacher. Today, she is a member of the social education and action committee of that church.

DURING THE war years Miriam Austin did much to "keep the home fires burning" as she worked with the American Red Cross. In the Red Cross Canteen Corps, she taught six canteen courses in Marin, training both adults and high school girls for wartime service. As chairman of the Larkspur-Corte Madera unit, she did hospital and flightline work at Hamilton Field and served at the blood bank.

"I have," she says, "unforgettable memories of the drama of watching at night as the great ambulance planes unloaded their stretcher cases from Pacific battlefields; of serving ice cream cones in the hospital wards to boys just back from fighting, or of making egg sandwiches for hungry young soldiers, patiently waiting on the flightlines in hopes of an empty seat for a home leave."

As chairman of the Dietician's Aide Corps, she organized the corps which served at Hamilton Field hospitals under U. S. Army dieticians for one year. As a volunteer and chairman of the Home Service Corps of the Red Cross, she gave one or two days per week and emergency weekend coverage for one and a half years, doing family case work which included interviewing and field work.

She has given endless hours of time to Marin Community Chest, which evolved into Marin United Fund, and to the United Bay Area Crusade as she served on their board of directors, executive committee, admissions and allocations committees, and special study committees. For two years, in 1952 and 1953, she was president of the Marin Community Chest.

Today Mirian Austin can afford to slow down because such organizations as the Marin United Fund, United Bay Area Crusade and the American Cancer Society, Marin Branch, are strong because men and women like herself lent strength to their early development.

AMAZINGLY enough, Miriam Austin continued her education throughout these years and between 1924 and the present, completed 70 units of post graduate work. In June of 1949, she received her general secondary credential from Dominican College. Teaching activities have included a stint as acting dean of women at College of Marin and substitute teacher at Tamalpais, Sir Francis Drake and San Rafael High School as well as the Kentfield college.

For entertainment and relaxation from their busy duties, the Austins enjoy an evening of bridge and planning summer vacation pack trips.

Current plans include driving their camp truck to Alaska, and dreams of a trip to New Zealand and Australia. Letters from the children are also important to the Austins, especially now that they have six grandchildren. Mrs. Austin is proud, too, that Carl's daughter is her namesake. MILL VALLEY optometrist Dr. John W. Hoag shows you four of the eyeglasses from his collection of unusual spectacles. In photo at left, some reading glasses of the 1820-30 era which belonged to the grandmother of the late Monty Montgomery, proprietor of the Muir Woods Curio Shop. Octagonal rims enclose very small lenses. Next pince-nez of the "Fitsu" type with a little coiled spring which holds the glasses to the nose. They are still worn occasionally by older persons. Third from left, eyeglasses of the 1920s and early 1930s that were extremely comfortable. Note the larger lenses. And at right, "Bifocals" without the top "pane." You peer over them for distance. Benjamin Franklin wore this kind. And they are currently staging a comeback.

RECEPTIONIST Mrs. Charlotte Allison, an employee of Dr. Hoag, shows you the old type of case, fastened to the belt, in which spectacles were once carried. The glasses have solid gold rims. Both are pre-Civil War. (Photos by Jim Kean)

THE OLD-TIME 'SPECS' HAD THEIR ADVANTAGES

Dr. John W. Hoag is a practicing optometrist at Mill Valley. And before him, his father and an aunt were optometrists.

In view of his profession, it is not surprising that Dr. Hoag is the owner of a collection of some 30 or 40 unusual eye-glasses. He keeps the collection at his office and frequently uses it to entertain patients.

Some of the older pieces were inherited from his father. Others were brought to him by patients and friends who knew of his interest in spectacles.

Dr. Hoag, a University of California graduate, does not belittle the older styles in eye-wear.

The new fashions are more attractive, he admits. And certainly the population today benefits from better fitting and testing methods.

But, he adds, in many ways the older spectacles were more practical and more efficient than those sold today.

This is particularly true of women's bifocals, he says.

"It is a difficult job to sell a woman on the fact that she should choose her bifocals primarily for eyesight, secondarily for appearance," he says.

A SHERLOCK HOLMES costume seemed to photographer Jim Kean to go with these pince nez. This type has almost disappeared. They were uncomfortable. Replacement parts became difficult to find. And as lenses became larger, they became extremely hard to keep on the nose. They were at their zenith in the period from 1900 to 1920.

"Why did my sweater fade while the skirt did not?"—Miss R.W.H.

Dear Miss R. W. H.:

In this you may think that your drycleaner cleaned each piece separately and used different methods. Of course, he did not, but there was a difference, obviously, somewhere. The difference is in the ensemble. The skirt is 100% wool and the sweater of a synthetic fiber. This particular synthetic fiber has many advantages. One of them is that it takes dyes easily, but for the same reason, it gives them up easily in drycleaning. The 100% wool skirt does not dye as easily, but the perfect color match is lost when the wool retains its color and the synthetic fabric releases it.

"Matched Separates" such as sweaters, blouses and skirts, or dresses and sweaters are lovely and can be used in many ways to give you variety in your wardrobe. However, frequently the fibers are different and though the printed design or color on the sweater, blouse, skirt and dress may be identical, when all the garments are drycleaned, the design or color on the synthetic fabric may fade.

Usually such garments carry labels "Do Not Dryclean", but frequently these labels are lost. It is safest to be certain that all pieces of your "Matched Separates" are of the same material. If not, tell your drycleaner about them, ask his advice and suggest special handling.

THESE READING glasses of the kind popular from 1880 to about 1900 were inclined to slide down the nose unless the wearer had a high bridge to his nose. Dr. Hoag demonstrates that problem here.

THE SUNGLASSES of about 1910 looked like this. The tint was almost always brown, the lenses practically all the same size. But, says Dr. Hoag, they were "more comfortable than some of our current ones."

THIS LORGNETTE being demonstrated by Mrs. Allison is Chinese and designed for reading. Note the ornate handle.

A WISTERIA-COVERED loggia over the diamond-panel windows of the entry hall of "Landfall," the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stevens Manning Jr. of Belvedere, will greet those attending the 11th annual Belvedere House Tour of St. Stephen's Guild. A Home That Has Been Loved

By CORENA GREEN

The colorful history of Belvedere Island and the interesting people who have lived there is preserved in the gardens, the view and the timbers of Landfall, one of the six homes which will be shown next Thursday during "Island Itinerary," Belvedere's 11th annual house tour sponsored by St. Stephen's Guild.

This is the brown-shingle home that was built by the honeymooning couple, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Winthrop Bridge, in 1892.

The Bridges were the parents of Mrs. Harry B. Allen and Miss Helen Bridge of Belvedere and the late Arthur Bridge. It is with pleasure that Mrs. Allen recalls the summers and weekends spent in the large old home and playing on its acreage. The pier below the house was once the stop for the commuting ferry, "The Marin," operating on a private run between Sausalito and Tiburon for 30 years.

AN INCREDIBLE vine climbs up the shingled front of the house. It is a cream-colored Cherokee rose, planted there over half a century ago. Still blooming, shoots from the bush have been taken and started in homes of Bridge descendants and relatives throughout the state.

"Roads watered regularly" reads a Belvedere Land Co. brochure, printed at the turn of the century. "Excellent family supplies can be purchased in the neighboring town of Tiburon. Goods purchased in Tiburon or from Goldberg, Bowen & Lebenbaum of San Francisco are delivered free of charge." Ferry commutation, it adds, cost $3 a month. It is in this country setting that Mrs. Allen, her brother and her sister decided to attend school, although the Bridge family returned, along with other summering San Francisco families, to the city in the fall.

So when November came and the houses were closed for the winter, the youngsters would dash down San Francisco's hills to the ferry, ride over to the Tiburon stop and dash up to the Belvedere School. Mrs. Allen was in its third graduating class.

"And how we looked forward to spring, when the thrushes first came and the flowers unfolded to return to our wonderful house."

Landfall's next chapter belongs to Dr. and Mrs. Stanley Stillman. They bought the house in 1910, using it, as the Bridges had before them, as a summer place and then ultimately retiring to it. It was during this time, between 1910 and 1932, that the terracing, rock walls, patios and intimate gardens were created. Charles DeTomasi of Tiburon worked for 40 years on the estate, building the graceful terraces, tending the varied gardens and planting the scores of trees and shrubs that are in evidence today.

"TONS OF ROCK were carried by mule cart from Tiburon's hills and waterfront," recalls Dr. Stillman's daughter, Mrs. Russell Mackey of Greenbrae. She adds that at one time her parents expressed an interest in having an Oriental garden established in the front of the house, but left for a trip abroad before it could be done. When they returned, DeTomasi had completed it as a surprise for them. It is there today with small trees, azaleas and carefully placed shrubs.

So when November came and the houses were closed for the winter, the youngsters would dash down San Francisco's hills to the ferry, ride over to the Tiburon stop and dash up to the Belvedere School. Mrs. Allen was in its third graduating class.

"And how we looked forward to spring, when the thrushes first came and the flowers unfolded to return to our wonderful house."

Landfall's next chapter belongs to Dr. and Mrs. Stanley Stillman. They bought the house in 1910, using it, as the Bridges had before them, as a summer place and then ultimately retiring to it. It was during this time, between 1910 and 1932, that the terracing, rock walls, patios and intimate gardens were created. Charles DeTomasi of Tiburon worked for 40 years on the estate, building the graceful terraces, tending the varied gardens and planting the scores of trees and shrubs that are in evidence today.

"TONS OF ROCK were carried by mule cart from Tiburon's hills and waterfront," recalls Dr. Stillman's daughter, Mrs. Russell Mackey of Greenbrae. She adds that at one time her parents expressed an interest in having an Oriental garden established in the front of the house, but left for a trip abroad before it could be done. When they returned, DeTomasi had completed it as a surprise for them. It is there today with small trees, azaleas and carefully placed shrubs.

LANDFALL WAS built in 1892 as the honeymoon cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Winthrop Bridge. In top photo the little girls, one of the Bridge daughters, now Mrs. Harry B. Allen of Belvedere, and a cousin, now Mrs. Dorothy Bridge Johnson of Greenbrae, pick the first bloom from a double Cherokee rose planted at the entrance of the home. In bottom photo Stevie and Emilie Manning, who live there now, play with the same rose plant which has grown to the roof of the house and makes a fine tree for climbing.

shine' in Hawaiian," said Mrs. Mackey, adding that the place was a "cherished spot for all of them.

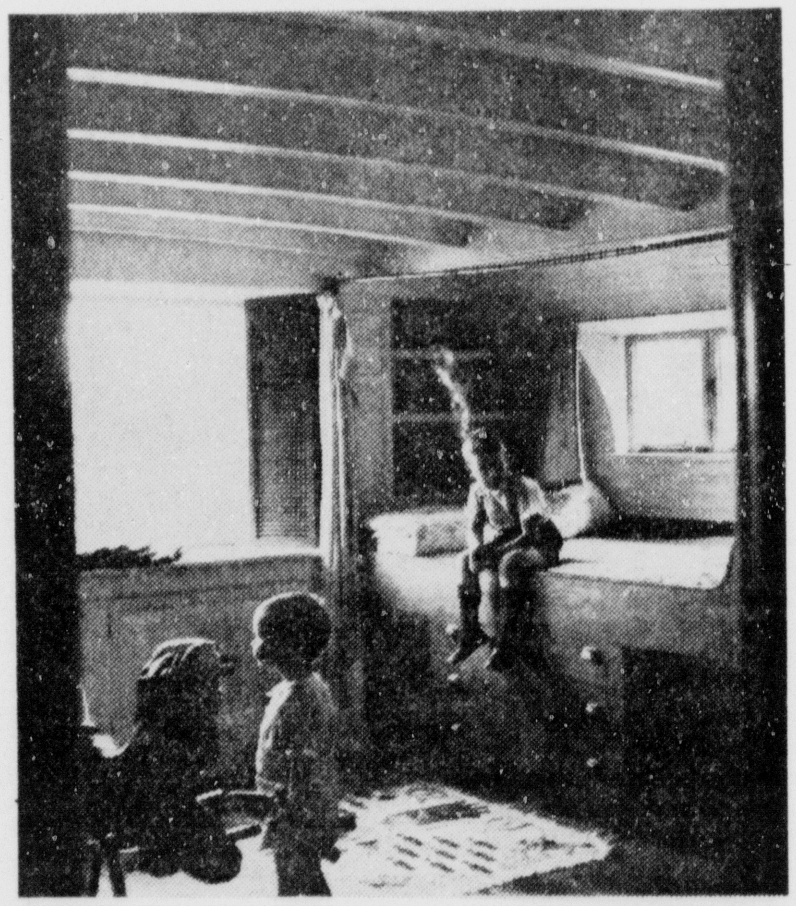

The name Landfall was given the estate by Miss Marion Huntington, who acquired it in 1932. Miss Huntington is the grand-niece of Collis Huntington of railway fame.

Her fondness for the sea and things pertaining to it motivated the remodeling of the master bedroom into a ship's cabin. It is an exact replica, complete to the small iron Franklin stove, curved paneled roof, tiny windows, bunks and cabinets. Outside the room, on a small deck, is a captain's wheel, decaying now, but earmarked for repair by the present owners, the Stevens Manning Jr. family. Young 5-year-old Stevie Manning enjoys the room today, and Miss Huntington, who now lives in San Francisco, couldn't have planned a room more delightful for a small boy.

Miss Huntington's friends recall with pleasure many happy weekends spent in her home, for she was very generous in sharing it. She remodeled the house extensively to accommodate two adopted children, and the master bedroom today has its own flagstone terrace reached by French doors.

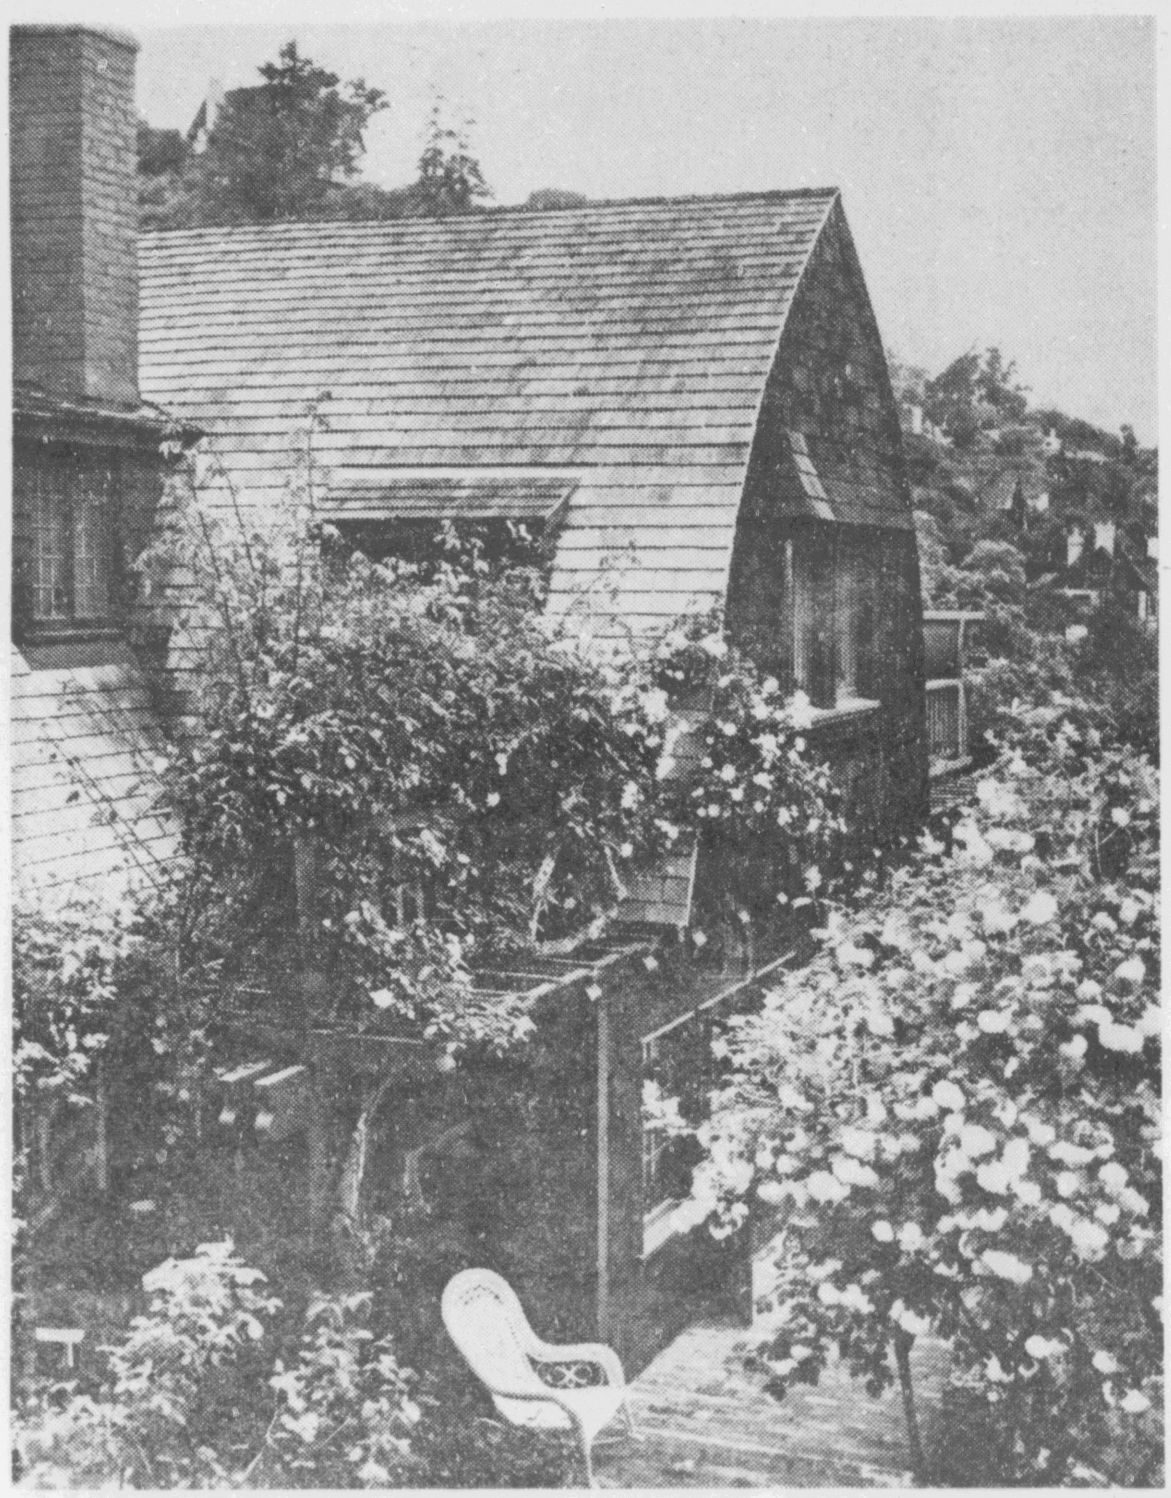

IT IS PLAINLY evident that all owners of Landfall have loved it. Today Mrs. Manning explains that the floor boards are from the decking of an old ship, and the ceiling beams and lanterns from an old man-of-war. The Mannings with their four children have comfortably expanded into all corners of the old home.

The garden is decked out in a full array of spring colors. And next Thursday guests of the house tour will have a chance to step back into these fascinating chapters of Belvedere history.

A LATER PURCHASER of the home was Miss Marian Huntington, grand niece of Collis P. Huntington of railroad fame. Miss Huntington was a lover of the sea and among her additions to the house was a room furnished like a ships cabin. Stevie Manning proudly shows off his room to the envy of younger brother Patrick. Miss Huntington also installed flooring which had originally been ship decking. The ceiling beams in the living room and old lanterns came from a man-of-war.

Our College Marks Its Founders' Day

It Will Be A Time Of Remembering And A Time, Too, For Rededication

"Memory, no less than hope, owes its charm to the far away," said Edward Bulwer Lytton in the last century.

It is with memory and hope that the College of Marin will celebrate its Founders' Day tomorrow.

TODAY, THE college stands at a midpoint between the poles of past and future. Ahead lies the challenges of exploding enrollments and how to accommodate them. Behind are 35 years of dedication to the concept of higher education for all who can profit from it.

Yet, upon inspection, the same goals which the school set for itself more than a third of a century ago seem to have even more meaning today than they did then.

Tomorrow, the campus will abound with former students, teachers, board members, and employees who have a place in this history. Twenty-seven people will be singled out for their special contributions to the college. There will be an address by a prominent speaker. A musical program fitting for the occasion has been arranged. A reunion dinner to bring together 35 classes will be held.

AND PICTURES! Photographs that reach back and say, "Yes, my goodness, I remember him!" The camera will have remembered some and forgotten most. The first building, first faculty, first class, first dance, first football game! Historical sentiment? Surely! But isn't this what we really mean when we speak of the "good old days?"

On May 7, 1926, the first board of trustees of the Marin Junior College District was elected. Formation of the district had been a matter of record for 42 days.

With the board's formation, the dream of a personal kind of higher education for Marin County was set in motion. It would offer the same courses freshmen and sophomores could get at the University of California but would go further, much further. It would help Marin County directly by training young people in skills the county for use. It would provide education for those who wanted only two years of it. It would help Marin County directly by training young people in skills the county could use. It would help a student in, not out.

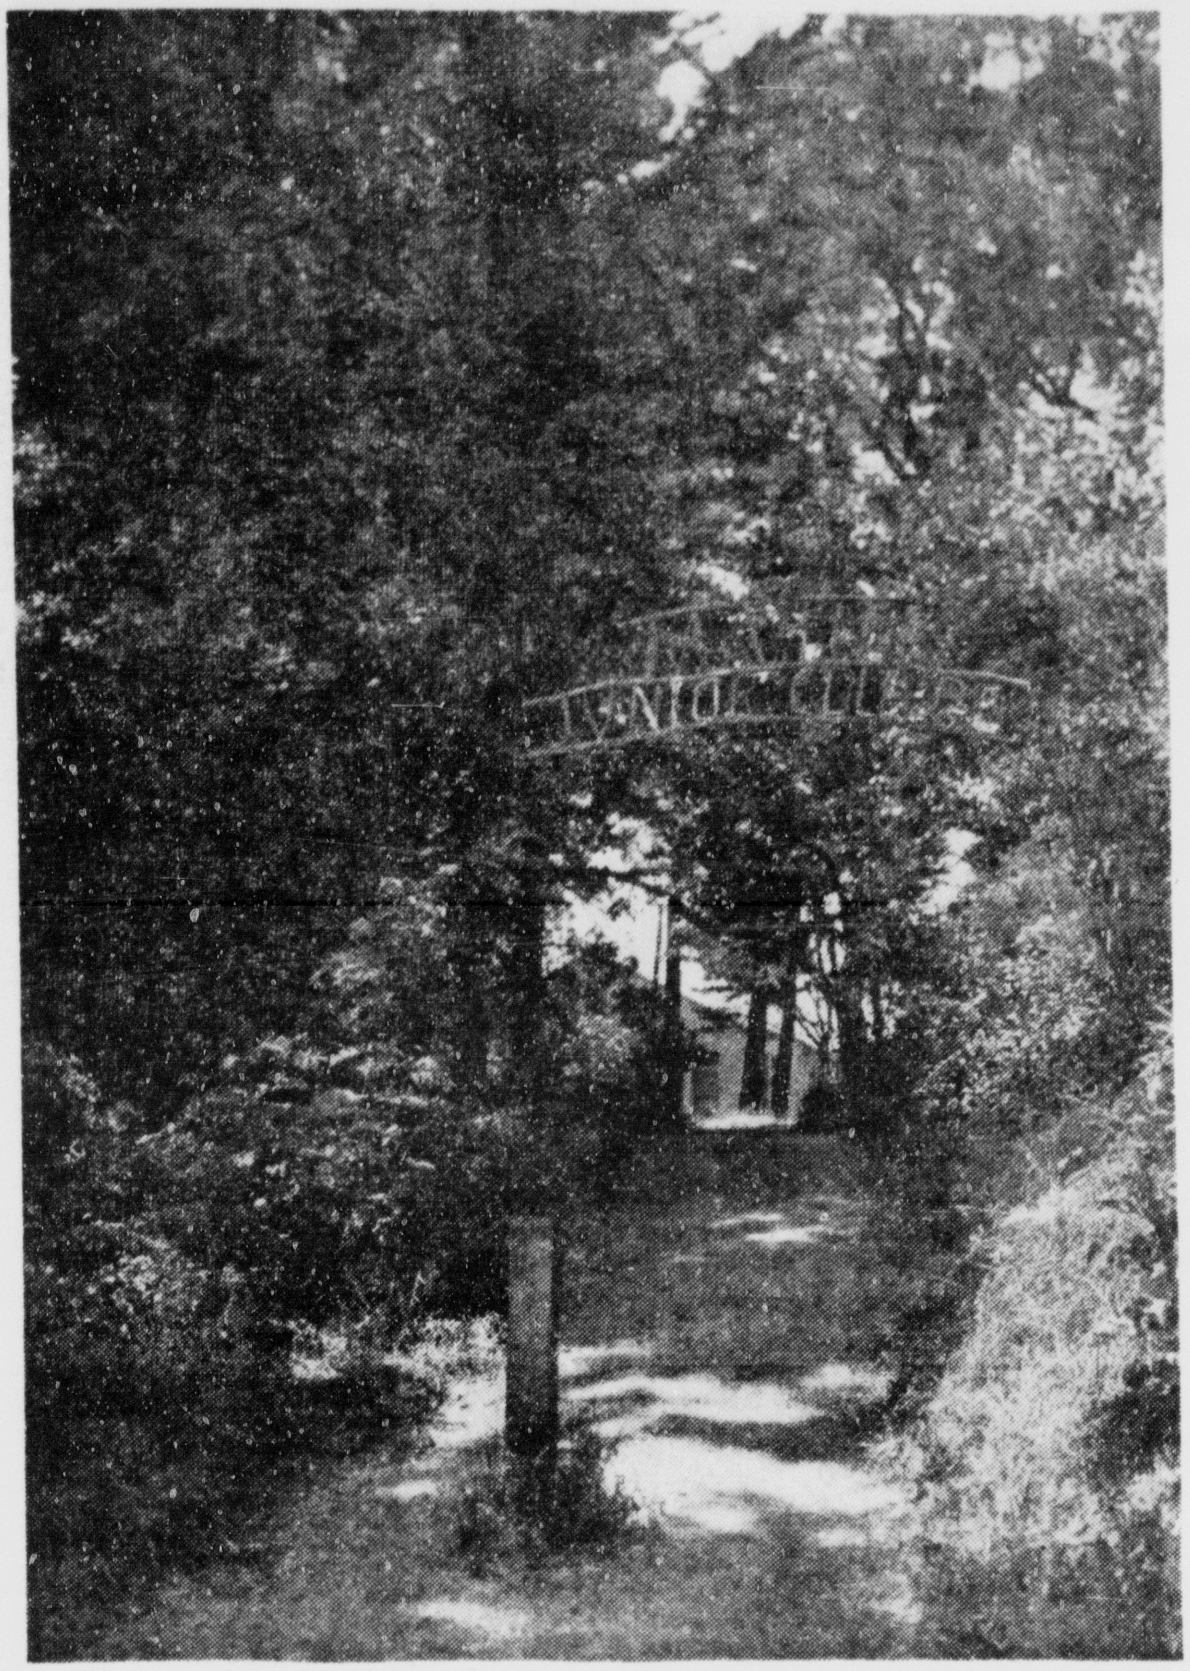

IT WOULD help the foreign-born to become citizens, provide classes for adults who knew that learning never stops. It would provide a place where people who wanted to meet or say something could do so. It would inform and entertain.

In short, it would provide the kind of educational and cultural leadership its community wanted.

Parts of the dream have risen to new heights, other parts are as yet incomplete. Whether the dream is in the past or future, however, it remains the same.

The Founders' Day program will be a short one. Perhaps that's the way it should be.

Canada's Lord Tweedsmuir might have told the founders all they really wanted to hear when he said, "We can only pay our debt to the past by putting the future in debt to ourselves."

THE ORIGINAL ENTRANCE to Marin Junior College from Kentfield's College Avenue looked like this with the rustic sign overhead. The stake in the foreground was there to keep students from driving cars onto the campus. In background is the science building.

SINCE 1948 IT HAS been "College of Marin" instead of "Marin Junior College" and this sign has greeted visitors at the front entrance to the college campus. The building with tower is Harlan Hall. For other pictures of the college, past and present, turn to the pages that follow.

Those Good Old College Days

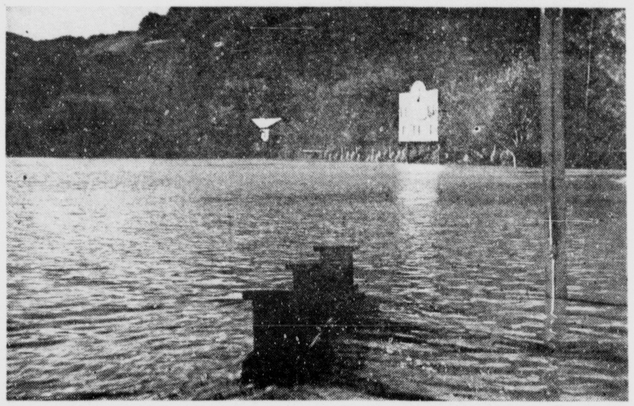

IN MARCH OF 1948 a new sign went up, denoting the changing of the name of the educational institution at Kentfield from Marin Junior College to College of Marin. The change was made by vote of the students. College president Ward H. Austin is the man in the vest.

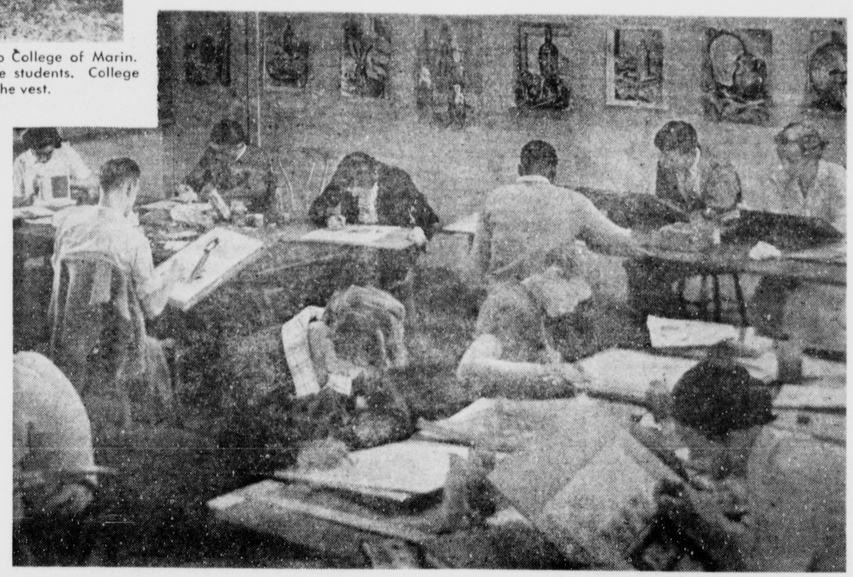

THE FACULTY of 1931 posed for this picture. Left to right, back row, Pulskamp, Mohr, Austin, Mono, Kooph, Weed, Hines, Spaulding, Sauca, Jensen. Front row: C. Lewis, Olney, Cobb, Fusselman, Sherman, E. D. Lewis, Cherry, Mitchell. Pulskamp, Lewis and Cherry are still on the staff. Shown are two presidents of the college, Ward H. Austin, retiring this year, and the late Clyde C. Olney, the first president who retired in 1943.

FLOODING of the college stadium has been a too frequent occurance. This particular inundation turned the field into "Lake Marin" in 1951.

THE COLLEGE got its beginning in two buildings—an eight-room house and a horse barn. The art department, unrivaled now among junior colleges, got its start in the barn, shown here. The building was finally razed about a decade ago, and the library annex now stands on the site.

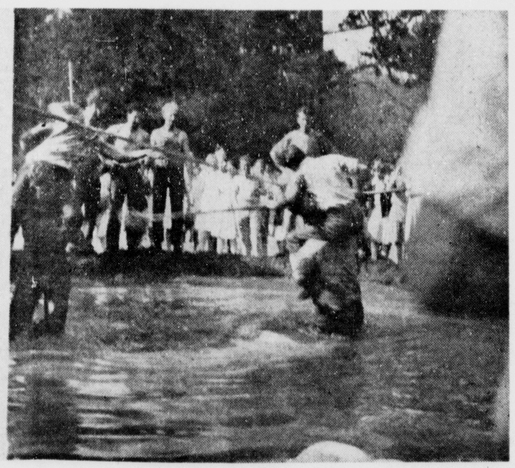

SNOW IS a rarity on the college campus, but here is one such covering. The building is Tamalpais Center where graduation rites were once held, but which was razed three years ago.

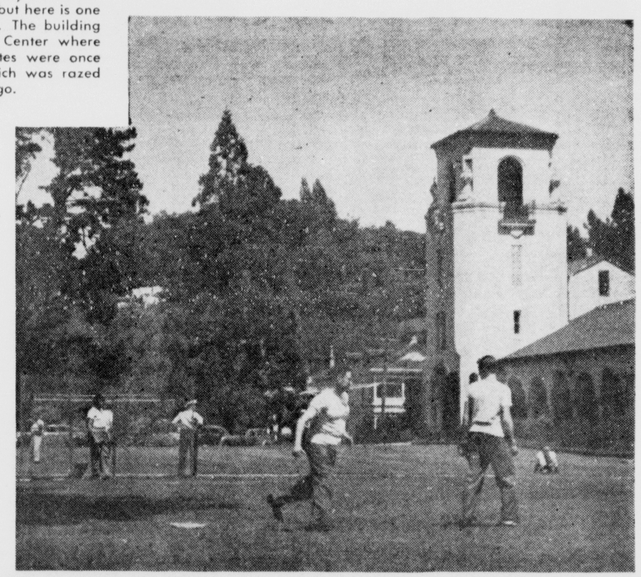

A SYMBOL of the hot rivalry between Santa Rosa Junior College and College of Marin is this victory bell, traditionally turned over to the custody of the victor in the annual football game. Photo was taken after the bell was removed from the Santa Rosa campus one dark night in 1938.

THE HOMECOMING DAY festivities were never complete without the traditional baseball game. The baserunner shown rounding first here and headed for second is Ward H. Austin, the retiring college president.

Arts And Entertainment

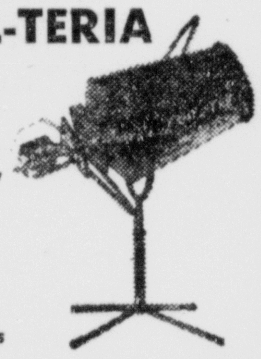

THE ART RENTAL SERVICE of the Marin Society of Artists, now in its sixth year, has grown from a total of 100 paintings loaned in its initial year to a current yearly total of more than 1,000. The work of more than 90 artists is currently on loan from the gallery. Starting with a preview showing tomorrow, 2 to 5 p.m., the society will hold its Annual Spring Art Rental Show at the Frances Young Gallery in the Marin Art and Garden Center at Ross. A large and entirely new selection of work will be shown and juried by a panel of five experts. Both abstract and realistic art will be included. Among the non-objective painters who will be represented, in photo at left, will be, left to right, Doris Morrison of Ross, Leola Dixon Devlin of Mill Valley and Gwen Stone of Larkspur. In photo at right are three of the realistic aritsts — Dorner Schueler of Fairfax, Joelle Allen of Ross and Dr. Grover MacCloud of Oakland. The exhibition will continue through May 30 with the gallery open from 2 to 4 p.m. daily and on Thursday evenings from 7 to 9 o'clock.

BOOK REVIEW

First Contact Book Is Out, And It's A Really Good One

I AM A LOVER by Jerry Stoll and Evan S. Connell Jr., Angel Island Publication Inc., 160 pages, $2.95. Reviewed by Don Keown.

Angel Island Publications Inc. of Sausalito, publishers of Contact magazine, issues here the first book to carry the Contact Editions imprint —and it is a most auspicious beginning.

It's a collection of Jerry Stoll photographs taken in San Francisco's colorful North Beach-Telegraph Hill area, with an introduction written by and commentary selected by Evan S. Connell Jr.

The pair has succeeded in capturing the rare flavor of one of this country's most fascinating, most truly cosmopolitan neighborhoods.

The cute Chinese children, the beatniks, the musicians, the artists, the Italians, the Negroes, the tourists, the shopkeepers, the eccentrics, the teen-agers, the school kids—they are all there. So are the buildings, the streets, the churches, the parks, the stores, the coffee houses.

To turn through its pages is like a day-long stroll through North Beach — and even better. For Stoll has a better understanding of, a deeper feeling for, a keener knowledge of Bohemia than most of us. And it shows in the depth and compassion of his photography.

The title, incidentally, is taken from Sherwood Anderson's "Winesburg, Ohio." The quotation: "I am a lover and have not found my thing to love."

Stoll's sensitive pictures, however, contradict the quote. He is, indeed, a lover—a lover of the people and the scenes he photographs. And he and his camera have found "my thing to love."

Every other lover of San Francisco and particularly of its fascinating Latin Quarter will savor this book.

Donner Party Story Told By Marin Man

By DON KEOWN

Joseph Pigney was a history major at the University of Oregon. But upon graduation, he entered journalism. And in that field he has remained, having spent the past 24 years with Associated Press.

But he has never lost his interest in history. And western history has held a special fascination for him.

The result: A book entitled "For Fear We Shall Perish," published this week by E. P. Dutton and Co.

It is a brilliantly researched and written account of one of California's most horrifying and yet exciting pieces of history — the Donner party disaster of 1846-47.

IT IS NOT the first account of that great tragedy to be written. But it is the most objective, the most detailed and the best written we have read. The form is that of a novel, but it is definitely not fiction.

Joseph Pigney was English born, but came as a child of 3 to the United States with his parents. The family settled in the Portland, Ore., area, and it was there that Pigney grew up. Following his graduation from college, he worked for a time for various Oregon newspapers. His first six years with Associated Press were in Portland. For the past 18 years he has been with A.P. at San Francisco, and for the last 10 of those years he has resided in Mill Valley.

Married, he has a daughter, Jane, who is a Tamalpais High School graduate now attending the University of California.

IT WAS IN 1956 that Pigney became interested in the story of the Donner Party. That interest grew, and flowered into extensive research. A manuscript, written over a period of a year and half, followed. Then another six months of revision. And finally publication.

Pigney says that from the outset his interest in the Donner Party was centered upon the controversial Johann Ludwig Christian Keseberg, who survived the horrors of the winter he spent trapped in the High Sierra only to be pilloried and despised for the remainder of his days as "the maneater."

There have been two schools of thought on Keseberg's role in the Donner Pass horrors. One has held him to be the monster and cannibal that his enemies painted him to be immediately after the episode. Another has pictured him as the tragic victim of persecution and misunderstanding.

Pigney sides with this second school of thought. And by the time you have finished his book, you harbor no doubts but what he is right.

There is no question that Keseberg, in order to sustain his life, after all other sources of food had been exhausted, ate the flesh of the weaker members of the trapped wagon train who had succumbed to the rigors of the brutal winter. But is made plain by Pigney that Keseberg was not the first and far from the only member of the Donner Party to resort to this last horrible means of staving off starvation.

Furthermore Pigney is convinced that Keseberg told the truth when he denied the charge that he killed others in order to eat their bodies. Indeed, Pigney shows that in all probability only one of the Donner Party murdered in order to eat. And it is one of the ironies of history that the man was forgiven his crime and lived out his days in peace while the hapless Keseberg was tortured without mercy.

JOSEPH PIGNEY, author of the new book, "For Fear We Shall Perish," is a resident of Mill Valley, and an employee in the Associated Press bureau in San Francisco.

INDEED, THE persecution extended to members of his family and contributed to further tragedies. Two of the Keseberg daughters, incidentally, resided for a time in San Rafael.

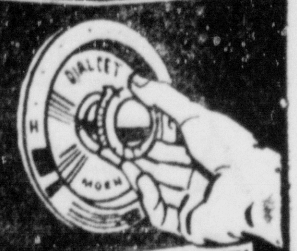

There is much more in Pigney's book, however, that the chronicling of the sad fate of the Keseberg family. Other members of the fateful pioneer party are not neglected.

It is a story of human stupidity, selfishness, brutality and prejudice. It is also a story of courage and sacrifice.

It becomes apparent that the Donner Party consisted of the usual mixture of human frailties and strengths. But the ordinary human is poorly equipped to grapple with misfortunes as terrible as those encountered by these travelers.

THE ART RENTAL SERVICE of the Marin Society of Artists, now in its sixth year, has grown from a total of 100 paintings loaned in its initial year to a current yearly total of more than 1,000. The work of more than 90 artists is currently on loan from the gallery. Starting with a preview showing tomorrow, 2 to 5 p.m., the society will hold its Annual Spring Art Rental Show at the Frances Young Gallery in the Marin Art and Garden Center at Ross. A large and entirely new selection of work will be shown and juried by a panel of five experts. Both abstract and realistic art will be included. Among the non-objective painters who will be represented, in photo at left, will be, left to right, Doris Morrison of Ross, Leola Dixon Devlin of Mill Valley and Gwen Stone of Larkspur. In photo at right are three of the realistic aritsts — Dorner Schueler of Fairfax, Joelle Allen of Ross and Dr. Grover MacCloud of Oakland. The exhibition will continue through May 30 with the gallery open from 2 to 4 p.m. daily and on Thursday evenings from 7 to 9 o'clock.

The Arts Join In A Festival

College Open House Will Feature All The Various Forms

The common spirit which runs through all of the creative arts is too seldom appreciated. Perhaps this is because individual arts themselves are not brought together often enough.

Art, music, and drama lovers will be treated to an integration of the art forms next week when the College of Marin's division of fine arts presents its annual spring open house on the Kentfield campus.

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, over 400 day and adult students will combine their efforts in the largest and most diverse creative arts presentation ever assembled at the Marin college.

THE FINE ARTS division has thrown open its doors to the public each spring since 1949. Up until this time, however, the open house has not included drama and music.

Edwin A. Cadogan, an energetic and engaging Irishman with twinkling blue eyes to match, is chairman of the college's division of fine arts, a nationally-known ceramicist, and the man behind this ambitious experiment.

"We want the people of Marin to know about the fine work all of our students, young and old, are doing in each of the creative arts," says Cadogan.

While he has been involved in the open house offerings for the past 11 years, he approaches each year with the same fresh, first-time enthusiasm.

"One thing that always gives me a kick," he added, "is the tremendous age range we've got. You'll be as likely to find mothers, uncles, and grandfathers working with us as you will sons and daughters."

DECEIVINGLY casual about his achievements, Cadogan is a master ceramicist and painter whose works have been exhibited in Europe and in the major cities of the United States.

"I think our experiment will make for a more interesting and more exciting show. The students have picked up a new spirit from this blending of our three departments," Cadogan concluded.

Any time between 6 and 11 o'clock on the three evenings, you might find yourself browsing through the 10 spacious classrooms of the three-story art building.

Students will be working when you arrive. You may want to linger over the weaving loom . . . ask questions. Perhaps a painting is taking shape and you're anxious to learn something of how it is constructed. The students will be happy to explain.

Have you ever seen a potter take a lump of clay and make it into a vase in seconds? If not, you're in for a delightful surprise.

ON FRIDAY, the a capella choir will combine with the speech and drama department in concert. Music director John H. Myers and the choir will present a program of seven selections, including works by composers Handel, Brahms, and Schumann. The choir is as old as the school.

An unusual and seldom heard oral interpretive work, "The Creation," by James Weldon Johnson, will be directed by Irene Clark, speech and drama department head.

The festival's third concert on Saturday will present the college community chorus and orchestra in Schubert's rich and beautiful "Mass in G" and Haydn's "Symphony No. 104". Again directed by Myers, both groups are composed mostly of adults.

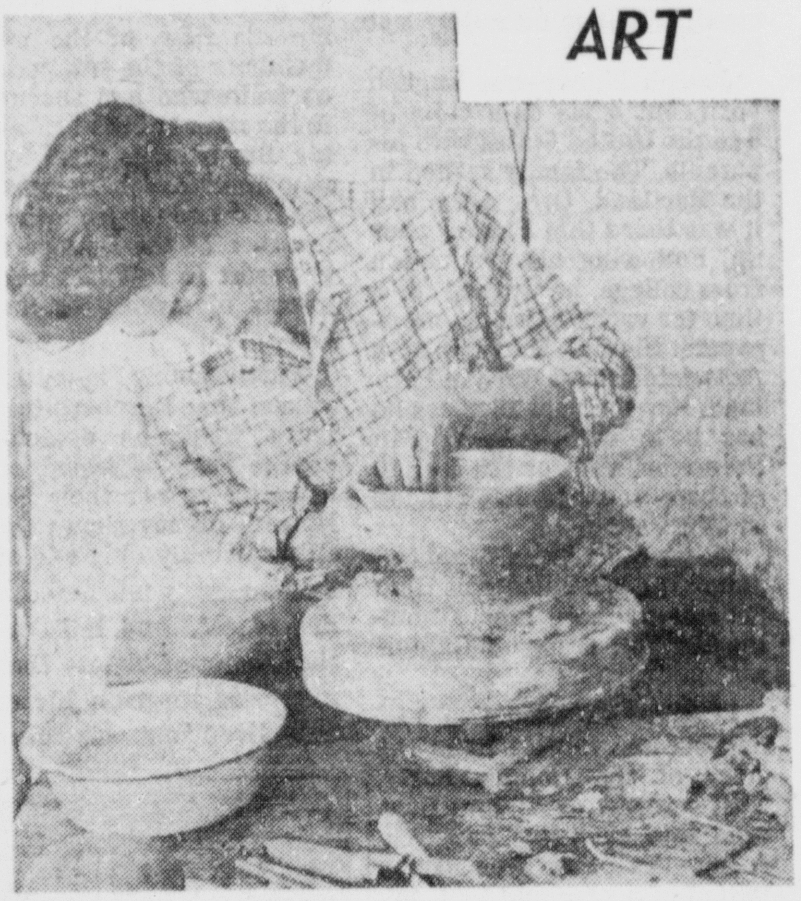

Throughout the festival, you can expect to see an exceptionally high caliber of creation. You shouldn't be surprised. Under the capable hands of Cadogan and 16 instructors, College of Marin's art division has been used as a model for many of California's 68 junior colleges.

MUSIC

A CHECKLIST FOR GARDENERS OF MARIN

- Divide tall bearded iris after it goes out of bloom—but only if clumps are crowded. Every third year is about average for dividing them.
- Plant dahlias again this month for a late show of this favorite flower.
- Set lawn mower blades to cut grass longer than during the cooler months. About one and one-half to two inches is right for the warmer summer months.
- Hanging baskets should be brought down occasionally for a good soaking. Immerse the whole container in water and let it drink deeply.

The Arts Join In A Festival

College Open House Will Feature All The Various Forms

The common spirit which runs through all of the creative arts is too seldom appreciated. Perhaps this is because individual arts themselves are not brought together often enough.

Art, music, and drama lovers will be treated to an integration of the art forms next week when the College of Marin's division of fine arts presents its annual spring open house on the Kentfield campus.

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, over 400 day and adult students will combine their efforts in the largest and most diverse creative arts presentation ever assembled at the Marin college.

THE FINE ARTS division has thrown open its doors to the public each spring since 1949. Up until this time, however, the open house has not included drama and music.

Edwin A. Cadogan, an energetic and engaging Irishman with twinkling blue eyes to match, is chairman of the college's division of fine arts, a nationally-known ceramicist, and the man behind this ambitious experiment.

"We want the people of Marin to know about the fine work all of our students, young and old, are doing in each of the creative arts," says Cadogan.

While he has been involved in the open house offerings for the past 11 years, he approaches each year with the same fresh, first-time enthusiasm.

"One thing that always gives me a kick," he added, "is the tremendous age range we've got. You'll be as likely to find mothers, uncles, and grandfathers working with us as you will sons and daughters."

DECEIVINGLY casual about his achievements, Cadogan is a master ceramicist and painter whose works have been exhibited in Europe and in the major cities of the United States.

"I think our experiment will make for a more interesting and more exciting show. The students have picked up a new spirit from this blending of our three departments," Cadogan concluded.

Any time between 6 and 11 o'clock on the three evenings, you might find yourself browsing through the 10 spacious classrooms of the three-story art building.

Students will be working when you arrive. You may want to linger over the weaving loom . . . ask questions. Perhaps a painting is taking shape and you're anxious to learn something of how it is constructed. The students will be happy to explain.

Have you ever seen a potter take a lump of clay and make it into a vase in seconds? If not, you're in for a delightful surprise.

ON FRIDAY, the a capella choir will combine with the speech and drama department in concert. Music director John H. Myers and the choir will present a program of seven selections, including works by composers Handel, Brahms, and Schumann. The choir is as old as the school.

An unusual and seldom heard oral interpretive work, "The Creation," by James Weldon Johnson, will be directed by Irene Clark, speech and drama department head.

The festival's third concert on Saturday will present the college community chorus and orchestra in Schubert's rich and beautiful "Mass in G" and Haydn's "Symphony No. 104". Again directed by Myers, both groups are composed mostly of adults.

Throughout the festival, you can expect to see an exceptionally high caliber of creation. You shouldn't be surprised. Under the capable hands of Cadogan and 16 instructors, College of Marin's art division has been used as a model for many of California's 68 junior colleges.

MUSIC

Jimmy Hoffa And Chamber Chief To Debate On Power Of Unions

VIEWERS WHO have watched Teamster Union chief James R. (Jimmy) Hoffa in verbal give and take with Congressional committees know that he is well equipped to take care of himself in any battle of words. Tonight he'll be pitted against a worthy antagonist, U. S. Chamber of Commerce president Arthur H. (Red) Motley, in a "Nation's Future" debate on the question, "Are Labor Unions Too Powerful?"

KRON will carry it at 9:30, and you shouldn't have any trouble guessing which position will be maintained by which debater.

Hoffa plunged into the labor movement at the age of 17 when he led his first strike—a successful one on behalf of a group of warehouse workers. Today at 44, he is general president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters with more than 1,700,000 members in nearly a thousand locals. He can be a tough, articulate, vigorous spokesman for organized labor, although, very probably, he is not the fellow whom most American labor leaders would choose as their representative on such a debate.

Motley is president and publisher of Parade Publications, Inc. Its Parade magazine is distributed through Sunday newspapers in 65 cities to 9,541,687 subscribers. He has been a U. S. chamber director since 1952, became vice president and was advanced to the presidency last year.

THE ABSTRACT vs. representative art argument is an old one. And it will boil up again on the "Herb Caen Show" tomorrow at 2 p.m. on KGO.

Host Caen has invited a panel of artists from both schools to debate the respective merits of their approaches to painting.

Spokesmen for the impressionists will be Hassel Smith and Ralph Du Casse. Speaking for the non-abstract school will be George Post and Maria Von Ridelstein.

Gurdon Woods, director of the San Francisco Art Institute, will join Caen and cohost William Winter as the men in between.

You can bet that the impressionists are going to get a little hot under the paint pot when the aesthetic values of their paintings are attacked. And you can be equally sure the representative artists are going to become just as riled when they are—as they surely will be—handed the old dig that their paintings offer nothing that the camera couldn't do better.

KPIX will carry on its "Consider and Decide" show at 2 o'clock a discussion of the national seashore proposal entitled "Politics and Pt. Reyes."

Douglas Hertz, president of the Bolema Club, a sportsmen's group which owns 650 acres of Point Reyes, will speak in opposition to the park proposal. George Collins, conservationist and retired regional planning director for the national park system, will be on the other side of the fence.

Jere Witter, a Marinite, and the KPIX public affairs director, is the show's moderator.

SINCE THE AGE of 16, Edward Steichen has been associated with cameras. Now at 82, he is the much respected and admired dean of American photographers.

Part of the show was filmed at Steichen's beautifully landscaped 400-acre country place at Ridgefield, Conn. There he will discuss his philosophy of the visual arts, and tell something of his 66 years of experience with photography.

The second half of the program was recorded at the Museum of Modern Art in New York City, where an exhibit of Steichen's work is currently under way. There you will be shown some of his most famous work — camera portraits of such notables as his brother-in-law Carl Sandberg, Greta Garbo, Charlie Chaplin, H. L. Mencken, and J. P. Morgan, and non-portrait photos such as his famous view of George Washington Bridge, his World War II pictures, and his photographs of flowers.

"Accent" and "Camera Three," another KPIX Sunday morning show, are two stimulating series which, we fear, fail to get anything like the viewing audience they deserve, due to their unfortunate time scheduling.

GOLF BUFFS can watch the experts drive and putt when KRON carries the final round of the ninth annual Tournament of Champions links classic from Las Vegas tomorrow starting at 2 p.m.

The game's hottest twosome, Gary Player and Arnold Palmer, are included in the 26-man field, reserved for champions only. And more than $40,000 is at stake in the meet being played at the Desert Inn Country Club.

Versatile Lindsey Nelson will be joined by Jim Simpson in providing the commentary as NBC cameras focus on the final three holes.

It's the sixth straight year the Las Vegas tournament has been televised. And this year NBC has upped its artillery to six cameras.

Jimmy Hoffa And Chamber Chief To Debate On Power Of Unions

VIEWERS WHO have watched Teamster Union chief James R. (Jimmy) Hoffa in verbal give and take with Congressional committees know that he is well equipped to take care of himself in any battle of words. Tonight he'll be pitted against a worthy antagonist, U. S. Chamber of Commerce president Arthur H. (Red) Motley, in a "Nation's Future" debate on the question, "Are Labor Unions Too Powerful?"

KRON will carry it at 9:30, and you shouldn't have any trouble guessing which position will be maintained by which debater.

Hoffa plunged into the labor movement at the age of 17 when he led his first strike—a successful one on behalf of a group of warehouse workers. Today at 44, he is general president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters with more than 1,700,000 members in nearly a thousand locals. He can be a tough, articulate, vigorous spokesman for organized labor, although, very probably, he is not the fellow whom most American labor leaders would choose as their representative on such a debate.

Motley is president and publisher of Parade Publications, Inc. Its Parade magazine is distributed through Sunday newspapers in 65 cities to 9,541,687 subscribers. He has been a U. S. chamber director since 1952, became vice president and was advanced to the presidency last year.

THE ABSTRACT vs. representative art argument is an old one. And it will boil up again on the "Herb Caen Show" tomorrow at 2 p.m. on KGO.

Host Caen has invited a panel of artists from both schools to debate the respective merits of their approaches to painting.

Spokesmen for the impressionists will be Hassel Smith and Ralph Du Casse. Speaking for the non-abstract school will be George Post and Maria Von Ridelstein.

Gurdon Woods, director of the San Francisco Art Institute, will join Caen and co-host William Winter as the men in between.

Both sides have been invited to bring along some examples of their work.

You can bet that the impressionists are going to get a little hot under the paint pot when the aesthetic values of their paintings are attacked. And you can be equally sure the representative artists are going to become just as riled when they are—as they surely will be—handed the old dig that their paintings offer nothing that the camera couldn't do better.

From there you can expect the verbal hostilities to grow warmer and warmer.

KPIX will carry on its "Consider and Decide" show at 2 o'clock a discussion of the national seashore proposal entitled "Politics and Pt. Reyes."

Douglas Hertz, president of the Bolema Club, a sportsmen's group which owns 650 acres of Point Reyes, will speak in opposition to the park proposal. George Collins, conservationist and retired regional planning director for the national park system, will be on the other side of the fence.

Jere Witter, a Marinite, and the KPIX public affairs director, is the show's moderator.

SINCE THE AGE of 16, Edward Steichen has been associated with cameras. Now at 82, he is the much respected and admired dean of American photographers.

Part of the show was filmed at Steichen's beautifully landscaped 400-acre country place at Ridgefield, Conn. There he will discuss his philosophy of the visual arts, and tell something of his 66 years of experience with photography.

The second half of the program was recorded at the Museum of Modern Art in New York City, where an exhibit of Steichen's work is currently under way. There you will be shown some of his most famous work — camera portraits of such notables as his brother-in-law Carl Sandberg, Greta Garbo, Charlie Chaplin, H. L. Mencken, and J. P. Morgan, and non-portrait photos such as his famous view of George Washington Bridge, his World War II pictures, and his photographs of flowers.

"Accent" and "Camera Three," another KPIX Sunday morning show, are two stimulating series which, we fear, fail to get anything like the viewing audience they deserve, due to their unfortunate time scheduling.

GOLF BUFFS can watch the experts drive and putt when KRON carries the final round of the ninth annual Tournament of Champions links classic from Las Vegas tomorrow starting at 2 p.m.

The game's hottest twosome, Gary Player and Arnold Palmer, are included in the 26-man field, reserved for champions only. And more than $40,000 is at stake in the meet being played at the Desert Inn Country Club.

Versatile Lindsey Nelson will be joined by Jim Simpson in providing the commentary as NBC cameras focus on the final three holes.

It's the sixth straight year the Las Vegas tournament has been televised. And this year NBC has upped its artillery to six cameras.

It's the Right Approach that Really Counts...

May we invite you to attend our drapery and carpet theater... where new things happen daily. Here are perfect viewing conditions for inspection of color, pattern and textures. Allow one of our designers the opportunity to explain what our workrooms can do to make your home the finest place to live. While you are in our store don't miss the huge collection of imported and domestic decorator objects, lamps, giftware, wood tones, etc. An excellent place to find a Mother's Day Gift... only one more week to select.

Every woman has her own way of obtaining the things she wants most. When comfort and well being are concerned her husband will be the first to agree that a beautifully furnished home that the whole family will enjoy should be their first consideration.

Delightful, livable homes do not just happen ... it takes careful planning, the proper choice of styles, woods, fabrics and colors to create an atmosphere of elegance and gracious living. Our experienced personnel will gladly assist you in helping to solve any home-furnishing problems you may have. Drop in tomorrow for a leisurely visit ... we are sure you will find it a most rewarding experience.
